intention that people should use a square for the purpose of playing such a rough game as football or cricket. Squares are intended for the purpose of recreation and usually for every quiet people to congregate in and walk about, and not for the playing of games of this description. And then the object contemplated by the amendment, namely, 'the acquisition of open spaces and the promotion of physical education,' cannot be split up into two parts. What is meant is that open spaces might be kept for the promotion of physical education. The argument that the amendment might be split up into two parts and that those parts are provided for by individual clauses of section 69 is not in my opinion a correct view of the matter. We must therefore face the amendment as it stands, namely, to make provision for the acquisition of open pieces of land for the purposes of exercise and the promotion of physical education. A great many objects are covered by section 69, and I can see no possible objection to municipal funds being spent also in the way contemplated by the amendment, to the great advantage of people living in the municipality. In countries like France and Belgium municipalities provide for gardens and bands and all sorts of amusements for the people, and in this country are we not to spend money in providing open spaces for the promotion of physical health when we find that native boys are now taking a liking to manly sports and pastimes. The only reason that can possibly be urged against this amendment is that matters of this description do not come within the scope of the objects upon which municipal funds should be spent. I am plainly of opinion that they do. I think when you are providing for veterinary establishments for the benefit of the people so as to have their cattle looked after, I do not see why you cannot provide for the physical education of the people if you wish them to grow up a manly race, able to undergo fatigue and labour. I cannot conceive a higher object towards the accomplishment of which Municipal funds may be devoted. I have not heard a single word against the object of this amendment being a useful and most laudable one. The Hon'ble Maulvi Muhammad Yusuf Khan Bahadur expressly said that it is a most laudable object, and yet, bearing that in mind, he takes a very narrow view, and contends that this amendment should not be allowed. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill suggested that we should look to the liberality of private individuals for such things. Suppose you do, there will be no means for keeping up the liberal gift. If you obtain a boon from a charitably disposed person, you cannot spend even a few rupees to keep it up. Hon'ble Members have heard from the Hon'ble Rai Eshar Chundra Mitra Bahadur that lands outside Calcutta are not so valuable that Municipalities will not be able to acquire a few acres. Therefore under all these circumstances, as far as I can judge, I think the Council should consider well before they disallow this amendment. As far as I am concerned, if the amendment is put to the vote, I shall vote in favor of it."

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY said — "In view of the law as expounded by the Hon'ble the President, I will accept the Motion, provided it is passed as an additional clause (xiii), falling within the purview of the proviso to section 69."

The Motion was put and agreed to, on the understanding that the new clause should be numbered (viii), the remaining clauses of the section being altered accordingly, and that the new clause should be mentioned in the proviso to the new section 69(1).

The Hon'ble MR A M BOSE applied to the Council to withdraw the Motion of which he had given notice that in section 6, in the proviso to the new section 69 (1), for the words after "both inclusive" to the end of the proviso, the following be substituted —

'unless such application be sanctioned by the consent of two thirds of the Commissioners present at a meeting specially convened for considering such application, or held after special notice has been given that such application will be considered at such meeting'

He said — I am glad to find that the legal difficulty to which I had the honour of drawing the attention of the Council at its last sitting has been fully recognized and in order to obviate the inconsistency in certain cases, which I pointed out, between the proviso as drafted by the Select Committee and the provisions of section 70 of the Act, an amendment is to be moved by my hon'ble friend, Babu Surendranath Banerjee, which will no doubt be accepted by the Hon'ble Mr. Risley. There is one other remark I wish to make with regard to my amendment, and it is this. The position of affairs in respect of it at the present moment is materially different from what it was when I gave notice of it. At that time the proposed proviso related practically only to veterinary matters. But since then, on the motion of my hon'ble friend, Rai Eshan Chundia Mittra, Bahadur and on my own motion, which the Council has been good enough just now to accept, such matters as libraries and the acquisition of open spaces have been brought within the scope of the proviso. Under these circumstances I do not think the proviso need be made stricter than it is at present in the Bill. I would therefore ask leave to withdraw my amendment."

The Motion was, by leave, withdrawn

The Hon'ble BABU GURU PROSHAD SEN moved that in section 6, in the proviso to the new section 69 (1), the words "two thirds" be substituted for "majority", and also that in the same proviso the words 'at a special meeting to be convened for the purpose' be substituted for the words "at the meeting"

He said — "This simply comes to the same thing as the amendment which has just been withdrawn, only that in the place of 'majority' I would have 'two thirds present at a special meeting.' I think the necessity for fettering the discretion given to the Municipal Commissioners has been admitted by this Council, by providing that certain expenditure shall not be made 'unless a majority of the Commissioners present at the meeting are satisfied that the other purposes, specified or referred to in this sub section, or such of them as the majority consider it necessary to carry out, have been sufficiently provided for.' But the question is whether by this provision that discretion has been sufficiently fettered. If you give the Commissioners the fullest discretion, I would not object, but when notwithstanding all the fine talk we have heard regarding the expenditure under certain heads being left to the discretion of the Municipal Commissioners, we have by the Select Committee's Bill provided for fetters to that discretion, and when once you recognise the necessity of fettering their discretion just as by the provision which I have read, instead of a majority of one I would make it a majority of two thirds, and instead of a vote being taken at an ordinary meeting, I would have a special meeting. Some of the money might have to be spent outside the municipality. A legal objection was taken by my hon'ble friend Mr. Bose that in order to do that you require under section 70 a majority of two thirds and the sanction of the Local Government. I think these are very necessary conditions, and that they are more necessary when you examine the state of the funds of municipal municipalities. I have just stated that the utmost resources of 146 municipalities amount to Rs 21,84,000, which gives an average of about Rs 15,000 for each municipality. The expenditure under necessary heads, excluding education, absorbs almost the whole of this income, except about Rs 10,000 or Rs 12,000, not only to provide for education, but several other purposes. It is therefore absolutely necessary that the discretion of the Commissioners be used wisely. If the discretion is exercised wisely, probably all these clauses will be inoperative. But if the discretion is likely to be abused, it ought to be fettered more stringently than is provided for in the Bill. I submit therefore that to guard against abuse instead of measures of this kind being carried by a bare majority, there should be at least a majority of two thirds of the members present at the meeting, and that that meeting ought to be a special meeting, so that the attention of the Commissioners may be specially drawn to the subject. Another reason for the necessity of fettering the discretion of the Commissioners in the way I propose is to be found in an amendment to be moved by my hon'ble friend Babu Surendranath Banerjee, under which the further restriction provided by section 70 is proposed to be removed in respect of expenditure incurred outside the municipality for certain objects. [The Hon'ble THE President — "It is irregular to refer to a notice of motion which is not now before the Council"] Then I shall confine myself to my own motion, in connection with which I think the conditions imposed by section 70 ought to apply"

The Hon'ble Mr RISLEY said —"I have only to say that I hope the Council will reject the amendments which have now been moved, and will accept the amendment which will be moved by the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, and which covers the ground better"

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said —"Let us for a moment leave out the amendment of which I have given notice and consider the amendment to the proviso of section 69 which my hon'ble friend has moved. He says the majority under the proviso should be a majority of two thirds, and that that should be the majority of the Commissioners voting at the meeting in respect of expenditure, some of which may be incurred outside the limits of the municipalities concerned. But section 70 of the Act provides that when municipal expenditure is to be incurred outside the limits of a municipality, not a majority of two thirds of the Commissioners attending the meeting but two thirds of the whole number of Commissioners must make a statement in writing in support of the proposal, and the recommendation must receive the sanction of the Local Government, and only under these conditions can any expenditure be legally incurred outside any municipality. A part of the expenditure which may be incurred under section 69 may be outside the municipality, therefore under the amendment of my hon'ble friend, the Commissioners will labour under a legal difficulty which the amendment which I propose to move later on will remove. But over and above this legal objection I have another objection based on practical considerations. Does my hon'ble friend really believe in his heart of hearts that if a majority of two thirds is imposed this section will be at all operative? Moreover, the amendment will re-open matters which have already been discussed and decided. If my friend's amendment be accepted, the veterinary clauses will be rendered inoperative. I have not the slightest objection to introduce the necessary safeguards, but we should not fetter the discretion of the Commissioners so as to render it impossible for them to devote municipal funds to these purposes"

The Hon'ble MAULVI MUHAMMAD YUSUF KHAN BAHADUR said —"I think this amendment should not be accepted. The obvious tendency of the amendment is to render those clauses of the section to which the proviso relates, more difficult of operation, if not absolutely impossible and nugatory. Several amendments have been accepted by the Council, on the ground of their importance, although their importance, being only secondary in degree, as compared with other objects, they have been thrown into the proviso but it is quite clear that the proviso should not be so clogged and hampered by the introduction of conditions, as to render the clauses a dead letter. The proviso should not, therefore, be made more stringent than it is"

The Hon'ble RAI ESHAN CHUNDRA MITTRA BAHADUR said —"I wish to oppose the amendment which has been moved by my hon'ble friend Babu Guru Proshad Sen. It appears to me that, if we require the votes of a majority of two thirds of the Commissioners at a meeting, it will render these provisions absolutely inoperative. I have some experience in the working of Municipalities, and I know that, in the first place, it is difficult to get a very large number of the Commissioners to attend. We have had bitter experience of the way in which things are managed, when some particular questions are to be brought up, some will not attend, and others have an undignified way of reserving their votes. It will always be within the power of particular Commissioners, who wish to be obstructive, simply to say—we will not attend and we will not vote, I submit, therefore, that this amendment should not be passed. If the sense of the Council be that these matters should be considered at a special meeting in order that the Commissioners may receive special notice of the importance of the subject, I have no objection, but the votes of a majority of two thirds should not be required."

The Hon'ble BABU GURU PROSHAD SEN in reply said—"This amendment consists of two parts, one of which has reference to a majority of two thirds, and the other, to the convening of a special meeting for the consideration of these matters. My hon'ble friend who spoke last agrees that special notice should be given of these meetings, but with respect to the question of majority, both he and my hon'ble friend Babu Surendranath Banerjee seem to think that, if a majority of two thirds is required, these provisions will be wholly inoperative, and that section 70 insists on an impossibility. That section 70 of the Municipal Act is the work of that Select Committee of all the talents, for which we have the greatest amount of admiration here [The Hon'ble MR RISINGER—"Not at all, it was in the original Bill of 1884"] Well, then, it was one of the sections, the impossibility of which they did not see. Then my hon'ble friend Babu Surendranath Banerjee sees a motive. He seems to think that I have moved this amendment in order to prevent the veterinary clauses from being operative. [The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT—"No the Hon'ble Member said the effect of the amendment would be to render those clauses inoperative"] Well, I shall say then that the effect of passing these amendments according to the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee would be the amendment regarding the veterinary clauses having been lost. If the present amendment were to be passed, the application of Municipal funds to veterinary purposes would be rendered impossible, and thus the veterinary clauses would be inoperative. I did not know that he was so fond of these veterinary clauses, but I shall tell him once more what I have told before, that it is not the fetter which I seek to impose, but the scanty nature of the Municipal revenues, which will render the application of any money out of that fund to these purposes impossible. The total amount of Municipal revenue proper is Rs 21,84,000 for 146 Municipalities, and the expenditure under those heads to which there is no option left, is Rs 21,72,000, excluding public instruction (I like to be corrected if I am wrong), therefore there will be no money to spend, and the clauses, if the discretion, which we now leave to the Municipal Commissioners, is not to be abused, but rightly used, are bound to be inoperative, and they will remain as dead letters in our law, and all the time the Council has spent in providing for a class of expenditure which cannot be met from the scanty revenues of Municipalities has been spent in vain. It is all very good to hear of Municipal Commissioners being vested with discretion, but at the same time you do not leave them unfettered. It is true that the effect of my amendment is to make the fetters a little stronger. I say do not allow them the opportunity of abusing their discretion, and therefore I say do not leave the decision to a bare majority of one or two, but to a majority of two thirds. It has been pointed out that, for expenditure outside Municipalities, a majority of two thirds of the whole number of Commissioners, plus the sanction of the Government, is required under section 70. If that suits my hon'ble friends better, I will not have the slightest objection."

The Motions were severally put and lost

The Hon'ble MR A M BOSE moved that in section 6—

- (1) the proposed new section 69F be omitted, and
- (2) for the first paragraph of the proposed new section 69A (1) the following be substituted —

'Subject to such rules as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe, the Commissioners shall cause to be kept, for each hospital and dispensary vested in them, accounts showing—

He said—"Except for one small consideration, which I shall presently notice and for which my amendment provides, I find it difficult to understand why the Select Committee thought it necessary to propose this new section (69B). With regard to the proposed provision empowering the Local Government to make rules prescribing the qualifications of candidates for employment as veterinary practitioners, my first point is that it is wholly unnecessary. If we refer to section 69 as it stands, and as it is proposed to re-enact it, we find the following words 'and may, except as is otherwise provided in this Act and subject to such rules and restrictions as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe, apply the Municipal fund to any of the following purposes,' one of which is the training and employment of female medical practitioners and of veterinary practitioners, &c Therefore the power to make rules prescribing the qualifications needed is there provided for, and the proposed new section 69B is unnecessary. My second point is that it is more than unnecessary, because it presupposes the existence of doubts. [The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT — "It is under my advice that this section has been put in to make matters safer." ] My reason for moving the omission of section 69B is this, that it will by implication throw doubt on the construction of section 69 and on the exercise of powers which are now exercised by the Local Government. Let me give a concrete case. Under the present law the entire section 69 is governed by the clause 'subject to such rules and restrictions as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe.' In the Manual for the management and maintenance of dispensaries, it is stated that it is under this provision that the Local Government makes rules as to the qualifications of the Doctors to be employed, and so forth, and if that provision is sufficient for this purpose, then it is also enough for the purpose of defining the qualifications of veterinary practitioners. It applies as much to clause (iv) regarding the establishment and maintenance of hospitals and dispensaries, as to clause (i) regarding the appointment of qualified persons to prevent and treat diseases of cattle. I therefore, by enacting section 69B, which specially refers to clause (X) of section 69, doubt will be thrown by implication upon the power which the Government at present possess of laying down the qualifications of persons to be appointed as doctors, &c. This provision should therefore, I submit, be either omitted or extended in scope. Then coming to the next part of the new section 69B, 'generally for the guidance of the Commissioners in all matters connected with the carrying out of the purposes of section 69,' that also is, I submit, provided for in the saving and regulating clause of section 69, not simply as a matter of theory, but as a matter of practice, and not the slightest complaint has been made that the Lieutenant Governor is exceeding his powers. Why then still further extend those powers as now proposed? The only reason I can understand for the introduction of section 69B arises from its referring, not only to section 69, but also to section 69A, which provides for the keeping of separate accounts of hospitals and dispensaries vested in the Commissioners. The governing clause of section 69, while it will sufficiently apply to the making of rules for the establishment and maintenance of dispensaries for veterinary matters, will not apply to the hospitals and dispensaries mentioned in section 69A. Therefore in the second part of my amendment I propose to put in the new section 69A the words which now exist in section 69, and thereby extend them to the matters mentioned in section 69A. If I have been able to make myself clear, I submit that there is no necessity for anything like section 69B by way of safeguard, and moreover it may lead to a doubtful interpretation, and to a result just the reverse of that which is wanted. This amendment raises no question of principle, but only refers to the proper way of laying down what we all want to provide."

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY said — "I have only to say that this is what may be called a lawyer's question. It was pressed upon me by the learned Assistant Secretary to the Legislative Department, who is an extremely accomplished and experienced drafter, that something of this kind is necessary to make clear the power which the Government has of making rules, and on this point the learned Advocate General, who is the highest legal advisor of the Government, has concurred with the Assistant Secretary and has taken the same view of the matter."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said — "I think the new section 69B very necessary, and I approve of it. I do not propose to discuss a legal question here."

The Motion was put and lost

The Hon'ble BABU SPRENDRANATH BANERJEE moved that for section 7 of the Bill the following be substituted —

"7 (1) For the words 'the last preceding section' in section 70, the words and figures 'section 69, sub section (1)' shall be substituted

"(2) To the said section 70, the following shall be added, namely —

'Notwithstanding anything in this section the Municipal Fund may be applied, by the vote of the majority referred to in the proviso to section 69, sub section (1), and without the consent and sanction mentioned in this section, to meeting expenses incurred beyond the limits of the Municipality in the training of female medical practitioners, or of veterinary practitioners

He said — "This amendment is divided into two parts section 70 deals with the expenditure of money outside the limits of Municipalities, and in such cases the section requires 'the consent of two thirds of the Commissioners obtained in writing and the sanction of the Local Government to such expenditure' Two sub sections have been added to section 69, which do not in the smallest degree refer to the expenditure of Municipal money outside Municipal limits Sub section (2) of section 69 provides as follows —

'(2) The Municipal Fund shall also be applicable to the payment, at such rates as the Local Government may from time to time direct of travelling expenses incurred by any of the Commissioners in attending meetings convened under the rules made by the Local Government in pursuance of sub section (4) of section I of the Indian Councils Act 1892 for the purpose of recommending a person to be nominated as a member of the Lieutenant Governor's Council

"It is very obvious that the money to be spent under this clause will be spent within the limits of the Municipality, therefore it cannot come within the purview of section 70, which deals with the expenditure of money outside Municipal limits Further, sub section (3) of section 69 is of wider application, and empowers the Commissioner to do all things not inconsistent with the Act which may be necessary to carry out the purposes of the section I have also to point out that the words 'last preceding section' in section 70 may now be held to apply to section 69B, which has nothing to do with the subject matter of section 70 As the Hon'ble Mr Bose observed with great force, the new proviso to section 69 of the Bill is in conflict with the provisions of section 70 of the Act The object of my amendment is to remove this legal defect, while maintaining the necessary safeguards imposed by the proviso But at the same time I think it will occur to most people, that when a Municipality desires to spend a few rupees a month on such paltry objects as the training of female doctors, or the training of veterinary students at Belgatchia, they ought to be allowed to do so without the elaborate formalities provided by section 70, namely, the consent of two thirds of the whole body of Commissioners obtained in writing, such consent being afterwards ratified by the Local Government That seems to me to be a waste of administrative energy Therefore, having regard to the changes which have been introduced in the proviso to section 69, this seems to me to be a necessary amendment For the more important purposes involving expenditure outside the limits of Municipalities, such as the establishment of hospitals, &c, beyond Municipal limits, the elaborate safeguards provided by section 70 will be operative The object of my amendment is to cure a defect in the law, which was referred to by my hon'ble friend Mr Bose, and also to promote the purposes of administrative convenience"

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY said — "I accept this amendment When the question as to the provisions of section 70 was raised in Council the other day, I did not reply to what was then said I was not prepared on the spur of the moment to pronounce on a question, the solution of which is by no means easy We have now what seems to me to be a satisfactory section, but it was not the work of two minutes It seems unnecessary that these small items of scholarships and the like should come within the purview of section 70, which was intended to apply to the cases of large payments made to other Municipalities by way of contributions to important works of drainage and the like in which both the Municipalities are interested"

The Hon'ble Mr A M Bose said —“I rise to make one suggestion, namely, that the words ‘the proviso to’ in the second line of the second part of my hon'ble friend's amendment be omitted, and my reason for doing so is this. In section 69 there are two majorities referred to—one in the opening part of section 69 (1) for the application of Municipal funds to the purposes described, in which the votes of a majority will be necessary, and in addition to that a second majority is required in regard to the clauses specially mentioned in the proviso. If the amendment proposed by my hon'ble friend, Babu Surendranath Banerjee, is accepted as it is now drafted, then the necessity for a two thirds majority and the sanction of the Local Government, which section 70 requires will be obviated only in the case of a division under the proviso. But that will not obviate the necessity for a majority of two thirds under section 70 in regard to the second or other division which will be required for the grant of any help in training female and veterinary practitioners. The amendment only refers to the majority mentioned in the proviso. It does not refer to the majority which is necessary under section 69 itself. The acceptance of my suggestion will, on the other hand, meet the whole difficulty.”

The Hon'ble Mr RISLEY said —“I would advise the Council to accept the amendment of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, and leave the difficulties referred to by the Hon'ble Mr Bose to be considered before the Bill is finally passed.”

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble Mr A M Bose moved that, in sub section (1) of section 8 of the Bill, for the words and figures “in section 142” be substituted the words and figures “in section 131 and section 142.”

He said —“The expression ‘habitually used’ is a very vague expression. It has formed the subject matter of a reference to the High Court, where the interpretation has been not only narrowed, but left about as uncertain as before. The Select Committee propose to remove that uncertainty in regard to section 142. But the substantive portion of section 142 of the Municipal Act has been copied from section 131, with this difference that section 142 applies to taxation in the case of carts, and section 131 relates to the imposition of a tax upon the use of carriages and horses which are kept or ‘habitually used’ within the Municipality. The one is as vague as the other, and therefore to avoid a further reference to the High Court, I have brought forward this amendment.”

The Hon'ble Mr RISLEY said —“I accept this amendment. A reference to the judgment of the High Court supports the Select Committee in the interpretation they have put upon the word ‘habitually.’ The High Court decided in the case which was referred to them, that a cart cannot be said to be habitually used, unless it is used in pursuance of the owner's occupation.”

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble Mr A M Bose also moved that the following words be added at the end of sub section (1) of section 8 —

“and after the words ‘or habitually used within, in those sections, the words ‘the Municipality’ shall be added.”

He said —“I have often considered the wording of this section and have been puzzled. It is a mere question of drafting. Section 142 provides that ‘the Commissioners at a meeting may make and publish an order that every cart which is kept or habitually used within, or which is let for hire within or without the Municipality and habitually used within it, shall be registered, &c.’ My difficulty comes in after the word ‘within.’ What is it that ‘within’ governs? Does it govern the word ‘Municipality’ in the next clause? If so, it means ‘which is kept or habitually used within the Municipality and habitually used within it.’ That would bear no meaning. Putting in the word I suggest after 'within' would remove the difficulty I therefore propose this amendment "

The Hon'ble Mr RISLEY said —" I have not the slightest objection to this amendment, but I am not prepared to say that it is necessary I am told that the section as it stands is good legal grammar "

The Motion was, by leave of the Council, withdrawn

The Hon'ble Mr A M BOSE also moved, that after sub section (2) of section 8, the following be inserted—

' (3) To section 147A the following shall be added, namely —

' When carts not kept within any Municipality or Cantonment are so used in more than one of them, on the application of any one of such Municipalities or Cantonments, the Local Government may apportion the amount of registration fee between them ' "

He said —" Section 147A contains a very salutary provision which protects carters from having to pay fees to more than one Municipality My amendment does not affect the carters at all They are not to be required to pay more than one tax, but it is a question which relates to the different Municipalities, the roads of which are used by these carts, it is extremely desirable that the difficulty which is now experienced between these Municipalities in regard to the collection of the cart registration fee should be removed One concrete case will perhaps illustrate the necessity for my amendment, better than any amount of abstract exposition as to the difficulty which the amendment is intended to remove There are two Municipalities, the circumstances of both of which I happen to know I shall call them A and B A large number of carts which are kept in rural areas pass through Municipality A, using a short extent of its road, they do not stop there or transact any business there Then they enter Municipality B, passing through several miles of its roads Some of them come on to Calcutta, but a great many of them stop at B and transact business there There are two Railway Stations in B, and a large jute business is also transacted there But it so happens that the carts having to enter A in the first instance, the tax is realized there and B gets no portion of it That does not seem to be fair or just But that is not all, for this state of things sometimes leads to Municipal demoralisation, before the date of cart registration comes on, there is a regular system of coaxing going on, and even worse than that—it may lead to what may be called a war of tariffs between different Municipalities The rates for cart registration are not subject to the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, but are entirely within the discretion of Municipalities, and there will be a temptation or competition amongst neighbouring Municipalities to fix the rates, irrespective of the merits of the case, so as to induce as many carts as possible to be registered within their limits Therefore I submit there should be a power vested in the Local Government, if it thinks fit, on the application of any Municipality, to apportion the proceeds of the taxation upon carts between the several Municipalities entitled to them In section 96 of the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act there is such a provision It is there provided that the net proceeds of the tax shall be divided between the Municipalities of Calcutta and Howrah, and such other Municipalities adjacent to Calcutta or Howrah as the Local Government shall declare to be entitled to a share in the receipts Therefore what I propose is not a novel procedure In the Calcutta Act the Local Government shall apportion My proposal does not go so far All I ask is that the Local Government may, if it think it necessary in any case, apportion the fees which have been realized between the several Municipalities in order to prevent injustice to the Municipalities, harassment to the carters, and the other evils to which I have referred "

The Hon'ble Mr RISLEY said —" I sympathise strongly with the principle of this amendment The only difficulty is how we shall give effect to it The precedent which has been quoted from section 96 of the Calcutta Act is one way parallel and in another way it is not Under that section we do declare that certain municipalities are entitled to certain fractions of these fees, but there all the fees are collected by one municipality, the municipality of Calcutta, and put into a separate fund, so that there is something tangible to divide. But here the carts do not all pay to one municipality, and there is great confusion, as they pay fees sometimes in one municipality and sometimes in another, and I do not see how we are to apportion a lot of individual fees which are paid here, there and everywhere, at different places at different times. It seems to me to be an impossible state of things. Then I have another objection to the amendment of a technical character. I believe it is the case that this Council is not entitled to introduce into this Bill any provision relating to Military Cantonments, the municipal affairs of which are governed by an Act of the Imperial Council of the year 1889. Every one admits that the difficulty which the Hon'ble Member has pointed out does exist, and I am very much afraid that in certain cases it leads to unhappy controversies between neighbouring municipalities regarding the payment of two or three rupees by way of registration fees, and it possibly also does lead to some oppression on carters. As I have already said, I fear a proper solution of the difficulty is impracticable, and the Government would have the trouble of deciding upon separate applications each claiming the fees paid by individual carters, and there might be two or three hundred such applications to decide upon. The Government would in such cases decline to pass any order, and the municipalities would be left to their own resources. The only solution I can suggest is one of two arbitrary ways. Either the fees may be apportioned with reference to the expenditure upon the repair of roads in each municipality, an apportionment which might be left to the Commissioners of Divisions. Or you might be more arbitrary and say that the fees shall be divided equally between all the municipalities concerned in which carts have been registered. I am not prepared to say which of these methods is the best, but I am quite certain that the amendment as it stands will not answer."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said — "I am afraid that whichever of the two ways of solving the difficulty suggested by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill is adopted, great injustice will be done to some municipalities. Take the case of the Baidyabatty Municipality. It is opposite the North Barrackpore Municipality with which I happen to be connected. A large portion of the income of that municipality is derived from fees for the registration of carts. They get about Rs 6,000 a year from cart registration out of a total revenue of about Rs 18,000. They have a great hāt held there twice a week, and if it were not for that hāt, carters would not go there. A town which has a hāt of that description to which a large number of carts resort is legitimately entitled to the fees for the registration of those carts. But if you adopt a rule such as that proposed by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I think a municipality like Baidyabatty would have cause to complain. I confess that the question is attended with serious difficulties, and therefore the Legislature for years together refused to define the word 'habitual'. The question came up before the Select Committee of 1894, and they set their faces against defining the word, they thought it would be best not to attempt a definition. We have attempted a definition this time, and I think we should stop at that point. If further difficulties arise, they might be dealt with later on. It may be that our inaction may lead to hardship and perhaps injustice, but I do not know that it is possible by any act of the Legislature to deal with the matter so as to do justice to all interests concerned. Our efforts in this Council really produce very little results. I am therefore inclined to leave things alone. 'Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof' is a maxim which the practical administrator may sometimes conveniently adopt."

The Hon'ble RAI ESHAN CHUNDRA MITTAL SAHAI said — "I do not agree with the Hon'ble Member who has just spoken, though I admit that this is a matter of great difficulty. In the Hooghly Municipality there is a hāt from which the Municipality derives an income of Rs 2,000. In going to that hāt carts travel through roads in different municipalities and sometimes also through the Grand Trunk road. It is difficult to adjust on what principle cart-fees are to be apportioned in such a case, and there is constant contention between the employes of neighbouring municipalities. Between the municipalities of Serampore and Bansberiah, a distance of 14 miles, there are several municipalities, with intervening distances of two or three miles. Several carts come to the hāt or bazar in the Hooghly Municipality, and the roads within it are to a certain extent used by such carts. Under section 142 of the Municipal Act the Bansberiah Municipality imposed a fee of Re 1 8, and all the carts got themselves registered there. The Municipal Commissioners referred the matter to the Commissioner of the Division, and he declined to sanction the budget of that municipality unless they raised the fee to Rs 2, and thus the matter was set at rest. The officers of the several municipalities try to seize the carts as early as they can, and there is an unhealthy competition which should be put a stop to. Although the task is a very difficult one, still some attempt should be made to divide the proceeds of cart fees in such a way as to meet the requirements of the several municipalities. Some attempt should at any rate be made to prevent the unhealthy competition which is now going on."

The Hon'ble Mr A M Bose in reply said — The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has been good enough to express his great sympathy with this amendment and to admit the hardship and the difficulties which result under the existing law. I would appeal to him to carry his sympathy a little further and accept my proposal. All that my amendment asks is that power may be left in the hands of the Government to take up the matter and apportion the proceeds of cart fees if they think there is a practical difficulty which ought to be dealt with by the Government. If they think that in certain cases it will be best to leave matters alone, they will do so. If in other cases they find difficulties of serious proportions, and that there is a way in which these can be met, they will exercise the power which my amendment proposes to confer on them and remove those difficulties. I may point out that it is altogether premature to discuss at this stage what particular solution it would be best to apply in any particular case. That would depend upon the nature of the case itself. Therefore I hope there will be no objection to the acceptance of the amendment. I have no objection to the omission of the reference to Cantonments, as there is the technical difficulty to which the Hon'ble Member has referred. My only reason for putting in the word Cantonment was that it occurs in the section of the present Act to which my amendment proposes an addition.

The Motion was then put and agreed to in the following amended form —

' (3) To section 147A the following shall be added namely —

' When carts not kept within any municipality are so used in more than one municipality, the Local Government, on the application of the Commissioners of any such municipality, may if it thinks fit, apportion between all such municipalities the registration fee paid under this Act in respect of such carts '.

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 22nd instant

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE STATIONERY DEPARTMENT FOR 1895 96

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS

Calcutta, the 31st August 1896

RESOLUTION—No 4866M<sub>12</sub>

READ—

Letter No 689B, dated the 29th July 1896, from the Board of Revenue submitting the Report on the Administration of the Stationery Department for the year 1895 96

The following statement compares the value of the stocks, receipts, and issues of the Stationery Office for the past two years —

	1894 95	1895 96
	Rs	Rs.
Value of stores at the beginning of the year	6,87,478	7,39,840
Gain (+) or loss (—) by revaluing the opening balance at the issue rate of the year	(—)24,019	(+)71,537
Corrected value of stores	6,63,454	8,11,377
Value of stores received during the year	23,57,947	25,56,706
Total	30,21,401	33,68,083
Value of stores issued during the year	22,81,561	25,97,305
Value of the balance in stock at the close of the year	7,39,840	7,70,778

2 Compared with the figures of 1894 95, there was an increase of Rs 1,98,759 in the value of stores received, and of Rs 3,15,744 in that of stores issued during the year. The value of the stores in stock at the close of the year also rose by Rs 30,938. The advance in the receipts was mainly due to an increase, amounting to Rs 1,93,252, in the value of country made paper, of country made miscellaneous articles, and of English articles purchased locally. This increase is attributed to the higher rates charged for paper by the local mills, to a greater demand for paper made by the printing presses directly under the Governments of India, the North Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Central Provinces, and also by the Postal Press at Aligarh, and to an enhanced expenditure on China ink, miscellaneous articles, and binding materials, which were largely indented for by the Military Officers with the Chitral Relief Force and by the presses. English articles obtained from the India Office show a falling off in value of Rs 30,852, if calculated at 2 shillings per rupee on their invoiced prices, but this decrease would diminish to Rs 309 if the percentage to cover exchange, freight charges, &c, is included in the prime cost of the stores. In the Resolution reviewing the report for 1894 95, it was laid down that the value of imported stores should be calculated on their invoice value at the official rate of exchange for the year, plus 15 per cent on the converted value for freight, packing, and other incidental charges. This method of valuation has been adopted with effect from the current official year, but could not, it is stated, be applied to the valuation of imported stores received during 1895 96, as the order was received late in the year, when most of the stores had been already valued on the old plan. The official rate of exchange for 1895 96 was  $1s\ 1\frac{1}{4}d$ , against  $1s\ 1\frac{1}{8}d$ , the average rate for the preceding year, and, calculated at these rates, with 15 per cent. added for freight, incidental charges, &c, the total value of imported goods would amount to Rs 4,57,886, against Rs 5,05,463 in 1894-95, showing a decrease of Rs. 47,577.

3 The value of stores issued to departments and officers under Local Governments rose by Rs 2,01,575 as compared with the figures of the preceding year. The largest advance, viz Rs 1,61,033, occurred in the North Western Provinces and Oudh, but all the other Local Governments, except the Punjab and Assam, contributed to the increase. The increase in Bengal amounted to Rs 17,037, while the value of stationery used by officers and departments under the Government of India rose by Rs 1,13,687. The largest decrease occurred in the supplies to State railways, which show a falling off of Rs 28,493. These fluctuations have not been explained in the report under review, and it is stated that they will be noticed in the reports on the consumption of stationery, which the Superintendent submits to the several Local Governments and to the Government of India.

4 The value of the stores in stock at the end of the year was Rs 7,70,778, or Rs 30,938 in excess of that at the end of 1894-95. This high figure is said to be due to the inability of certain officers to gauge their requirements accurately, to the fact that certain consignments of goods from England were not received till late in the year, to the higher rates charged by local mill owners for country made paper, and to the fall in exchange. The last cause accounts for no less than Rs 30,543, so that the increase only came to Rs 395. It must be remembered, however, that the balance of the preceding year was unusually high, and considerably exceeded the average consumption for three months, which is the proper standard to observe. The necessity for keeping the balance within reasonable limits has often been pointed out, and the Lieutenant Governor desires that special attention may be given to this important matter.

5 The quantity of water marked paper issued for use with court fee stamps rose by 1,406 reams, and its value by Rs 4,570. The increase occurred chiefly in Bengal and the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, while the Punjab, the Central Provinces, and the Native States in Orissa show a decrease. This paper has recently been introduced into the North Western Provinces and Oudh.

6 The income and expenditure of the Stationery Department amounted to Rs 4,655 and Rs 1,04,483, respectively, against Rs 94,262 and Rs 1,05,136 in the preceding year. The falling off in the receipts, amounting to Rs 89,607, is due almost entirely to the exclusion from the accounts of the commission of 5 per cent on the value of locally purchased articles, which is a book entry and had been improperly mixed up with cash transactions. The items of expenditure which show an increase are freight and miscellaneous charges. An increase of Rs 4,860 under the former was due to freight and bailing charges incurred in despatching packages of stationery by steamer to the State railways in Burma and to the East Coast Railway in Madras, and in sending papers direct from the mills to the presses in the North Western Provinces and Oudh and the Central Provinces, while under the latter Rs 4,271 was expended on the payment of municipal rates and taxes for the Stationery Office.

7 The total value of the different articles of stationery issued, exclusive of deficiencies in stock taking and miscellaneous adjustments, shows an advance of Rs 3,14,129. This increase is partly attributable to the fall in exchange and the consequent rise in the rates of locally manufactured articles, but there were other reasons, among which the following may be mentioned.—An increased supply of drawing paper, drawing materials, and tracing cloth to the Public Works Department and the Commissioner of Settlement and Agriculture, Central Provinces, the consumption of a larger quantity of writing, printing, and coloured papers, and of binding cloth and materials by the Government presses, the issue of a larger supply of carbonic, papyrographic, and other kinds of paper to the Telegraph and Postal Departments, and to the Military Officers with the Chitral Relief Force, the demand for Chubb's padlocks and box locks throughout India. The principal increases occurred under "Writing paper" (Rs 60,114), "Printing paper" (Rs 1,45,657), "carbonic, papyrographic, and other kinds of paper" (Rs 33,306), "Paste, mill and straw boards" (Rs 9,366), and "Other articles" (Rs 11,480). The only noticeable decrease was in the consumption of quill pens, which shows a falling off of 300,000 in number and Rs 4,954 in value.

8 The substitution of country made for imported articles effected a net gain of Rs 1,47,358 in paper and Rs 7,997 in other articles. The use, however, of country made white printing, white cartridge, coloured mottled grey, and cream wove paper resulted in a loss, which the Superintendent states at Rs 36,861, but, seeing that the samples of English made paper, with which the comparison is made, were very inferior in quality to the country made paper actually purchased, this figure cannot be taken to represent the true state of the case. In 1894-95 a loss of Rs 5,260 was incurred by the use of country made white cartridge and coloured mottled grey paper, and in paragraph 9 of the Resolution reviewing the report for that year, it was observed that, unless the local mills were prepared to reduce the rates for these two kinds of paper, they should in future be obtained from England. The system of procuring paper appeared also to the Lieutenant Governor to admit, in some respects, of improvement, and, with the consent of the Government of India, a standing Committee was appointed to consider the questions that might arise in connection with the substitution of country made for English stationery, and with the settling of contracts for Indian made stationery. It is satisfactory to notice that mill owners have reduced their rates for certain descriptions of country made paper, and that no loss is expected to arise from the use of locally manufactured paper of any kind during the current year.

9 For the purpose of determining the relative prices of paper made in England and in India, samples of country made paper have hitherto been sent to England by the Superintendent of Stationery three months before calling for tenders, and the Director General of Stores has furnished him with samples of English made paper of similar quality, with their English prices. A difficulty has now arisen in obtaining samples and prices, owing to the refusal of English manufacturers to supply samples which cost money and bring in no orders, and the Director General has therefore suggested that one tenth of the annual requirements of paper for the Stationery Office should be obtained from England. The question is now under the consideration of the Government of India.

10 The system of supplying newspapers and periodicals through the Stationery Office appears to be working satisfactorily. The number of periodicals supplied during the year fell off by 72, while that of newspapers and books rose by 241 and 1,743, respectively, as compared with 1894-95. The total payment for the newspapers, &c, amounted to Rs 1,06,671, against Rs 90,366 in the preceding year. The excess expenditure was incurred mainly by the Finance and Commerce Department of the Government of India, the Military Education Department, and the Government of Bengal.

11 The details of the administration of the Form Branch of the Stationery Office, which relates almost entirely to Bengal, will be embodied in the report on the consumption of stationery by the various offices under the Government of Bengal, and will be reviewed when that report is received. Here it is sufficient to say that the total number of standard and special forms received from the press and issued during the year shows a considerable decline. The Lieutenant Governor observes with satisfaction that the decrease in the consumption of forms is said to be mainly due to the active co-operation of the District and Subdivisional Officers with the Superintendent of Stationery in adopting every possible method of economy in this direction. In paragraph 12 of the Resolution on the Annual Report for 1894-95, it was stated that the rule directing that no form should be revised nor any new form introduced, except at or before the time of the annual indent, save with the sanction of Government, had not been carried out in the case of forms prescribed by the High Court or the Accountant General, Bengal, and the Comptroller, Assam. It has since been arranged that the Comptroller General and the Accountant General, Bengal, will inform the Superintendent of Stationery, when they prescribe new forms, whether these must be introduced at once or whether they may be held over until the existing stock is exhausted, that the Comptroller General will issue a circular requesting all Account Officers to ascertain, before issuing orders for the introduction of a new form, what stock exists of the form which is to be superseded, and that the Superintendent, when he has a large stock of any form which it is proposed to condemn, should bring the fact to the notice of the Account Officer concerned. In similar cases, the High Court have nearly always ordered the old forms in stock to be used up before a new supply was indented for. These measures form a sufficient safeguard against the loss which may be caused by superseding a large stock of existing forms

12 The receipts and charges of the Form Branch amounted respectively to Rs 37,084 and Rs 47,746, against Rs 34,957 and Rs 48,109 in 1894 95 The increase in the receipts, amounting to Rs 2,127, was mainly due to the sale of a larger number of forms and service books to the public in Bengal and Assam, while the decrease in expenditure is the necessary consequence of the despatch of a smaller number of forms

13 The thanks of the Lieutenant Governor are due to Mr Beames, who held the post of Superintendent of Stamps and Stationery during the greater portion of the year, for his economical administration of the Department

Dated Calcutta, the 5th September 1896

RESOLUTION

Read—

Letter No 676B, dated 28th July 1896, from the Secretary, Board of Revenue Lower Provinces, submitting the Annual Report on the working of the Calcutta Shipping Office and of the Shipping Offices at the outports for the year 1895 96

The number of seamen of all nationalities shipped and discharged through the Calcutta Shipping Office was 21,644 and 20,515 respectively, as compared with 21,555 and 19,724 in the previous year —

	1895 96		1894 95
	Shipped	Discharged	Shipped	Discharged
British	1,184	1,052	1,545	1,346
Europeans, Continental	428	431	648	632
Americans and West Indians	189	124	266	183
Australians	10	10	19	15
Asiatics other than Indians	236	307	245	294
Indians proper	19,183	18,181	18,468	16,787
Eurasians and Goanese	414	410	366	467
Total	21,644	20,515	21,555	19,724

These figures show that the decrease in the number of British seamen shipped and discharged, which was noticed in the reports of the last two years, still continues, and also that this decrease continues to be accompanied by a much larger increase in the number of Indian seamen. The lascars appear to be gradually supplanting the European sailor in the Indian Trade.

2 The number of seamen of all nationalities shipped in and discharged from foreign vessels through their Consulates, and not included in the figures given above are—

Shipped	92
Discharged	54

The number of deserters fell from 62 in the previous year to 46, the decrease being ascribed to the reduction in the number of European seamen arriving at the Port as crews of British ships.

3 The receipts of the shipping office amounted to Rs 39,462, as compared with 39,823 during the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs 361. The largest falling off was under "shipping fees," and this was due to the more extensive employment of lascars. Under discharging fees there was a small increase due to the fact that some native crews which were engaged in Bombay were discharged through the Shipping Office on the termination of their engagement and sent back to that port by rail. The expenditure amounted to Rs 24,124 against Rs 23,711 in 1894 95, the cause of this small increase being satisfactorily explained.

4 The following table shows the receipts of the funds held in trust by the Shipping Office for the past two years —

	1895 96	1894 95
	Rs	Rs
Ticket money	430	322
Deposit money of British seamen	40,661	38,797
Deposit money of Native seamen	6,614	1,867
Estates of deceased native seamen	4,720	3,675
Total	52,425	44,661

As explained in last year's report, the amount of "deposit money" is dependent on the number of seamen discharged or left behind in jail or hospital. During the year there was an increase in the number left behind, the majority of whom were foreigners, who deposited a portion of their wages in the Shipping Office in order to secure the rights of British seamen, especially in the matter of relief and passage home at the expense of the British Government. The number of deposits made was 375.

The large increase of Rs 4,747 in the deposits of native seamen was principally due to the remittances from Singapur of the crews of two steamers, who were sent on as passengers to Calcutta.

Hitherto the head of account "Estates of British seamen" has been included in the funds held by the Shipping Master in trust, but under the orders of the Board of Revenue this account has now been separated and shown as a separate item under the heading "Account current with the Board of Trade." The receipts credited to this fund were Rs 9,928 against Rs 5,760 during the previous year.

The amount remitted on account of seamen's money orders was Rs 11,079. The increase is ascribed to the more favourable rate of exchange, which made it an easier task to persuade seamen to remit their wages home.

5 The number of distressed seamen sent home was 102 against 26 in the preceding year. Of this number 66 arrived in Calcutta from other ports in search of work, but as there was no reasonable prospect of their obtaining employment, they were deported at the expense of Government. This large influx of unemployed seamen was a source of considerable anxiety to the authorities, and the Government of India, as well as the Colonial Governments, have been addressed on the subject with a view to prevent its recurrence.

6 Two cases of imposition on seamen, and one of ill treatment were reported. In the first case the serang and lascars of a steamer complained that they had not been supplied with food according to the scale of provisions sanctioned by Government. The charge having been proved, compensation was awarded. In the second case the master of a ship was prosecuted for presenting an incorrect account of one of his crew who had applied for his discharge. The Master was acquitted by the Chief Presidency Magistrate, but the High Court set aside the order for discharge, on the ground that an offence had been committed against the statute, though the master was not actuated by dishonest motives. The charge of ill treatment was found to be without foundation.

7 At Chittagong the number of seamen shipped and discharged was 28 and 50 against 46 and 33 in the previous year. The decrease in the shipments is stated to be due to the smaller number of men who sought employment at Chittagong, while the increase in the number of discharges is attributed to the paying off of the whole of the crew of a native vessel on the termination of her agreement during the year. The strictness which was observed in sanctioning the discharge of seamen on the ground of mutual consent, though tending to reduce the number of discharges on that ground, is held to have been the cause of the increase in the number of desertions, which were seven as compared with one in the previous year. One of these deserters was arrested and eventually treated as a vagrant, but the other six escaped.

The receipts on account of Trust Funds amounted to Rs 2,677 against Rs 4,075 in 1894-95.

The Shipping Master visited 69 ships in port, and no complaints of bad or insufficient food were made.

8 At False Point 4 seamen were shipped and 75 discharged. Of the number discharged one was a European and the remainder natives and all were discharged by mutual consent. These men were replaced by other seamen from Calcutta.

The Shipping Master paid 11 visits of inspection to vessels in port. No complaints were made by any of the crews of the ships visited.

9 At Balasore 15 seamen were discharged. Of these, 6 were prosecuted and sentenced to six weeks' rigorous imprisonment for continued wilful disobedience of orders and neglect of duty.

10 No transactions under the Merchant Shipping Acts are reported to have taken place at Puri.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

A. D. McARTHUR, Col., R.E.,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE PORT OF CHITTAGONG
FOR THE YEAR 1895 96

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT

Dated Calcutta, the 8th September 1896

RESOLUTION

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners of the Port of Chittagong for the year 1895 96

The financial position of the Chittagong Port
Fund for the past two years is shown in the following statement —

	1894 95	1895-96
Opening balance of the year	Rs 55,291 10 7	Rs 70,134 3 0
Receipts during the year	99 928 8 8	89,080 15 4
Total	1,55,220 3 3	1,59,215 2 4
Expenditure during the year	85,086 0 3	1,02,257 8 9
Balance at the close of the year	70,134 3 0	56 957 9 7
Total	1,55,220 3 3	1,59,215 2 4

2 The subjoined table shows the number and tonnage of the vessels which visited the port during the year as compared with the figures of the two previous years —

	1893 94		1894 95		1895 96
	Number	Tonnage	Number	Tonnage	Number	Tonnage
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
European vessels trading { Entered with foreign ports { Cleared	17 15	30 272 26 694	22 20	40 861 20 637	21 19	38 655 33 787
British Indian vessels trading { Entered ing with foreign ports { Cleared	17	2 572	7	1 205	8	569
Vessels trading with home { Entered ports { Cleared	626 617	202 080 208 885	595 563	210 834 219 942	600 620	211 832 217 873

In paragraph 8 of the report under review, the number of vessels which cleared for foreign ports during the year 1895 96 is shown as 20. From the statement given in paragraph 12 it appears that this number includes one vessel which sailed for ports situated in the Maldivé Islands, but those ports come under the category of home ports, and not of foreign ports, under the provisions of Act I of 1859. The figures in the table above have been corrected accordingly.

A similar mistake was made in last year's report, and was pointed out in the Resolution reviewing it. The Lieutenant Governor trusts that steps will be taken to avoid such errors in future.

3. The total value of the foreign trade during the year is stated to be Rs 1,10,44,712, of which Rs 32,48,453 is under imports. There is an increase in the value of this trade of Rs 3,12,766, as compared with that of the previous year.

Foreign trade.

4. The total value of the coasting trade is stated to be Rs 1,66,38,770 against Rs 1,63,35,492 of the previous year the increase being chiefly in jute and cotton.

Coasting trade

5. The principal articles of trade are shown in the following statement —

			1894 95	1895 96
Exports	Jute	Tons	37,395	45,128
	Rice	,	37,335	25,797
	Tea	lbs	107,948	968,929
Imports	Salt	Tons	10,142	13,564
	Mineral oil	Gals	114,875	10,45,491

6. The appliances of the Port and the light houses at Norman's Point and Kutubdea are reported to have been kept in good order during the year. New moorings have been ordered with the aid of a loan applied for from Government, and it is hoped that the long pending question of the provision of a jetty will shortly be settled.

Port appliances

7. The earnings of the steam-tug Gekko, maintained by the Port, amounted to Rs 12,279, whilst the expenditure on maintaining that vessel, exclusive of Rs 16,294 for interest and sinking fund, aggregated Rs 18,622. The net loss was therefore Rs 6,343, but as a set off against this loss should be placed the estimated value of services performed for the port amounting to Rs 5,000, for which no charge was made.

Earnings and expenditure of the Gekko

8. The health of the shipping was good. Thirty eight seamen were admitted into hospital, among whom there were no deaths, and 35 are said to have been completely cured before discharge.

Health of the shipping.

Pilotage Fund

9. The state of the Pilotage Fund is shown in the subjoined table —

	1894 95	1895 96
1	2	3
Opening balance of the year	Rs 7,341 11 3½	Rs 14,890 4 10½
Receipts during the year	16,599 0 0	16,357 12 0
Total	23,940 11 3½	31,248 0 10½
Expenditure during the year	9,050 6 5	11,916 13 2
Balance at close of the year	14,890 4 10½	19,331 8 8½
Total	23,940 11 3½	31,248 0 10½

10. The working of the pilot service is stated to have been satisfactory. There was one accident to a vessel under pilotage charge, but the pilot was not to blame for it.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory) The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 008 lower The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0 6° higher and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0 6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory

The mean pressure of the seven days

The average pressure of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The total number of hours of bright sunshine

The maximum possible number of hours of sunshine

The mean temperature of the seven days

The average temperature of the corresponding period for 24 years Surveyor General's Office

The extreme variation of temperature

The maximum temperature

The highest velocity of the wind in one hour

The mean relative humidity

The average relative humidity of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The total fall of rain from 30th August to 5th September 1896

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The total fall from 1st January to 5th September 1896

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years Surveyor General's Office

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain gauge is one foot above the ground.

M FINUCANE
Offg Secy to the Govt of Bengal

REVISED RULES FOR THE GRANT OF LEASES OF WASTE LANDS
FOR TEA CULTIVATION IN THE DISTRICTS OF JALPAIGURI
AND DARJEELING

PART I

1 The lands that are generally available under these rules in the district of Jalpaiguri are the unsettled lands, excepting reserved forests, which lie within that tract of country bounded on the north by Darjeeling and Bhootan, west by the Tista river, south by the State of Oooch Behar east by the Sankos river. Any lots of waste land belonging to Government, which lie in any other parts of the district of Jalpaiguri, and which are not reserved for other purposes, may also be made available for tea cultivation under these rules

The lands that are generally available in the Darjeeling district lie in the Kalimpong or Daling subdivision of the district, east of the Tista. They are in two blocks, bounded as follows —

I — North — The Labha forest block

South — The Lehti Noam, Pugo, and Mal forest blocks

West — The Jeet Chu

East — The Nim Chu to its junction with the Chu Chu, then the Chu Chu to a point about  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile below Ambiokh, then a line northwards up to the Ambiokh forest block, and thence southward the boundary of the Dalingkote forest block and the Goorobathan khas mahal area about 19 95 square miles

II — North — The Mo forest block

West — The East Nar block

South and South west — The Moohu up to its junction with the Khoomanee

East — The Khoomanee and Rougo forest block area about 8 50 square miles

2 The following lands will not ordinarily be available under these rules —

- (a) Lands which, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette are held to constitute a reserve for the supply of timber, fuel, grazing, or any other articles of general and public consumption
- (b) Lands not included in the above category, but which now bear India rubber trees, or other valuable timber (such as sâl, khair, chelownee, sissoo, &c.) in considerable quantities and in compact blocks or patches
- (c) Lands in respect of which any person or persons, or any village community, possess rights of occupancy, or such other rights or privileges as render it impolitic or unadvisable to grant such lands to any other person or persons for the purpose of tea cultivation
- (d) Lands lying within a distance of 60 feet on either side from the centre of any public road or thoroughfare provided that such road or thoroughfare shall have been constructed or shall be kept in repair, from public funds
- (e) Lands which the Local Government may at any time, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, expressly exempt from the operation of these rules

3 Every person, company, or association, or promoter of a company or association, desirous of obtaining a grant of land under these rules, must, in person or by a duly authorized agent, present an application on stamped paper of the value of eight annas to the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land lies

4 The application must specify —

- (a) The name or names, and address or addresses, of the applicant or applicants, and of his or their authorized agent, if any
- (b) The area, situation and boundaries of the land applied for, as far as they can be ascertained without a detailed survey
- (c) The particulars if any, which may appear to the applicant to bring any part of the land applied for within the exceptions mentioned in Rule 2. The application must also state whether the land, or any part of it, is, or has ever been, cultivated in any manner, and be accompanied by such evidence or guarantees as shall satisfy the Deputy Commissioner and superior Revenue authorities that the applicant has bond fide at his command sufficient capital to enable him to open out the grant

5 Every lot applied for must be compact and capable of being enclosed in a ring fence and if any part of the land touches on a public road or navigable river, the length of such road or river frontage must not exceed one half the breadth of the lot applied for

The exact boundaries will be settled by the Deputy Commissioner, who will decide the point on a consideration of what is best in the public interests

6 Not more than 1,500 acres will ordinarily be granted to any one applicant, company, or association and when more than 1 500 acres are applied for, the applicant must set forth specially the grounds for such application

If upon proceeding to survey and map out the grant, the Deputy Commissioner finds that it is desirable in the public interests, or for the sake of good boundaries, to include a larger area than 1,500 acres within the area to be granted on the application, it shall be in his discretion, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to grant to one applicant so much land, not exceeding 1,800 acres, as may be necessary to obtain good boundaries and to avoid waste, &c

7 All applications for more than 1,500 acres will be forwarded by the Deputy Commissioner to the Commissioner, who, if he desires to recommend compliance therewith, will forward them to the Board of Revenue, who are empowered to sanction such grants up to a limit of 3,000 acres, and shall take the orders of Government upon applications for an area exceeding that amount

8 The holder of a grant may apply for a second grant if he can satisfy the Deputy Commissioner and superior Revenue authorities that he has bond fide at his command sufficient capital to warrant the concession, and if he has fulfilled all the conditions attaching to his existing grant. Tea leaseholders may obtain arable grants contiguous to their tea lots

9 (a) On receipt of an application the Deputy Commissioner must satisfy himself, as far as lies in his power, that the requirements of the rules have been complied with. If he considers that the application should be rejected, he will record an order to that effect, giving his reasons for such rejection. An appeal will lie from such order of rejection to the Commissioner of the Division, if preferred within 60 days from the date of the order. If the application is for an area over 1,500 acres, and the Deputy Commissioner considers that it might properly be entertained, he will forward the application with his opinion to the Commissioner for submission to the Board or Government. If the Deputy Commissioner considers that an application for such area as it is within his power to grant should be entertained, or, in the case of application for areas over 1,500 acres, when the orders of Government or the Board, as the case may be, accepting the application, are received, the applicant or his agent will be required to deposit the estimated cost of the enquiry referred to in the next rule, and the cost of survey and demarcation to be made as hereinafter provided. The amount to be so deposited must be calculated at one rupee per acre of the total area applied for. If the area is found to be greater the sum of one rupee per acre must be paid on account of such excess area before a preliminary lease is granted.

(b) Payments under this rule do not cover the cost of erecting permanent boundary marks under Rule 24.

(c) In the event of the applicant withdrawing his application before any enquiry has been made under Rule 10 or in the event of its being found that the land has been previously applied for, the applicant shall be entitled to a refund of the survey fee paid by him but in the latter case (i.e., of the land having been previously applied for) an enquiry fee at the rate of one anna per acre is to be deducted from the survey fee deposited, and the balance is to be returned.

(d) If the cost of survey is not paid within one month of demand, the application shall be struck off.

10 On receipt of the sum payable under Rule 9(a) and of an agreement signed by the applicant, or by his authorized agent, to pay such further sum as may be required for the purposes above mentioned, the Deputy Commissioner will record an order appointing the Waste Land Settlement Officer or other officer to visit the land and to make a full and detailed enquiry into its condition and circumstances.

11 The general object of such enquiry shall be to ascertain whether or not the land applied for can be granted under the rules in force but the Deputy Commissioner may instruct the officer making the enquiry to furnish him with such other specific and detailed information as may seem to him to be necessary.

12 On completion of this enquiry, the officer making it will record the result thereof and submit a report for the orders of the Deputy Commissioner. If the Deputy Commissioner, after considering the report, and after calling for such further explanations, oral or written, as he may deem necessary, shall be of opinion that the land applied for cannot be granted under the rules, and should not therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect. An appeal will lie from such order to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 60 days from the date of the order.

13 If the Deputy Commissioner decides that the land applied for can be granted under the rules, and should therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect.

14 The Deputy Commissioner shall at once send a copy of any order passed under Rule 13 to the Conservator of Forests, in order that an estimate may be made by the Forest Department of the value of any forest trees standing on the land. The Conservator of Forests will depute an officer to examine the land and make a detailed report, a copy of which will be allowed to the applicant suggesting the average rate per acre at which payment should be made for such trees. Such officer, in valuing the timber shall have regard to its present market value on the spot, and to the local circumstances of the case, the accessibility of the grant, and the prospect of markets for timber becoming available during the currency of the lease. The Conservator will carefully examine the report, and forward it to the Deputy Commissioner with such remarks and alterations as he may think necessary. If the Deputy Commissioner, on receipt of the Conservator's decision, sees reason to object to the proposed rate per acre, he may refer the matter to the Commissioner, who shall take the orders of the Board of Revenue and of Government on any point on which he and the Conservator may eventually differ.

15 If the Deputy Commissioner finds the land, or any part of it in the occupation of any person or persons, or of any village community he will submit a full report of the circumstances for the orders of the Commissioner, stating in detail how he proposes to deal with such prior occupants, and, if it is proposed to remove them, the compensation, if any which the applicant undertakes to pay to such persons. If the Deputy Commissioner declines to propose the removal of such occupants, an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner within thirty days after the record of an order by the Deputy Commissioner declining to propose the removal. The Commissioner will report his orders in all such cases for the information of the Board of Revenue.

16 If any claim or objection be preferred under Act XXIII of 1863, the Deputy Commissioner will proceed to dispose of the same in accordance with the provisions of that Act.

17 The officer who made the enquiry provided for by Rules 10 to 12 will, on receipt of an order to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner, proceed to point out to the Surveyor the boundaries of the land applied for, and such prominent features in it as may be useful for the purposes of the survey, and which should, in his opinion, be entered in the preliminary lease as hereinafter provided. The boundaries and other features above mentioned should be clearly marked and defined by the officer in presence of the Surveyor, and the latter should be furnished with a list of them signed by the said officer.

18 The Surveyor will then proceed to make the survey and put up such temporary boundary marks as are necessary for that purpose. He must prepare a map showing—

- (a) All natural features of the country lying within the boundaries as fixed by the officer who made the enquiry under Rules 10 to 12, e.g., hills, streams, forest clumps, &c.
- (b) Such features of the country lying outside the boundary of the land to be surveyed as may serve to identify the latter and connect it with the revenue survey or other existing map.
- (c) The total area within the boundaries after deductions of areas for roads or other Government reserves, jotes &c., and the net area of the grant.
- (d) Points at which permanent or other marks should be erected by the lessee.

The Surveyor is bound to bring to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner any fact which may come to his knowledge in the course of the survey, rendering it advisable that the land he is surveying should not be granted under these rules. He is particularly bound to bring to notice any need for public roads across the lands he surveys, and if the Deputy Commissioner concurs with the Surveyor in this matter, the road or roads should be marked off on the ground and on the map, and the area to be occupied thereby should be deducted from the rent paying area of the grant.

19 The map should ordinarily be on a scale of 16 inches to the mile. If possible the Surveyor's field book should be copied at the back of it. If not a copy of the field book should be attached to or accompany the map. If the map be made originally in the vernacular the Deputy Commissioner will cause it to be translated into English.

20 On the map being completed, it must be checked by the Waste Land Settlement Officer, or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. If found to be incorrect, it will be amended by the Surveyor in conjunction with the officer abovementioned. If found to be correct, it will be laid before the Deputy Commissioner with the report of the officer who made the preliminary enquiry under Rules 10 to 12 and with all other papers connected with the case, and will be signed by the Deputy Commissioner and the applicant.

21 The Deputy Commissioner will then proceed to consider the application. A date for this purpose must be previously fixed by him, and due notice of it given to the applicant or to his authorized agent.

22 The Deputy Commissioner shall have power to reject an application at any stage of the proceedings under the rules, if he sees reason to do so, refunding in such case to the applicant the deposit made by him on account of survey, minus such an amount as it may seem to the Deputy Commissioner fair to retain in consideration of the expenses incurred. If, however, the application is rejected for a reason which could not reasonably be anticipated under these rules, no portion of the deposit money shall be retained. The Deputy Commissioner is authorised to reject an application when he does not consider that there is a bona fide intention on the part of the applicant to cultivate in tea the land applied for, or when it appears desirable to reserve the land for cultivation other than tea, or to preserve any forest standing on it. An appeal against every such order of rejection shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 60 days of the date of the order.

23 If the Deputy Commissioner grant the application, he will without delay grant the applicant a lease in Form H of Appendix II, and call upon him to execute a counterpart thereof, which must be registered, and to pay for forest trees the sum assessed under Rule 14. Payment for these may be made by instalments with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which will only be given when the Board are fully satisfied of the good faith and solvency of the applicant. In such case the dates and amounts of the instalments shall be endorsed upon the lease, and the lessee must covenant that, in the event of his throwing up his lease, all outstanding instalments shall be forthwith recoverable from him, whether the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not, but he shall have no further right to fell or remove timber from the grant.

24 When granting the lease, the Deputy Commissioner shall also direct the lessee to mark out the land leased, within three months of the granting of the lease, by a continuous trench, or by clearing the jungle for a breadth of at least twelve feet along the boundaries, or in such other manner as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and by erecting boundary marks at the points indicated on the map.

These boundary marks may be of masonry, or of stone or hollow iron telegraph posts filled with clay or shingle, as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and he will decide on their shape and dimensions.

25 On the expiry of the three months, the Surveyor shall test the correctness of the boundary lines, and ascertain whether the boundary marks have been erected and are in their proper places, and report the result to the Deputy Commissioner, at the same time pointing out to the lessee or his representative, by written notice, any mistakes or omissions that may be found. If the mistake or omissions are not rectified or supplied by the lessee or his representative within 60 days of the receipt of such notice, the lessee or his representative shall be liable to a fine, not exceeding Rs 50 per day, from the date of the expiry of such notice till the requirements of the notice have been complied with. If at the expiration of 30 more days he fails to rectify the mistakes and omissions, the Deputy Commissioner may direct that such rectification shall be carried out, and may recover from the lessee the cost of so doing.

26 If upon any inspection being made it shall be found that owing to the neglect of the lessee, the boundary lines and boundary marks of his grant have either never been cleared and erected in accordance with instructions received by him, or have been allowed to fall out of repair or become covered with jungle in such a manner that without a resurvey of the entire boundary line the exact position of such boundary marks or lines cannot be ascertained, the Deputy Commissioner may direct that such resurvey be made and may recover from the lessee such sum not exceeding one rupee per acre of grant as may suffice to defray the cost of such resurvey.

27 Fines, costs or any other money that may become due from applicants or lessees to Government under rules 9, 10, 15, 23, 25, 26, 30, 32 and 34 shall be deemed to be a demand under the Recovery of Public Demands Act for the time being in force, and shall be recoverable as such.

28 Whenever, after receipt of an application, as provided for in Rule 3, and after making such enquiries as he may deem necessary the Deputy Commissioner shall be of opinion that there is no prima facie objection whatever to the grant under the rules of the land applied for he may put the applicant in preliminary and provisional possession of any area not exceeding one eighth of the estimated area of the land applied for, with the object of enabling the applicant to make preparations for commencing cultivation and getting the land in order provided that the applicant before obtaining such preliminary possession, shall have cleared the boundaries and erected such temporary boundary marks round the whole of the area applied for as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and that the amount of all estimated charges incurred in connection with such preliminary occupation shall have been deposited by the applicant provided further that the applicant shall engage in writing to pay the cost of any trees felled at such rate as may be determined by the Forest Department after inspection of the land under Rule 14, and provided further that the applicant shall take on himself all risk of loss occasioned by other claims being preferred to the land, or by his application being eventually rejected, or from any other cause whatsoever. Such preliminary and provisional possession is not to be regarded as fixing the date of entry upon the grant.

29 The order for and conditions of, such preliminary occupation shall be in Form I of Appendix II, and shall be addressed to the tahsildar or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. A copy of the order shall be delivered to the applicant at the time of giving preliminary possession by the officer who gives it, the officer signing and dating it then and there. The original order addressed to the tahsildar, or other officer shall be signed by the applicant on the date he receives possession in acknowledgment thereof, and the tahsildar or other officer shall forward such original order, with his report written on the back of it, to the Deputy Commissioner for record in his office.

30 If any transfer of an application for land is desired before the grant of the preliminary lease and if such a transfer is allowed* it must be registered in the Deputy Commissioner's Office within 21 days of the issue of the order allowing the transfer, or within 3 months if the deed be executed out of India, and a fee of one rupee an acre must be paid by the transferee.

31 If an applicant shall fail to comply with any requisition of the Deputy Commissioner made in accordance with the rules, or fail to deposit any sums of money (other than the cost of survey under Rule 9) for which the applicant is liable under them within two months after notice in writing shall have been given to him by the Deputy Commissioner, the application may be struck off.

32 Lessees are not permitted to transfer club or amalgamate their grants otherwise than by transfers duly registered as provided for in the preliminary lease, and no isolated grant can be amalgamated with other grants lying more than two miles away from it. When a transfer or amalgamation is effected of lands held under preliminary lease, the transferor shall pay to Government a fee of one rupee per acre of the whole area transferred if less than 5 per cent of the area leased has been brought under tea before the date of transfer, and a fee of two annas per acre, if not less than 5 per cent of the area leased has been brought under tea before the date of transfer. When an amalgamation has been permitted by the Deputy Commissioner and the fee paid the percentage of clearance required by clause 6 of the lease shall be calculated on the amalgamated area. Any unauthorized amalgamation will subject the lessees to forfeiture of all rights in the lands so amalgamated†.

33 The lessee shall maintain the boundaries of the grant clear of jungle, and all the boundary marks in good repair. Where roads (kept clear of jungle) or streams do not form the boundaries, the lessee shall clear the boundaries of jungle at least once a year not later than the end of February in each year.

No transfer will be allowed, unless the transferee would be eligible as an applicant under Rule 4 or as holder of a second grant under Rule 8.

† The following is an abstract of a ruling by Government in regard to grants held by a company in Jalpaiguri. No extension of time can be allowed for clearance of requisite percentage of area. Government cannot permit companies or individuals to take up under the rules large quantities of lands in separate blocks simply to hold until it suits them to cultivate or sell at a profit. When blocks are a mile or two apart, they are distinct holdings, and credit cannot be given in one grant for cultivation carried on in other grants.—[Board's Waste Land Proceedings 12th March 1881 No 123 Collection 9 File 118.]

34 The Deputy Commissioner should occasionally himself inspect or cause to be inspected the boundary lines and permanent marks referred to in Rules 24 to 26 and should he find any out of order, shall by letter instruct the lessee or his representative to place the same in order, and failing his doing so within 30 days of the receipt of the said letter, shall cause the same to be put in order, and shall recover from the lessee or his representative the cost of so doing

35 If the lessee is at any time found, by survey or otherwise, to be in possession of land in excess of the acreage for which he has paid rent, he shall pay rent, at the rates payable by him for the grant itself, for such excess land, whether it be within or without the boundaries described in the lease or map, from one year after the date he entered on occupation of the grant, or any portion of it, unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner that no possession of the excess land was taken until after the grant of the renewed lease in which case rent shall be payable from the date of the expiration of the preliminary lease provided that such unauthorised occupation of excess land, and payment of rent for it, shall give the trespasser no right to continued occupation, and the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled, if he thinks fit to do so to recover possession of the excess lands

36 If under Rules 9 (a) 12 15, or 22 the Commissioner cancels in appeal the orders of the Deputy Commissioner, he shall report his orders for the information of the Board of Revenue

37 Nothing in these rules shall be held to prevent Government from adding such clauses as may be found necessary to the leases when they are renewed provided that such additional clauses shall not be inconsistent with the law or the express conditions of the grant and shall not have retrospective effect

38 The Local Government reserves to itself the right to exclude any particular area (whether before or after application made) from the system of free grant under these rules and to sell grants under the rules in that area by auction on such terms of sale and in such manner as the Local Government may determine

PART II—Terms and conditions of renewed leases of lands for tea cultivation

SUBJECT to any general or special orders of Government, the rent to be paid on the renewal of the lease for a term of 30 years shall be fixed by the Board of Revenue on the report of the Deputy Commissioner on each occasion of renewal but shall not exceed the rate* of rent per acre paid in the neighbourhood at the time of renewal for the highest class of land under ordinary cultivation

Provided that in no case shall the total rent payable under the renewed lease be less than twelve annas an acre on the entire area of the land leased

If at any future time the administration of the tracts under tea cultivation should entail on the State any considerable increase of expenditure, it will be competent to the Government with the sanction of the Legislature, to impose such special taxation as may be deemed necessary, either by raising the rent or in some other mode, but under no other circumstances will the rent which has been fixed for a term of years on the principle above enunciated, be raised during the currency of such term

Lands actually planted with tea in the Duars will, for the present, be assessed at the rate fixed for rupit land in the pargana wherein they lie Waste lands will be assessed at

The rates payable on land in the Duars of Jalpaiguri are as follows—

Effect has been given to the above rates since 1st April 1892, and in leases issued since that date the highest revised rate fixed in the above statement has been charged for each class of land

six annas an acre in all parganas, and the rest of the lands in each grant will pay the pargana rate of basu bamboo, rupit and faringhatty according to the area of the land answering to each of these descriptions that may be found in the grant

In the case of the tract of Daling transferred to the Jalpaiguri district by Government notification dated 9th January 1882, the rates to be imposed will for the present be those paid for similar lands in the adjoining pargana of the Duars on the principle just stated, waste lands paying six annas an acre

The rate to be charged for the present in the case of lands in the Darjeeling Hills is a single uniform rate of one rupee an acre for all lands in the grant

2 The title conveyed by the renewed lease shall be heritable and transferable provided that the prior sanction of the Commissioner of the Division be procured to the transfer of any portion of the grant less than the whole that the transfer be effected by duly registered deed, and that no transfer shall be valid as against Government but that it shall on the contrary, be equivalent to a surrender of the lease, unless notification of the transfer shall have been given by the transferee to the Deputy Commissioner and the transfer is authorized by him

3 In other respects the conditions of the renewed lease* will be the same as those of clauses 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, and 21 of the preliminary lease

In Darjeeling

The rent shall be paid to the Deputy Commissioner in the following instalments —

On or before 20th July	One half
" " 12th January	"

4 The lessee shall either himself reside on or near to the lands covered by this lease or he shall appoint a manager or agent who shall reside on or near to such lands, and who shall be provided with full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of or concerning the lands covered by the lease

NOTE—A shareholder in a registered Joint Stock Company may transfer his share or any part thereof without registering the transfer. A partner in any other firm or company or association may transfer his interest in any part of it but in that case the transfer must be registered in accordance with this rule

5 The lessee binds himself to conform to all the provisions of the rules for the grant of tea leases under which this lease is granted

6 Five per cent of the area of the land leased shall be cleared and actually planted with tea by the end of the second year after the grant of this lease, and ten per cent by the end of the third year, and fifteen per cent by the end of the fifth year

7 Any land covered by the lease, which may at any time be required for a public purpose, may be taken up by Government free of cost on a reduction being made in the rent payable under the lease proportionate to the area taken by Government for the class of land taken. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes

8 All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government, together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for access to, working, getting and carrying away such minerals

9 No right of fishery, and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any stream is given by this lease. A public right of way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, however much the bank may shift by action of the stream or otherwise, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic is reserved

Public access shall be allowed at all times to any springs of water on the lands leased, whenever such access is in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner, necessary for the convenient supply of good water to persons residing in the vicinity and the lessee is bound not to injure the springs or allow others to do so

10 Standing timber must be paid for at the average rate per acre intimated to the lessee by the Deputy Commissioner before possession is given under this lease unless with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, payment by instalments has been allowed. In the latter case, payment must be made according to the schedule of instalments endorsed upon the lease. In the event of the lessee throwing up the lease while any instalments due to Government on account of timber are unpaid the lessee hereby agrees that all such instalments shall forthwith become due and be recoverable from him, whether all the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not but he shall have no right of any kind over any timber on the grant, cut or uncut after the date of his so throwing up the lease

11 The lessee shall be bound to make and erect the boundary lines and marks referred to in rules 24 to 26 within three months after this lease is granted. If he fails to do so within the three months allowed, and within 60 days of the receipt of a notice to that effect, which may be served upon him after the term of three months has expired by a Surveyor appointed by the Deputy Commissioner, he shall be liable to pay a fine not exceeding Rs 50 per day from the date of the expiry of the notice so served till the requirements of the notice have been complied with. Should he fail to make and erect the boundary lines and marks required within 30 days more, the Deputy Commissioner shall cause it to be done and if the lessee fails to pay the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled to recover from the lessee all costs incurred in doing so

Whenever on any subsequent inspection being made the boundary lines and marks referred to in Rules 24 to 26 are found to be out of order the lessee shall be bound to put them in order at his own expense on receipt of a requisition to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner. Should the lessee fail to do so within 30 days from the receipt of the requisition, the Deputy Commissioner shall cause it to be done and if the lessee fails to pay, the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled to recover from the lessee all costs incurred in doing so

12 If upon any inspection being made it shall be found that, owing to the neglect of the grantee, the boundary lines and boundary marks of his grant have either never been cleared and erected in accordance with instructions received by him, or have been allowed to fall out of repair or become covered with jungle in such a manner that without a resurvey of the entire boundary line the exact position of such boundary marks or lines cannot be ascertained the Deputy Commissioner may direct that such resurvey be made, and may recover from the grantee such sum not exceeding one rupee per acre of grant as may suffice to defray the cost of such resurvey

13 The lessee shall be bound to furnish the Deputy Commissioner with information as to the births and deaths of residents in his tea garden, and as to progress and outturn thereof in such form as may be approved by Government

14 In the event of the provisions of the Chaukidari Act [VI (B C) of 1870, as modified by Act I (B C) of 1871, Act I (B C) of 1886, and Act I (B C) of 1892] being enforced (as provided in Government order No 53J D dated 8th May 1893) by order of the Local Government in any tea garden, the lessee shall be bound to furnish proper and fit accommodation for the residence of such chaukidar or chaukidars as it may be found necessary to appoint in each garden to carry out the duties imposed under the Act. The lessee shall also be bound to see that the said chaukidar (or chaukidars) receives his pay punctually in accordance with the provisions of the Act

15 Within two months after the expiration of the second and third year of the lease, the lessee or his representative shall report and certify to the Deputy Commissioner the area actually brought under cultivation and planted with tea

16 The Deputy Commissioner or the Waste Land Settlement Officer or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner may, at any time after report made, enter on, inspect, and measure the area under cultivation, with a view to ascertain the correctness of any report submitted by the lessee or his representative

17 If the lessee or his representative fail to submit the report required by clause 15 within the specified period, the Deputy Commissioner may depute a Surveyor to inspect and measure the area under cultivation either immediately after the expiration of the two months allowed to the lessee for the submission of the report, or at any subsequent time. If on such inspection and measurement being made or on a consideration of the lessee's report, it is found that the requisite percentage has not been planted with tea, the land may be resumed, or such pecuniary penalty inflicted as the Deputy Commissioner, with the sanction of the Commissioner, may think fit.

18 After the expiration of the fifth year, the Deputy Commissioner, or the Waste Land Settlement Officer or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner, shall enter on, inspect and make a detailed survey of the whole grant for the purpose of resettlement. The lessee may at any time demand that an inspection and measurement be made of the area cleared and under cultivation. The expenses of any such inspections and measurements as are made before the due date on demand of the lessee (but of no others) shall be paid by the lessee as rent due. If on any inspection being made during the term of this lease, or if on the first inspection being made after the expiration of such term it is found that 15 per cent of the total area held under the lease has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and actually bears tea plants, the lessee shall be entitled to the renewal of the lease for a further period of 30 years and to renewals for similar periods in perpetuity subject to the rules and the terms and conditions of the renewed leases and to such clauses as the Local Government may from time to time find it necessary to add on the renewal of a lease provided that such additional clauses shall not be inconsistent with the law or the express conditions of the grant, and shall not have retrospective effect.

19 If, by the end of the fifth year after the grant of this preliminary lease, less than 15 per cent of the total area held under it has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and less than 15 per cent actually bear tea plants, the land may be resumed, or, on the application in writing of the lessee he may be allowed to hold on from year to year as a tenant at will for three more years or such less period of time as the Commissioner, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, may determine, on agreeing to pay rent for such terms at the same rates for which he would have been liable if he had complied with the condition about bringing 15 per cent under tea cultivation. On the application of the lessee an inspection and measurement shall be made as soon as convenient after the expiration of any one of the three years and the Deputy Commissioner may make such inspection and measurement of his own accord after the expiration of the third year. If after any such inspection and measurement it is found that 15 per cent of the area bears tea plants, a renewed lease shall be granted on the terms that would have been in force if the condition had been complied with by the end of the fifth year. At the expiration of three years, all rights in the lands leased will lapse to Government if 15 per cent of the area does not then bear tea plants. The cost of all inspections and measurements made during the three years' grace shall be paid by the lessee.

20 All expenses connected with inspections and measurements and all costs incurred in connection with the grant of a renewed lease, shall be paid by the lessee, and shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act.

21 The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any portion of clauses 2, 4, or 6 thereof, and the lessee shall be liable to a daily penalty, under the orders of the Deputy Commissioner, not exceeding fifty rupees per day or a total sum of fifteen hundred rupees for any breach of either of the clauses 13 or 14 thereof, until such clause has been complied with.

22 The fines, instalments, costs, and penalties due under one or more of clauses 10, 11, 12, 17, 20, 21 shall be deemed to be a demand recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act for the time being in force.

23 An appeal may be made to the Commissioner against any order of the Deputy Commissioner inflicting a fine or other penalty for a breach of this lease, and an appeal may be made to the Board of Revenue against any order of the Commissioner ordering resumption of the land or the forfeiture of this lease.

INSANITARY CONDITION OF GARDEN REACH WARDS

The Hon'ble Mr GLADSTONE asked—

Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the dangerously insanitary condition of the Garden Reach Wards of the South Suburban Municipality, and in particular to the almost impassable condition of the Garden Reach Road which connects an important district of the Suburbs with Calcutta? Will the Government be pleased to state what steps it is proposed to take to compel this Municipality to discharge its ordinary duties in respect of these Wards?

The Hon'ble Mr RISLEY replied —

“The attention of Government was called to the insanitary condition of the bastis in the Garden Reach Wards of the South Suburban Municipality in 1894 by a report in which Surgeon Lieutenant Colonel Dutt, then Civil Surgeon of the 24 Parganas, described them as ‘wanting in the very rudimentary conditions of health,’ and complained that the Municipal Commissioners ‘could not be roused to make any serious efforts to improve the condition of these bastis.’ Since then repeated attempts have been made to induce the Commissioners to improve the sanitary arrangements of Garden Reach, but the Magistrate states that little has been done, and that the conservancy of the locality is still carried on by a Contractor under a system which the Commissioners have admitted to be unsatisfactory. Some drains have been cleared and levelled, and the streets are said to be better swept, but as there is only one Overseer for the whole Municipality, covering an area of over thirty square miles, and the conservancy staff in Garden Reach consists of two sweepers and six coolies with three conservancy carts, no real improvement can be looked for. The Commissioners have admitted that the Municipality is too large and scattered for efficient management and have applied to Government to subdivide it. Orders will be passed on their application as soon as certain inquiries have been completed.

“The Garden Reach Road has been much neglected for many years, and is now in a very bad state. An officer of the Public Works Department has been deputed to report upon it, and as soon as his report is received, the Lieutenant Governor will consider whether an order should not be passed under section 64 of the Municipal Act requiring the Commissioners to repair the road within a fixed time, failing which the work will be done by the Magistrate and the cost recovered from the Municipal Fund.”

BENGAL MUNICIPAL ACT, 1884, AMENDMENT BILL

The Hon'ble Mr RISLEY moved that the consideration of the Bill to further amend the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, be resumed

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble Mr A M Bose moved that after section 8 of the Bill, the following be inserted —

“8A After section 141A, the following shall be inserted, namely —

He said —“I may explain that the Council has already amended section 131, so as to substitute for the words ‘habitually used’ which were in that section, the words ‘used in the ordinary course of business.’ That being so, it becomes necessary to define these latter words, so as to prevent ambiguity and indefiniteness, and in fact this is exactly what has been done in regard to the use of these words in the section relating to carts. I therefore propose that what has been done in the one case be also adopted in the other. In fact, the amendment I now propose, necessarily follows in principle the alteration in section 131, which has already met with the approval of the Council."

The Hon'ble Mr RISLEY said—"It does appear at first sight that the amendment now proposed is the logical sequence of the amendment, which was introduced in a similar section relating to the registration of carts, but I am disposed to think that it is really not parallel, and that it would be dangerous to act on the assumption that the two sections should be dealt with in precisely the same manner. To make this clear, I must refer to the amendment in the section relating to the registration of carts (section 142). That section is based upon, and is justified by, what is known as the Chanduria cart case, a place which is a small municipal town in Khulna. It has lived to the twelfth year of its existence on the revenue derived from the registration of carts, and in fact has no other income worth speaking of. Certain orders of the High Court had the effect of killing the municipality, and it is now dead. Certain carters, who resided outside the municipality and kept their carts outside the municipality, used their carts within the municipality regularly during two days in the week (Wednesdays and Sundays) for the purpose of attending a very large hāt held there, and the chief staple of trade in that hāt was date sugar. It was alleged that over 700 carts went to the hāt regularly on those two days of the week, and of course cut up the roads to pieces. The particular case to which I referred was against certain carters who were prosecuted for not taking out a license from that municipality. The Deputy Magistrate held that those carts did not fall within the purview of section 142, and then the Chairman of the Municipality set Mr Monmohan Ghose in motion, and he applied to the High Court for a decision in the matter. The High Court said it was not authorised to interfere in cases of acquittal, except upon application made by the Local Government, and they referred to the Dinapore case, which was referred to at the last meeting of the Council, as a case which would be of use in any application which might be made to the Government. Application was accordingly made to the Government to order the institution of an appeal against the decision of the Deputy Magistrate. An order was issued, and the case went to the High Court, who, in their judgment interpreted the words 'habitually used' to mean practically 'in the ordinary course of business'. In the amendment which has been introduced in section 142, we have gone a good deal beyond the principle laid down in this judgment, we extend the law and no doubt we make it more stringent, but as far as carts distinguished from carriages are concerned, the Select Committee held that we are justified in what we have done on certain grounds—firstly, by the great damage which carts, with their narrow tires and wide axles and heavy loads, do to the roads which they pass over, particularly to municipal roads in the mufassal, which are made of brick metal and not of stone, secondly, by the fact that carts, which are not kept within a municipality, are brought in on particular days for purposes of profit arising out of operations connected with the arrangements of the municipality, thirdly, and this is important, that the carts used in this way are used regularly. As the Chairman of one municipality very forcibly said, in most municipalities to which the section applies, hāt days are well known days, and these carts come in regularly on those days, they do not come in casually—sometimes on one day and sometimes on another, moreover, the fact of the days being regular and known to every body beforehand, renders it possible to have some systematic check over the number of times on which a cart is used, and a municipal officer may be deputed regularly or occasionally to take stock of the number of carts and the number of times each cart makes its appearance, and whether they have municipal tickets or not. Applying these rules to the case of carriages, it will be seen that none of them can be applied to carriages and not even to hackney carriages. Carriages do not do anything like the special damage to roads that carts do, they are not exclusively or mainly used in connection with any arrangements which would give the municipality a claim to license fees from carriages, and fourthly, they are used casually and not regularly. You cannot say that carriages use the roads of the municipality on two or three days of the week and on no other days, as you can in the case of carts. I submit, therefore, that the cases are not parallel, and I further submit that if they are treated as parallel cases, and practical application is given to it in the case of carriages, it will operate with great inconvenience both to natives and to Europeans. Take a case which occurs to me at once, and has practical application to the impecunious South Suburban Municipality—the case of a native gentleman who lives in Calcutta, and who has a garden house within that municipality. There are a good many garden houses there. Suppose this gentleman goes twice a week to his garden house in that municipality for a nach or other amusement, would it not be hard that he should be pounced upon by the municipality and compelled to pay a carriage tax when he has already paid it in Calcutta? This is a typical case in regard to native gentlemen. Then, as regards European gentlemen, there is a certain club in Tollygunge, suppose a gentleman goes there twice a week in pursuit of physical education, would it not be hard that he should pay a second carriage tax? The cases which I have instanced are not, I think, cases in which it can be said that the carriages are used in the ‘ordinary course of business.’ You will introduce enormous difficulties, you will not be able to distinguish between carriages used for business and carriages used for pleasure, and I think we can safely venture to say that the rule which has been accepted for carts will not be applicable to carriages. It would not be safe to apply the same rule to both. There is a provision in the Act that no cart shall pay more than one registration fee, and possibly there should be a similar provision for carriages. Either you must sweep away the registration fee in Calcutta, or the South Suburban Municipality will be unable to obtain fees within their area. Two fees there cannot be.”

The Hon'ble Mr. A. M. Bose in reply said —“I confess I have heard with some little surprise the arguments which have been used in regard to this amendment, possibly owing to my not having been able to follow the Hon'ble Member, and also perhaps because I thought this amendment so much a matter of course that in moving it I did not think it necessary to take up the time of the Council. But I wish to point out now that no portion of the speech of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill is applicable to the present amendment, which simply seeks to define and make intelligible what we mean by certain terms which we have already adopted in regard to carriages. This is the history of the matter. There came before the Council a proposal from the Select Committee that in section 142 of the present Act the words ‘habitually used’ should be struck out, and the words ‘used in the ordinary course of business’ be substituted for them. The phrase ‘habitually used’ is vague and undefined, and incapable of proper construction, and one of the fundamental requirements of legislation is that those affected by it ought to be in a position to understand with certainty what the law means and what their liabilities and obligations under it are. On those grounds the words ‘habitually used’ were struck out. Then I pointed out that the same words were used in section 131, which relates to carriages, and that if the words ‘habitually used’ are so difficult of definition, then it is desirable that they should be struck out of section 131 also. That suggestion was adopted, and the Council has acted upon it. The speech which the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has now delivered might have been delivered in regard to that amendment. However, those words have been struck out, and therefore, in section 131, which relates to carriages, the words we find in the Bill are ‘kept or used in the ordinary course of business.’ Now what is the meaning of the expression ‘used in the ordinary course of business’? It has already been defined by this Council, in accordance with the suggestion of the Select Committee that it should mean ‘used on an average twice a week.’ But that definition occurs not among the general definitions of the Act, but in the Chapter under the special head of ‘registration of carts’ If that definition had occurred, as in the new drafting of a Bill it would naturally have occurred, at the beginning of the Act, there would have been no necessity for a further amendment, because the definition would be applicable wherever the words ‘used in the ordinary course of business’ occurred in the Act. But owing to the way in which the Council has proceeded, the definition which has been accepted occurs, as I have pointed out, in the Chapter of the Act headed ‘On the Registration of Carts’. Therefore, I submit, it is absolutely necessary that that definition should be repeated in connection with section 131, where the words ‘used in the ordinary course of business’ also occur. If you do not do so, what will be the position of affairs? In order to do away with the uncertainty and vagueness which attach to the words ‘habitually used’ in section 131, the Council has substituted certain other words, namely, ‘used in the ordinary course of business,’ and is it not necessary to define what we mean by using those words there? Is our mind, in regard to the application of these terms, the same as in regard to the definition of that term in section 147, or is it different? I fail to understand that there can be any objection to defining the term. The Hon’ble Member has referred to certain cases and difficulties which members of the public may be put to. For my own part, I would prefer to know whether I am in the clutches of the law or not: what it is the Legislature mean by saying that carriages used in the ‘ordinary course of business’ are liable to the tax, rather than have my liability ascertained in each case by the far more costly and troublesome process of litigation. And it is better for municipalities also to know what it is that will make carriages liable to the tax within their respective jurisdictions. As I said before, I had taken it so much as a matter of course that the words would be taken to mean in section 131 what they are defined to mean in section 142, that the possibility of any opposition had not entered my mind. As to the ground of inconvenience and the ground of making a distinction between carts and carriages, such grounds have no sort of reference to the necessity that exists of defining words. If twice a week be not thought enough in the case of carriages, make it three times, and I will accept the change, but by all means define the expression. If you deliberately leave it undefined, you will open a door to all the difficulties and inconvenience, to all the harassment and uncertainty which the Hon’ble Member in charge of the Bill is so anxious to avoid.”

The Motion was then put and carried in the following amended form —

‘ 141B A carriage, horse or other animal shall be deemed to be used in the ordinary course of business within the meaning of section 131, if it is used on business on an average thrice a week ’ ”

The Hon’ble RAI ESHAN CHUNDBA MITTRA BAHADUR moved that the following be inserted at the end of section 8 of the Bill to form an addition to the clause, which it has been decided to add to section 147A of the Act —

‘ Provided that the municipality or cantonment within which any cart is kept, shall have the right to levy the fee in preference to any other municipality or cantonment

He said —“After the amendment which has just been passed, I do not know whether this amendment will not appear to be still necessary that I shall leave the Council to determine. The object of this amendment is simply to remove a difficulty which has long been felt ”

The Hon’ble MR RISLEY said —“I am willing to accept the amendment with the omission of the words, ‘or cantonment’ ”

The Motion was put and carried in the following amended form —

‘ Where a cart is registered under this Act in more than one municipality, the Commissioners of the municipality within which the cart is kept shall have a right to levy the registration fee in preference to the Commissioners of any other municipality ’

The Hon'ble RAI ESHAN CHONDRA MITTRA BAHADUR also moved that after section 9 of the Bill, the following be inserted —

“9A In section 238 sub section (1), the words ‘or without waiting for the orders of the Commissioners for six weeks from the date of his giving notice in writing’ under section 237, shall be inserted after the words ‘as aforesaid’ ”

He said — “It appears to me that there is a clear flaw in section 238. Section 237 provides what a person is to do when he asks for permission to build or to rebuild a house, he has to make an application and to supply plans and give certain other information. Then, under section 238, should any person commence to erect or re erect any house not being a hut, the Commissioners may require the building to be altered or demolished as may be necessary. It sometimes happens that after a party has made an application and furnished the Commissioners with plans, &c, he proceeds with the work without waiting for sanction. In such a case the Commissioners have no authority to demolish the building or to do anything in the matter. The law provides that when a person commences to build without giving notice to the Commissioners, or without submitting the necessary plans, &c, they can demolish the building or cause it to be altered. But suppose that after making the application and supplying plans, &c the party commences to build, and goes on building, without waiting for the six weeks prescribed by the law, the Commissioners have no authority either to demolish the building or to impose any penalty. I find that in the Calcutta Act, section 241, a penalty is provided for commencing to build without submitting an application or before the expiration of the time prescribed for the Commissioners to give or to withhold their sanction, that is to say, the Commissioners can demolish or alter the building as they may think fit. But under section 238 of the Bengal Municipal Act, there is no authority for the Commissioners to interfere in any way whatsoever. I understand that this question has actually been raised in the municipality of Howrah, and such cases are possible elsewhere, and therefore unless some such amendment as I propose is accepted, there will be no remedy whatever against commencing to build before the grant of sanction. The intention of the law evidently is to impose a penalty in the same way as in the case where a plan is not submitted ”

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble MR WALLIS moved that clause 1 (a) in section 10 of the Bill be omitted

He said — “That section reads as follows —

‘With the sanction of the Local Government, the amount of water rate imposed under this section may vary with the distance of houses or lands from the nearest stand pipe or other source of water supply, and the amount may be higher in the case of premises to which communication pipes are attached than in the case of other premises

“I have ventured to bring this amendment forward, as it seemed to me to be one of the most important additions which had been made in the Bill by the Select Committee since it was first introduced into Council, and I think I am not mistaken in saying that Mufassal Municipalities, Commissioners of Divisions, and Public Associations have not had an opportunity of stating their opinions on this important addition. The new sections ought to introduce several varying rates which I fear would lead to considerable difficulty and danger to the success of any scheme of water supply which might be put forward. It would be admitted that the health of the inhabitants of a town depended very largely on the sources of water supply, and recent events had shown very conclusively that this all important question of pure water supply was one which must be taken strongly in hand. This being so, it would be undesirable to introduce into the Act any clause which was likely to weaken the hands of those who had to bring forward such schemes, and he feared the proposal to vary the rates more than was provided in the Act would tend to have this undesirable effect. The new clause, taken as it must be in conjunction with section 279 of the Act, referred only to houses and lands within the town, and not to the outside radius, the limits of which were to be fixed by the Local Government under proviso (a) Section 279 of the Act reads as follows —

‘In any municipality to which the provisions of this Part shall be extended in the manner provided in section 222, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners at a meeting to impose a water rate not exceeding  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent on the annual value of holdings when the houses and lands are situated in any road supplied with water and not exceeding 6 per cent when the houses and lands are situated in any road not so supplied

“Here were two rates, but the new clause introduces two more varying rates I may say several more varying rates, for it first provides that houses which are situate beyond certain distances from a stand pipe or source of supply should pay another rate, and further that the rate shall be higher in the case of premises in which communication pipes are laid than in the case of other houses To illustrate my meaning we will suppose water pipes are laid in Dalhousie Square, North The section provides that all the houses in that street should pay not more than  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent We will take it that pipes are not laid in Dalhousie Square, South there the residents would have to pay a rate not exceeding 6 per cent, then in Esplanade Row, where also pipes are not laid, the rate might be 5 per cent, in Lindsay Street, which is further off,  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent, and in Park Street, which is furthest, 3 per cent These differential rates will, I fear, cause great difficulties and will hamper the introduction of schemes for pure water supplies Before Municipalities could formulate any scheme for the introduction of water supply, it would be necessary for them to be in a position to estimate to some degree the returns they are likely to receive from the outlay which they may incur, but if those living in roads where the water is laid down can decline to have their houses connected with the main, and then claim a reduction in rates, this would be next to impossible It seems to me that the proposals set forth in the new section are contradictory to the existing law, which provides that houses situated in roads where the pipes are laid down shall pay the maximum rate If the Municipal Commissioners in any town consider that the requirements of a pure water supply exist, and the Local Government agree, the scheme should be carried through, and all residents made to pay a fair share of the tax Under the Calcutta Act all the inhabitants are called upon to pay the same rate of water tax, and those who live in third stories of houses have not only to pay the water rate, but have also to employ bhisties to carry the water for domestic purposes I have not referred to the provisos to section 279, which will be found in the existing law Proviso (a) provides that water rate shall not be levied on any house or land which is within the radius to be fixed by the Local Government, and the latter portion of proviso (b) gives the Commissioners power to make special arrangements consistent with the Act with persons living beyond the radius Therefore, I submit that all residing within a town, where it has been considered necessary to introduce a scheme for the supply of pure water, should be called upon to pay their fair share towards the cost In Calcutta we are all content to pay the water rate, although some of us do not get the water without incurring additional expence, still we are all willing to pay our share for the benefit we get in an indirect way by the supply of pure water to the town I hope I have succeeded in showing that it will not be desirable to vary the rates to be paid more than is provided for in the existing Act ”

The Hon'ble Mr Risley said —“ I agree with the Hon'ble Mover of this amendment in considering this section of the Bill an important one, and that it was unfortunate that all municipalities were not consulted about it It is a section which was introduced at a late stage on a representation made by the Chairman of an important municipality while the Bill was in Select Committee As regards the two rates in the existing section, it is not clear to me that they affect the question at all Those are maximum rates, and whatever the section of the Bill provides must be subject to the provisions contained in the Act as to the maximum rates It will probably be simplest to explain precisely how this section in the Bill came to be drawn up in order to enable a municipality, with the sanction of the Local Government, to impose differential water rates varying with the distance of the houses and lands from the nearest hydrant, and also with the circumstance whether the house is connected with the water supply or not, but, as I have said before, whatever rate may be fixed in any case must be subject to a maximum of  $7\frac{1}{2}$  or 6 per cent, as the case may be. The first impetus to the introduction of pure water in mufassal towns was given by the Chairman of the Bhagalpur Municipality, one of the most efficient Chairmen of Municipalities in Bengal—a man who has done more to advance Municipal Government in Bengal than anyone else, and it is to his exertions that the Bhagalpur water works are mainly due. The Chairman of that Municipality, in a letter recently received, said—

‘ * * In our municipality a rate of 3 per cent is levied * * * ’

“ In a subsequent letter, in support of the proposal to levy differential rates, he says, in regard to house connections —

‘ A system of that kind is in force in Mymensingh ’

“ And I find that since 1891, from which time water rates have been enforced in that municipality, the following rates have been introduced, namely, 4 per cent on all holdings within 300 yards from the nearest hydrant 3 per cent on holdings over 300 yards, but within quarter of a mile from the nearest hydrant, and  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent on holdings with house connections. The rate is levied on the valuation of holdings.

‘ That is precisely the state of things which is contemplated by the section in the Bill, and the object of the section, which was unanimously agreed to by the Select Committee, is to legalise the state of things which already exists in Mymensingh, and to enable the Bhagalpur Commissioners to introduce similar arrangements in Bhagalpur for reasons which I have read to the Council in the Chairman’s letter. It seems to me that the proposal is in the interests of both classes, in the interests of the poor, because, with a differential system in force, they will not have to pay at the rate calculated with reference to the allowance for house connections. I understand that the granting of house connections not only leads to a great waste of water—as everybody knows it does—but it also necessarily enhances the cost of maintaining the scheme of water supply. And as it may be said with reference to a municipality starting a scheme of water supply that a rate of 3 per cent on the value of holdings will not enable you to give house connections, though a rate of 5 per cent would, I may fairly ask why should poor people pay a higher rate for water by reason of the necessity to allow richer people house connections? Poor people cannot afford the cost of house connections, therefore, to be equitable in a case of this kind, instead of imposing a rate of 5 per cent all round, you may fairly provide for a rate of 3 per cent on people who have not house connections, and 6 per cent on richer people who have house connections, for, in that case, as the Chairman of the Bhagalpur Municipality has pointed out, they will be able to dispense with the employment of bhusties to carry the water from the municipal hydrants. It is to the interest of the rich, not only because they will be able to dispense with bhusties, but the fact of levying the higher rate will make all the difference to the municipality being able to grant house connections. In that way it will be distinctly to the interest of both classes, to the rich, because they will get what they want, and to the poor, because they will not be charged a rate which they cannot afford. There is, however, one object which I admit neither this amendment nor any other will effect, namely, the great waste of water caused by house connections.”

The Hon’ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said —“ I am sorry I cannot support the motion which has been made by the Hon’ble Mr. Walker. It will be seen that the provision in the Bill is entirely permissive. The Hon’ble Mover of the amendment has stated that the operation of the section will be attended with serious administrative inconvenience. I think that argument is met by the terms of the section, which says that, ‘ with the sanction of the Local Government, the amount of water rate imposed under this section may vary with the distance of houses or lands from the nearest stand post, &c.’ Whether in any case there will be administrative inconvenience or not, the Municipal Commissioners will always be the best judges. If they find serious inconvenience, they will not make a recommendation to that effect, and even if they did, the Local Government would not accept the recommendation, therefore, as far as the Hon'ble Member's argument is based upon the question of administrative inconvenience, it is practically demolished by the permissive character of the section. Then the Hon'ble Member stated that the Commissioners will not be able to obtain a correct statement of the income to be derived from the water-rate by reason of the varying rates to be imposed. I confess I am not able to follow the Hon'ble Member in this line of argument. I presume the Commissioners would fix the varying rates according to distance, they would say that for houses and lands within a distance of 300 yards the rate would be so much, for houses within 600 yards so much, and 900 yards so much, and they can easily count the houses within those distances, and arrive at an approximately correct estimate of the proceeds of the rate. My hon'ble friend has further observed that in Calcutta we have no varying rate. In this view of the matter he is mistaken, we have it in the suburbs, which are now included within Calcutta. There is one water rate there, and a different rate in the town. For all these reasons I do not think the motion before the Council ought to be accepted. I entirely sympathise with the remark of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill that the effect of this section in the Bill will be to make the law more elastic, and that municipalities will be in a better position to introduce water supply schemes and with less pressure upon the poorer classes, and it is because the section will have this effect that I have no hesitation in saying that it ought to commend itself to the acceptance of the Council."

The Hon'ble Mr GRIMLEY said — "If I understand the matter correctly, the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment seemed to see some contradiction between the terms of the section in the Bill and the provisions of the existing Act. The provisions of section 279 (1) say that the rate shall not exceed  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent in the case of people who reside in houses situate on streets in which water pipes have been laid, and that it shall not be more than 6 per cent in the case of people who live at a distance from such roads. That is the substantive law. But it does not say how the rate shall be regulated. The amendment in this Bill lays down a reasonable rule for measuring the differential rates, and says that the measure shall be by distance. What can be more reasonable? Where there are communication pipes, the rate is to vary directly with the distances of the houses from the main, the greater the distance the water has to be carried by the pipe, the greater the amount of payment. In other cases, where there is no communication pipe, the rate is to vary inversely, so that people who live at a distance and have to carry their water a long way, will have to pay less than those who live close to a hydrant. That, I think, is a very reasonable rule. The section in the Bill merely provides this rule for measuring the differential rates, and therefore I can see nothing inconsistent in the Bill with the Act itself. With this explanation, the Hon'ble Member will, I hope, be able to withdraw his motion."

The Hon'ble MAUI VI MUHAMMAD YUSUF KHAN BAHADUR said — "The difficulty which the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment feels seems to be that under this new section the Municipal Commissioners will be able to levy water rate from persons who are beyond reach under the existing law. I think all difficulty in this direction will vanish if the new section were to be read along with section 279, the new section must not be read alone by itself. The Act lays down the maximum and minimum rates of  $7\frac{1}{2}$  and 6 per cent, with reference, respectively, to houses situated in streets which have been piped and which have not been piped, but the Act does not lay down how the rates are to be worked out with reference to the area and how they are to be distributed over the area. The new section lays down such rules, and shows how the rates are to be worked out and distributed. The new section has no independent action and operation, its operation is subject to section 279, and is confined to the case which comes under section 279, so that where section 279 has no operation, the new section has none. If my hon'ble friend apprehends that whereas under the existing law all who live in the street where the pipes are laid pay the maximum rate, whether they have got the connection or not, the amendment provides that those who have no connection shall pay less, although living in the same street then I say that this apprehension also is not justified from a correct and careful reading of the new section "

The Hon'ble RAI ESHAN CHUNDRA MITTRA BAHADUR said — "I welcome this section as a great improvement upon the provision in the existing law. Although I did not succeed in introducing a scheme of water supply into the Hooghly Municipality, I have had some experience in connection with water supply schemes, and I say that the great obstacle is that the provisions of the Act are not sufficiently elastic to enable a distinction to be made between the rich and the poor in the amount of rates to be paid by them respectively. Those who get the great advantage of house connections ought certainly to pay a higher rate, and poor men who live at a distance from streets in which water pipes have been laid should pay comparatively less. And unless the provision introduced by the Select Committee is passed, I can assure the Council that it will not be possible to introduce water works into municipalities generally. It is injudicious to impose one uniform rate on the rich and the poor we must make a distinction."

The Hon'ble Mr WALLIS in reply said — "I regret to find myself in the position of having moved an amendment which has met with no support from any of the Hon'ble Members who have spoken. My idea is that it having been once decided that it is necessary to introduce a scheme for the supply of pure water in a municipality, and the Local Government being of opinion that it should be done, the scheme which has been approved should be introduced, irrespective of the considerations which have been urged by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill and other Hon'ble Members. The section of the Act, as it stands, provides for two rates of charge, and the proviso which already exists is sufficient to enable the Municipal Commissioners, with the permission of the Local Government, to impose any rates which they may think fit with those residing at a distance from the source of supply. The argument on which I base my motion is that only two maxima rates should exist for those residing within the limits of the town, namely,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  per cent in the case of houses and lands in streets in which water has been laid on, and 0 per cent in the case of houses and lands not so situated, and that the fact of a person not choosing to have communication pipes introduced into his house should not entitle him to pay a lower rate than those whose houses have been so connected. However, as I find that my motion has not met with the approval of the Council, I ask leave to withdraw it."

The Motion was, by leave of the Council, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble RAI ESHAN CHUNDRA MITTRA BAHADUR moved that after section 10 of the Bill, the following be inserted —

"10A. After clause (b) of the first proviso to section 279, the following shall be inserted, namely —

'(c) any garden without dwelling houses or any holding consisting only of tanks' "

He said — "To speak of gardens without dwelling houses may be looked upon by some as a contradiction in terms, but I have so worded the amendment in contradistinction to gardens which have houses within them. In the General Clauses Act [V (B C) of 1867] 'land' has been defined to include houses and buildings and hereditaments and tenements of any tenure unless there be words to exclude houses and buildings or to restrict the meaning to tenements of some particular tenure. So it is quite clear that tanks and gardens will come under the definition of 'land'. Now in section 279 of the Municipal Act, an exemption (b) has been made in favour of any land used exclusively for purposes of agriculture, and my amendment is for the exclusion of tanks and gardens which are exclusively used for purposes of horticulture. I submit that only such land ought to be charged with the water rate which derive some benefit from the water supply and the question for consideration is whether tanks and gardens can be in any way so benefited. An exemption has been made in the matter of latrines, the section imposing the latrine tax being confined to buildings or dwelling houses only where services are performed by the municipality. Therefore, this principle of exemption has been recognised by law, that is to say, that when a particular property is not benefited by the service for which any particular rate is levied, that rate is not to be imposed upon that particular property. I ask whether tanks and gardens can be said to be benefited by the introduction of a water-supply scheme within a municipality. If you can levy a water rate on tanks and gardens, you can as well levy latrine fees upon them. Again, vacant holdings are exempt from taxation. I submit, therefore, that taking the principle of rating to be that the property upon which a particular rate is to be imposed is to be benefited, tanks and gardens cannot properly be called upon to pay a water rate. And in the fitness of things, there is no reason why agricultural holdings should be excluded and horticultural holdings and tanks should be subjected to the water rate. I therefore submit that the amendment which I now move should be accepted."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said — "Gardens may be benefited by a water supply, as they may be used for garden parties and the like, but I agree with the Hon'ble Mover of the amendment that holdings consisting of tanks only should not be called upon to pay a water rate."

The Hon'ble RAI ESHAN CHUNDRA MITRA BAHADUR said — "I accept the suggestion made by the Hon'ble the President, and agree to confine my amendment to the exclusion of holdings consisting only of tanks."

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY said — "This is an amendment distinctly in favour of the richer classes and adverse to the interests of the poorer classes. It has in every case been difficult to get water works introduced into municipalities, as they put a very severe strain upon their resources, and I think it is not fair to introduce behind the backs of municipalities any change in the law which will reduce their income without consulting them. I know on what narrow margins municipalities are working, as the municipal rates barely cover the expenses. It seems to me, in particular in regard to gardens, that water rates should be imposed upon gardens, as the owners of gardens certainly derive a personal benefit from water works. I have no special objection if the amendment is confined to tanks."

The Motion was then put and carried in the following amended form —

That after section 10 of the Bill, the following be inserted —

"10A After clause (b) of the first proviso to section 279, the following shall be inserted, namely —

'or

(c) any holding consisting only of tanks'"

The Hon'ble MR A. M. Bose moved that before section 11 of the Bill, the following be inserted —

"10B In section 321, after the words 'dwelling houses,' the words 'or privies' shall be inserted."

He said — "Section 321 provides for the levy of fees for cleansing latrines in holdings consisting of dwelling houses. The history of this section is curious. In the Act as it originally stood, a latrine tax could be imposed on all holdings, then at the last revision of the Act, the imposition of the tax was restricted to holdings containing dwelling houses. This in some measure represented the swing of the pendulum to the opposite extreme. My amendment is to add the words 'or privies,' that is to say, to make all holdings containing dwelling houses or privies subject to the tax. To give a concrete example. There is within a neighbouring municipality a large piece of open ground enclosed within masonry walls and containing no dwelling houses, the land being used twice a week regularly for the purpose of holding a large cattle market. On those days from 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning until evening, there are hundreds of people within that land. There is a privy on that land, but the land cannot be taxed because it does not contain any dwelling-house, though the necessity for proper latrine arrangements is manifest on the face of it. Take the case of a holding which contains only privies used by people living in the neighbourhood, the necessity for latrine service and for taxing the land may be far greater than in the case of a latrine in a dwelling house, yet it cannot be touched under the present law. I think, therefore, that the omission which my amendment is intended to supply must have been due to oversight. This will be made still more clear by a reference to section 832, which shows that the Legislature intended that there should be latrines constructed not only where there are dwelling houses but on lands as well, therefore the Act itself recognises the fact that not only holdings containing houses but lands also require latrine services. This is an amendment which will add to the income of municipalities, and very properly so where services are required."

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble RAI ESHAN CHUNDRA MITTRA BAHADUR, by leave of the Council, withdrew the Motion of which he had given notice that after section 13 of the Bill the following be inserted —

"14. In the fifth Schedule to the said Bengal Municipal Act 1884, the following shall be inserted after the words and figures —

	Rs
'For every camel	2'
namely —
'For every dog	1''

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY moved that after sub section (3) of section 8 of the Bill, the following be inserted —

"(4) The words 'or Cantonment' in sections 141A and 147A are hereby repealed"

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY also moved that section 5A of the Bill be numbered 6, and that all necessary changes be made in the numbering of the remaining sections, and in the reference thereto in section 2 of the Bill

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY also moved that in clause (1) of the new section 69B, which it is proposed to insert in the Act, "(1)" be substituted for "(x)"

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY also moved that in sub section (2) of section 10 of the Bill, the words "in the first place, in which that word occurs" be inserted after the word "amount"

The Motion was put and agreed to

The Hon'ble MR RISLEY also moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed

The Hon'ble MR A M BOSE said — "I am extremely sorry to have to oppose this motion. The reason for my opposing it is this that as a matter of general convenience, it is desirable that when there have been amendments made in a Bill in its passage through the Council, the Bill, with the amendments, should be printed and circulated, so that in case there are verbal alterations to be made, numberings to be corrected or any obvious imperfection, oversight, or inconsistency to be remedied, this may be done, and Hon'ble Members may have an opportunity of finally considering the language and mutual bearing of the various sections of the Bill. I submit that as a matter of principle this is a desirable procedure to follow. We have been reminded this very session of examples in the past of inconvenience caused by this procedure not having been adopted. But apart from that, in this particular case there are strong and special reasons why the Bill should not be passed at this sitting of the Council. Several of the amendments have been further amended and settled at the table, and in the case of some of them we have not been able to follow the wording as thus settled. Even this very day we have had some amendments, and especially the amendment passed at the instance of the Hon'ble Mr Risley in the place of that moved by the Hon'ble Rai Eshan Chundra Mittra Bahadur in section 8 of the Bill, the language of which it was not possible to follow, and other amendments were moved and passed without any notice, the language of which had not been before the Members at all. Then, again, there have been two amendments made in section 147A, one of which was passed at the last meeting of the Council on my motion, and another to day on the motion of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, and it would have to be seen how these amendments are placed, because if my amendment is placed second, it will be necessary to make an alteration in the language. Then, again, there is a matter specially reserved for consideration from the last meeting which would also require consideration."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said — "The Assistant Secretary has gone through all the amendments carefully, and the amendments which have been moved by the Hon'ble Mr Risley to day are the outcome of the careful examination of the Bill which Mr Wigley has made. There seems, therefore, to be no necessity for postponing the passing of the Bill."

The Hon'ble MR A M BOSE said — "I think that as a matter of principle the Members of this Council ought to have an opportunity of seeing the Bill after all the amendments have been included in it. The responsibility for the Bill is after all on them. Under Rule 44 of the Rules for the Conduct of Business, this is a matter which is not to be put to the Council, but when any Member objects to the motion which has just been made by the Hon'ble Member, the passing of the Bill stands over unless the President thinks the objection ought not to prevail."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said — "I cannot say that your objection is wrong as a matter of principle, but considering the season of the year, and that we all have our own avocations to pursue, I do not think I can adjourn the motion for the passing of the Bill."

The Motion was then put and agreed to

The Council adjourned sine die

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT DURING THE THREE YEARS ENDING THE 31st MARCH 1896

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE

Darjeeling the 10th September 1896

RESOLUTION—No 233T—F

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of the Stamp Department during the three years ending the 31st March 1896

During the triennial period with which the report deals, the Acts under which the stamp revenue was collected were the Indian Stamp Act I of 1879 and the Court Fees Act VII of 1870, as modified by subsequent enactments. The former Act was amended, in respect of policies of sea and fire insurance and sale certificates, by the enactment of Act VI of 1894. The opinion of the Local Government was also furnished to the Government of India on various points connected with the general revision and consolidation of the Indian Stamp Act, and the whole question is now engaging the attention of the Supreme Government.

2 The financial results of the administration of the Stamp Department during the past three years, with the average, for the previous triennium, are shown in the following

YEAR	STAMPS UNDER ACT I OF 1879			COURT FEES UNDER ACT VII OF 1870			TOTAL

The gross average annual revenue collected under both the Indian Stamp Act and the Court Fees Act during the three years under review was Rs 1,64,91,535, against Rs 1 49,83,961 in the previous corresponding period, showing an increase of Rs 15,07,574. Both judicial and non judicial stamps contributed to the increase.

3 The receipts from sales of the different descriptions of stamps are shown in the table below. The figures differ from those given in the last paragraph, as they do not include Stamp sales miscellaneous receipts under the Indian Stamp Act, or receipts from the sale of plain paper used with court fee stamps. There is also a discrepancy of Rs 41,803 between the total average sales as reported by the Superintendent of Stamps and as shown by the Accountant General, which is under adjustment —

All classes of stamps with the exception of "Foreign Bill" and "Notarial" stamps contributed to the increased sales of the last three years. The average receipts were again highest in Calcutta (Rs 2,04,731), where nearly one seventh of the entire stamp revenue was collected and lowest in Singhbhum (Rs 17,629). Mymensingh contributed more than 9½ lakhs, Dacca over 7½ lakhs, the 24 Parganas nearly 7 lakhs, Backergunge over 6½ lakhs, Tippera nearly 6 lakhs, Midnapore over 5½ lakhs, and Chittagong, Muzaffarpur, Faridpur, Jessore, and Hooghly over 4 lakhs each. The same districts also showed large receipts in the previous three years. The general incidence of stamp revenue was 3 annas and 6 pies per head of the population. The revenue from the sale of stamps of all classes has increased from Rs 87,88,026 in 1874-75 to Rs 1,27,76,907 in 1884-85 and to Rs 1,64,36,188 in 1895-96.

4 The growth of revenue was most marked under "impressed sheets," the average receipts from which came to Rs 31,60,862 for the three years, being an increase of Rs 2,92,957, distributed over 40 districts. The largest increases were at Mymensingh (Rs 47,149), Tippera (Rs 20,315), Dacca (Rs 17,900), Muzaffarpur (Rs 14,589), and Rangpur (Rs 11,732). No more definite cause can be assigned than the general expansion of trade, the increased value of land, and the desire of people, when doing business, to have their transactions recorded in documents which can be used for litigation. Impressed labels, which are in use only in Calcutta, show an increase of Rs 6,106, or 8 per cent, the improvement being attributed to the issue of debenture bonds on loans taken by several joint stock companies and zamindars, as well as to the transfer of several tea estates for large sums of money. The sale of one-anna revenue stamps, commonly known as receipt stamps, shows an improvement of nearly Rs 56,000, an increase of Rs 36,272 being contributed by Calcutta alone. The latter increase is ascribed by the Collector to "the action taken by his office on unstamped receipts and brokers' notes, and partly to large transactions in jute." Generally speaking, the increased revenue from this source is due to the provisions of the law being better known, and to the working of the arrangement by which the public can buy receipt stamps at post offices. The causes that affected the sales of the other classes of non-judicial stamps, which are of minor importance, do not call for special notice.

5 The average income of the past three years from the sales of judicial stamps was Rs 1,06,46,090 under court fee stamps, Rs 6,000 under High Court service stamps, Rs 3,80,909 under Calcutta Small Cause Court stamps, and Rs 1,99,760 under stamps for copies, making a total of Rs 1,16,72,759, or an increase of Rs 11,07,411, or 22.8 per cent over the income from the same sources in the preceding triennium. The largest increases were in Calcutta (Rs 1,67,141), Mymensingh (Rs 1,18,556), Tippera (Rs 51,268), Noakhali (Rs 50,866), Dacca (Rs 50,753), Muzaffarpur (Rs 44,861), Backergunge (Rs 39,026), Bhagalpur (Rs 37,098), Midnapore (Rs 36,737), Chittagong (Rs 32,382), and the Sonthal Parganas (Rs 30,131), the chief decreases being in Patna (Rs 14,611) and Shahabad (Rs 9,522). The fluctuations in the sales of court fee stamps depend on the increase or decrease in the number and value of the suits. Taking each denomination of court fee stamps sold during the period under review, there was an increase of over  $4\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs in the sale of eight anna stamps, nearly  $4\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs in that of one anna stamps, nearly 3 lakhs in that of one rupee stamps, and over  $1\frac{3}{4}$  lakhs in that of four anna stamps, while, on the other hand, there was a decrease of nearly  $1\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs in that of two anna stamps, and Rs 12,289 in that of twelve anna stamps.

6 The number of cases in which deficient stamp duty and penalty were levied by Civil and Revenue Courts, and the amount realized during the period under review, are shown in the following table —

YEAR	NUMBER OF CASES		AMOUNT OF DUTY AND PENALTY REALIZED		Total
	Civil Courts	Revenue Officers	By Civil Courts	By Revenue Officers	Cases	Amount
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Average of three years 1890 91 to 1892 93	1 335	2,241	Rs 11 380	Rs 25 2 8	3 576	Rs 36 678
1893 94	1 449	2 872	11 871	25 608	4 321	37 479
1894 95	1 518	2 999	12 111	27 254	4 517	39 465
1895 96	1 317	2 755	10 098	2 773	4 072	37 871
Average of three years 1893 94 to 1895 96	1 427	2 875	11 360	26 878	4 302	38 238
Average increase in the three years under review compared with the preceding three years	92	634		1 580	726	1 560
Average decrease in the three years under review compared with the preceding three years			20

7 The average number of prosecutions instituted for various breaches of the stamp law was 1,005, against 616 in the previous triennium. The average number of persons brought to trial was 1,238 against 740, of convictions 1,009 against 584, and of acquittals 160 against 125. The average amount of fines imposed by Magistrates was Rs 7,524 against Rs 5,440, and of rewards paid Rs 2,197 against Rs 1,339. The Board bring to notice the fact that no rewards were given in the districts of Howrah, 24 Parganas, Jessore, Khulna, Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, Patna, Shahabad, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, Purnea, and in six districts of the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions. This points to laxity of administration in the districts named, for the judicious use of rewards is almost the only means of detecting evasions of the law.

8 Several cases of fraud and defalcation were detected, the most serious of which occurred in the Bankura Treasury, where one rupee court fee labels of the aggregate value of Rs 13,140 were fraudulently abstracted from a consignment received from the Superintendent of Stamps. The thief could not be traced, but the Treasury Officer and Treasurer, who had failed to observe the rules and had neglected all ordinary precautions, were made jointly responsible for the loss. In Calcutta a waste paper dealer was convicted for cleaning and reselling at a reduced rate one anna receipt stamps abstracted from old documents.

9 The Lieutenant Governor's acknowledgments are due to the Board for their careful administration of the Stamp Department. The Board mention Messrs Barnes and Beames, the Superintendent and Officiating Superintendent of Stamps, Rai Durgagati Banerjee Bahadur, Collector of Stamp Revenue, Calcutta, and Mr Girard, his assistant, as specially deserving of credit.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

H H RISLEY,

Secretary to the Govt of Bengal

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1895 96

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE

Darjeeling, the 11th September 1896

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1895 96

During the first 10 months of the year under review, duties were collected under Act XVI of 1894, which modified the tariff values fixed by the Tariff Act, VIII of 1894, and imposed a duty of 5 per cent on cotton goods. From the 3rd February 1896, duties have been collected under Act III of 1896, which amended the previous Tariff Act of 1894, by abolishing the import duty on cotton twist and yarn including sewing thread, and by reducing the rate of duty on cotton piece goods from 5 to  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. The working of the Cotton Duties Act in Bengal has been described in detail, in a separate Report submitted by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta.

The total net duty collected during the past year rose from Rs 3,48,56,819 in the previous year to Rs 4,12,51,305, an increase of 18 per cent, to which import and export duties alike contributed. The increase of Rs 63,45,313 under imports is mainly due to larger receipts from cotton piece goods and twist and yarn, which increased by Rs 61,40,306, the remainder Rs 2,05,007, being accounted for by the rise in receipts from salt duty. The export duty increased by Rs 49,223, owing to larger shipments of rice to foreign Ports. The charges of the year under review, inclusive of refunds and drawbacks, amounted to Rs 12,81,266 against Rs 10,82,456 in the previous year. The increase occurred mostly at Calcutta, and is due partly to the payment during the year 1895 96 of certain establishment charges relating to the previous year, and partly to the cost of the additional establishment sanctioned for the Calcutta Customs House. The total net revenue of the year, including receipts other than duty, was Rs 4,07,44,170 against Rs 3,44,21,806 in the previous year, and thus showed an improvement of Rs 63,22,364, or 18 per cent.

There was an increase of Rs 54,51,503 in the total value of the foreign import trade in merchandise, but the advance took place in dutiable goods only, there being a decrease of Rs 11,00,96,369 in free goods owing to the operation of the tariff of 27th December 1894. The imports of treasure, which have been declining since 1890-91, rose by 25 per cent owing to larger imports of gold from the United Kingdom and Hongkong. The improvement of Rs 18,97,976, or 13 per cent in Government transactions is due to larger importation of railway materials by the East Indian Railway. The increase of Rs 59,54,084, or 13 per cent, in the total value of the foreign export trade in Indian produce, is ascribed to larger shipments of raw cotton to Germany, Italy, China, Belgium, and the United Kingdom, of indigo and wheat to the United Kingdom, of saltpetre to the United States, and of tea to Australia. In the coasting trade, the increase in imports is accounted for by larger receipts in Calcutta of rapeseed, flour, cotton twist, and grey piece goods of Indian manufacture, English grey and white cotton piece goods, metals and cloves from Bombay, and of raw cotton, rice and paddy from the Bengal outports, while the improvement in exports is due to larger shipments of coal and tea to Bombay, of rice, pulse, gram, jute manufactures and raw silk to Madras, of coal and jute manufactures to Burma, and of cotton yarn, jute manufactures and betelnuts to Bengal outports. Including Government transactions, the total value of the trade of the Province stood at Rs 92,92,04,859 against Rs 91,38,16,945 in the previous year, showing an increase of Rs 1,53,87,914, or 13 per cent.

5 Trade of Calcutta with Foreign Countries—More than half of the foreign trade of Calcutta is carried on with the United Kingdom, but during the past year the proportion again fell from 57.44 to 56.24. Under imports, the value of cotton goods fell from 15 to a little over 13 crores, while the exports of treasure were less by nearly 38 lakhs than the abnormal figures of 1894-95. The United States comes second, with a percentage of 7.14 of the entire trade, against 7.05 in the previous year, the increase in imports being due to larger receipts of kerosine oil and tobacco. The exports, on the other hand, show a decrease of Rs 5,14,391, the result of restricted trade in raw jute, indigo, and oilseeds. Germany still holds the third place, but her share in the trade stood at 6.35 against 6.43 in 1894-95, owing to a falling off in the exports of raw jute, rice and oilseeds. In consequence, however, of the very large imports of beet sugar, the import trade advanced. China comes fourth, with a percentage of 5.69 against 5.61 in the previous year. The trade with Hongkong increased during the past year, an improvement occurring under exports on account of the higher price of opium, of which 20,200 chests were exported during 1895-96 against 20,049 chests in the previous year. The trade with the Treaty Ports of China consists almost wholly of opium, the exports of which declined by more than twice the amount of the increased exports to Hongkong. The Collector remarks that the import duty of 5 per cent, coupled with the closing of the Indian Mints, appears to have extinguished the imports of silver from China, which, for some years past, had been gradually declining. The Straits Settlements, Ceylon, France, and Australia maintained the positions they occupied in the preceding year. The trade with the Straits Settlements shows a decrease in imports, due to a smaller trade in spices and stick lac, while reduced shipments of opium and oil cake account for the decline in exports. The trade with Ceylon improved during the year, owing to larger imports of merchandise and treasure, and to heavier shipments of rice. France shows a net decrease of 1½ lakhs in the value of her trade with Calcutta, while the Australian trade improved in imports, under treasure, horses, and raw wool, but fell off in exports mainly under jute manufactures, of which the value declined from 90 to 70 lakhs. The value of the trade of Austria-Hungary with Calcutta rose but little, as compared with the previous year. Italy, on the other hand, shows an increase of more than five and a half lakhs, and the export of raw cotton is stated to have risen from 56,460 cwts to 117,452 cwts, representing an increased value of more than 14 lakhs. The trade with Belgium increased by more than 29 lakhs, or nearly 38 per cent, steel, copper and matches being the chief imports, while under exports, raw cotton and jute manufactures showed an appreciable increase.

The Mauritius trade decreased both under imports and exports the decline under the former is attributed to the reduced dealings in sugar, and in the latter to the smaller shipments of rice during the year

6 Shipping in Calcutta—The proportion of the foreign trade of Calcutta carried through the Suez Canal stood at 74 per cent against 72 per cent in the previous year The table below compares the total shipping entering inwards and clearing outwards without touching at any other ports and the aggregate tonnage in the past two years —

	1894 95		1895 96
	Number	Tonnage	Number	Tonnage
1	2	3	4	5
Steam vessels	678	1,424,574	642	1,407,604

Native crafts	26	3,855	24	4,789
Total	1,025	1,962,217	895	1,785,587

There was thus a falling off of 36 steam vessels, 92 sailing vessels, and 2 native craft representing a decline in tonnage of 176,630 tons The trade with the United Kingdom, France, Germany, and the United States shows a total decrease of 74, 6, 18, and 15 vessels respectively due to the falling off in the trade of Calcutta with those countries

7 Imports into Calcutta—The total values of the principal articles of merchandise imported into the port during the last two years were —

	1894 95	1895 96
	Rs	Rs
Cotton goods	14,47,35,956	12,63,00,058
Twist and yarn	74,54,680	86,28,857
Metals	2,08,58,890	2,74,15,489

Woollen goods	72,35,464	56,38,567
Sugar	54,50,009	59,09,872
Liquor	49,23,576	53,65,028
Salt	67,94,392	47,54,262
Hardware and cutlery	39,59,682	45,50,712

Twist and yarn show an increase, while cotton goods declined by Rs 1,84,35,898 Metals advanced by 31 4 per cent, owing to larger importations of unwrought copper, wrought copper, iron, lead, steel and zinc The improvement of 70 per cent in mineral oils is due to larger shipments from the United States and Russia, especially the latter For the first time in the history of the trade, the receipts of Russian oil have been larger than those of American, which is ascribed, partly to the cheapness of the former kind, and partly to the energy and enterprise of those who carry on the Russian trade Machinery and mill work showed an increase of 49 per cent, owing, it is stated, to a larger importation of machinery for jute, flour and paper mills, and of electric plant Woollen goods show a decrease of 22 per cent, the heaviest fall being under piece goods The advance of 11½ per cent in the trade in sugar is attributed to larger shipments from Germany, Hongkong and the Straits Settlements, while the imports from Mauritius and Java were smaller The importation of ale, beer and porter increased by 2 per cent, of spirits by 5 per cent, and of wines and liqueurs by 19 per cent Both brandy and gin decreased, but whisky increased by 14 per cent The Collector remarks that the importation of cheap German spirit for the manufacture of spurious brandy and whisky continues to increase This spirit is cheap and very strong, and the trade in it is believed to be profitable An improvement of 19 per cent occurred under wines and liqueurs, the advance being most marked under champagne and claret, which increased by 31 and 29 per cent, respectively. The decline of 24 per cent in the trade in salt is attributed to a large quantity having been left in stock at the close of the preceding year. The imports of hardware and cutlery from the United Kingdom, Germany and Austria Hungary increased, while the imports from Belgium declined. The trade in these articles with the United Kingdom is said to have been promoted by the rise in exchange, by credit on a larger scale having been given by agents to importers, and by the fact that competition has reduced commission, freight, and other charges. The increase in the trade with Germany is said to be due to the energy with which it is pushed, and to the action of commercial travellers, who come out regularly and call upon the principal native dealers in the large towns. Among other items, it may be observed that improvements occurred in agricultural implements (20 per cent), apparel (3 per cent), and matches (13½ per cent), while the trade in umbrellas and spices declined. On the whole, the total value of the imports, including treasure, but excluding Government transactions, rose from Rs 27,44,43,275 to Rs 28,18,46,990, showing an increase of Rs 74,03,715, or 27 per cent. The increase occurred both under merchandise (Rs 46,42,117, or 18 per cent) and treasure (Rs 27,61,598, or 9 per cent).

8 Exports from Calcutta—The total value of exports from Calcutta to foreign countries, including treasure, but excluding Government transactions, declined from Rs 45,80,59,114 to Rs 45,69,38,422, showing a falling off of Rs 11,20,692. The values of the trade in the principal exports in 1894-95 and 1895-96 are given below—

	1894-95 Rs	1895-96 Rs
Jute, raw	9,89,89,311	9,27,61,410
Jute gunny bags	3,13,00,321	3,46,68,939
Opium	5,29,68,740	5,04,63,935
Tea	7,11,57,590	7,15,63,397
Oilseeds	3,50,31,068	2,32,33,966
Rice	3,67,87,929	3,34,83,049
Indigo	3,47,75,823	3,72,38,471
Hides and skins	2,72,63,795	3,12,75,285
Wheat	8,51,526	87,14,489
Raw cotton	43,15,840	97,03,885
Lac	1,39,57,703	1,83,02,320
Silk, raw	48,24,330	61,67,336

- The exports of raw jute declined by 7.0 per cent, owing to smaller supplies having been taken by Germany and the United States, as the shipments to those countries in the preceding year had been excessive. The increase of 17 per cent in jute gunny bags is attributed to increased exportation to Egypt, the United States, Hongkong, the Straits Settlements and other countries, against decreased shipments to the United Kingdom and Australia. The fall of 9 per cent in the value of opium exports is due to the smaller number of chests offered for sale. In tea there was an advance of 6.1 per cent in the exports, the most noticeable increase being in the case of the United States, the exports to which rose by no less than 155.1 per cent. There was also an increase in the direct shipments to Canada, and in the exports to Persia through Bombay and Turkey in Asia. The actual outturn of the season's crop was about five million pounds below the original estimate, and the average price per pound in Calcutta fell from 9 annas 3 pies in 1894-95 to 8 annas 9 pies. The exports of linseed, and rapeseed declined owing to short crops, while that of poppy seed increased. The United Kingdom, Germany, the East Coast of Africa, Mauritius, Natal, Réunion, South America, and Arabia all took smaller supplies of rice, and although larger quantities were exported to Ceylon, Cape Colony, and the West Indies, this accounts for the decline of the article by 1.8 per cent in comparison with 1894-95. Indigo shows an advance of 4.5 per cent and the exports are the highest for many years past. This was due to increased shipments to the United Kingdom, Austria Hungary, France and Russia, while the exports to the United States declined considerably. The exports of raw hides fell by 6.8 per cent, but the value of the trade stood at a larger figure, as the prices were higher. Large speculative purchases were made for America, and there was a considerable increase in the exports of dressed hides to the United Kingdom. The remarkable increase of 320·7 per cent in the export of wheat, arose from the advance in the trade with the United Kingdom, where the crop was even shorter than in the preceding year. Small shipments of wheat, were also made to Belgium, France, and Germany. The advance of 124 per cent in the export of raw cotton is ascribed to the increased output of the crop in India, and to the fact that the American production fell short, and the price of raw materials rose. Germany, as usual, was the largest consumer, but the exports to the United Kingdom rose by 97 per cent, and larger quantities were also taken by Austria-Hungary, Belgium, and Italy. The exports of lac show an advance of 238 per cent, due to higher prices and larger production. There was an improvement of 33 per cent in the exports of raw silk. The Collector of Customs writes —

“The consumption of silk depends very much on the freaks of fashion in Europe. For some years, silk goods have not been specially in favour, but last year there was a change, and a demand sprang up, resulting in increased requirements of the raw article. Bengal silk participated in this demand in the London market.

9 Treasure — Both gold and silver show an increase under imports, and a decrease under exports. The imports improved by Rs 21,66,318 and Rs 5,95,280, while the exports declined by 37 $\frac{3}{4}$  and 26 $\frac{3}{4}$  lakhs respectively. Gold was principally obtained from the United Kingdom, China and Victoria, while the imports of silver came mostly from the United Kingdom.

10 Subordinate Ports — The total value of the foreign trade of the Port of Chittagong rose from 107 to 110 lakhs in the past year, an advance of nearly 3 per cent. This took place in imports only, and was caused by a more extensive importation of cutlery and salt from the United Kingdom, and of kerosine oil from Batoum and the United States. There was a fall of Rs 1,72,825 in the value of exports, which is attributed to a short crop of rice in Chittagong, Noakhali, and the neighbouring districts. There were no imports or exports of treasure. The coasting trade generally decreased, but the amount of customs duty collected at the Port rose from Rs 6,86,331 in 1894-95 to Rs 7,00,824. At the Orissa Ports the total value of the trade, both foreign and coasting, as compared with 1894-95, rose at Balasore from Rs 94,73,701 to Rs 1,16,44,198, at Cuttack from Rs 21,52,418 to Rs 33,08,365, and at Puri from Rs 3,73,238 to Rs 7,03,656. The value of the foreign trade advanced both in imports and exports at Cuttack and Balasore, while Puri showed an improvement in exports only. Rice was exported in larger quantities from all the Orissa Ports to Mauritius, and from Cuttack and Puri alone to Ceylon. The net amount of customs duty, inclusive of the duty on imported salt, collected at the Orissa Ports, amounted to Rs 4,88,479 against Rs 1,69,015 in the previous year. The trade at Narayanganj, which is carried on with Coast Ports only, rose in total value from Rs 67,14,087 to Rs 69,46,931, the amount of duty collected on salt alone standing at Rs 1,41,962 against Rs 72,022 in 1894-95. Besides salt, kerosine oil was the only other dutiable article imported here, but the supplies of both of these increased, owing, it is said, to the low prices they fetched at Chittagong. The exports were of rice only and diminished during the year.

11 The Lieutenant Governor's thanks are again due to the Board of Revenue for their supervision of the Customs Department during the year, and to Mr Baker for the clear and interesting Report submitted by him. The names of the Officers who are favourably noticed by the Board, with the remarks recorded, will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

H H RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal

The mean pressure, temperature, &amp;c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM FOR THE MONTH OF AUGUST 1896

WEATHER for August was unusually settled over the Bay and was marked by very distinct peculiarities in Bengal. The most important of these was the great absence of rainfall in the east of the province, and to a smaller extent in all other districts except Orissa, where there was a considerable excess. Along with the light rainfall and the comparatively clear skies temperature was as a rule above the normal and the means for the month of both maximum and minimum readings are in considerable excess at nearly all stations. The main reasons for these irregularities in rainfall and temperature are not difficult to find, if the assumption be made that they are dependent on the pressure arrangement. This has been unusual in two respects (1) in the absence of depressions over either the north of the Bay or in Bengal, (2) in the tendency for pressure to be relatively higher in the north east of the province as compared with the south west whereby the monsoon current received its westerly deflection further south than usual, that is over the north of the Bay and in Lower Bengal instead of in East and North Bengal and the south of Assam.

It will be remembered that the weakness of the monsoon in 1895 was partly shown in the irregular distribution of the rainfall there being in practically alternate months heavy rain fall in the north east and light rainfall in the south west or vice versa. During the present year a similar irregularity is shown in an even more marked degree, but with the difference that the heavy rainfall has rarely penetrated to North Bengal, and at times it has been extremely scarce. In June the average fall in North Bengal was 49 per cent of the normal, and in August it was only 39 per cent while in July the fall was about normal.

In considering the rainfall distribution which depends very largely especially in the latter half of the monsoon season, on atmospheric depressions a distinction should be drawn between deep depressions over the Bay and shallow ones over the land. In years when the monsoon is weak the northern half of the province loses a portion of its rainfall by the occurrence of the former, as while they are over the Bay the indraught from the north is attended by fine and almost cloudless weather and as they afterwards move to the west or north west the easterly winds which they leave in Lower Bengal prevents the northward extension of the usual monsoon current. The shallow depressions on the other hand, which begin generally over the land move to the north or north west and cause heavy general rain. This is particularly noticeable if they break up on reaching the lower ranges of the Himalayas in the neighbourhood of Bihar or North Bengal. Their disappearance is followed almost immediately by thunderstorms and heavy rain over the plains near the hills.

During the month just past there was only one depression of any importance over the Bay and it attained no great depth and only one land depression which though it caused a great deal of rain especially in Bihar at the end of the third week, moved to the west out of the province before it finally broke up.

The pressure distribution which prevailed with two interruptions—one on the occasion of the land depression mentioned above and the other towards the end of the month when readings became low in North East Bengal—was as follows: readings were lowest in Orissa or Chota Nagpur, from which they increased with somewhat greater rapidity towards the north east than in average years. The isobars ran almost north and south or from north west to south east an arrangement which caused winds more from the east than usual.

Weather conditions had just recovered from the effects of a disturbance in the north west angle of the Bay at the end of July but there was still a rather large defect in pressure. A moderate fall in Lower Bengal, Orissa and the adjacent part of the Bay on the 1st of August caused a depression to form with its centre a little to the south or south east of Saugor Island. The pressure gradient became much steeper both over the Bay and the province, because of the brisk fall in Orissa and the rapid rise in Burma and Assam. The centre of the disturbance moved rather slowly to the west and was near Balasore on the 2nd but after that it either filled up or moved away more rapidly, as by the 3rd it had almost entirely ceased to affect the weather in Bengal. The increase of pressure on the 3rd was 2½ inch in Orissa and between 1 and 2 inch at all the south western stations.

The stormy weather which the depression caused was confined largely to the west of the Bay, the strongest winds being reported from Gopalpur, and when the rapid rise of pressure occurred between 2nd and 3rd these strong winds soon moderated.

Heavy rain fell in the south of Orissa during the formation and passage of the disturbance, but only light showers were received in Lower Bengal, and very little in the northern districts. The rise of pressure which was so rapid on the 3rd continued in the western districts on the 4th and by that time readings were above the normal by nearly 1 inch. As the excess diminished towards the south the differences were sufficient to prevent the weak monsoon current which might have forced its way to the north of the province. This arrangement continued for some days during which there was fine weather, with passing light showers in the south of the province

On the 11th a very shallow depression formed in the north west angle of the Bay off the coast of Orissa, where it developed slightly owing to a rapid fall of pressure on the 12th. The rise which followed on the 13th caused it to concentrate still near the Orissa coast which the centre crossed in a north westerly direction in the course of the day between False Point and Balasore. Though gradients were fairly steep over the Bay weather was not disturbed to any great extent, and only light rainfall occurred in Bengal even after the depression had moved away.

By the 15th the pressure distribution had become approximately normal and on the 16th the differences from the normal were only a few thousandths of an inch except in North Bengal and Assam, where there was still a small excess.

The changes then began which led to the land depression. A brisk fall of pressure prevailed on the 17th, changes being somewhat larger in the north east. The easterly winds which had been a regular feature up till then changed to south in Lower Bengal, and westerly directions began to appear in Chota Nagpur and the west of Bihar. The slight low pressure area, of which this was an indication, developed very slowly and was each day more to the south till the 19th when the centre was in South West Bengal and the greatest defect in pressure was in the north east of the Bay. It remained there on the 20th and then moved towards the north west causing general and in places very heavy rainfall. On the 21st it was over the centre of the province, the heaviest falls of rain on that day being 5 inches at Sagar Island and Midnapore and 3 inches at Chaibassa. On the 22nd it was in Bihar, where general heavy rain was falling, especially in the western districts, and on the 23rd it had moved to the west out of the province.

During the last three days of the existence of the depression general heavy rain fell over nearly the whole province except Orissa, where it was almost rainless owing to the westerly land winds which at that time were blowing over Orissa. But it was in Bihar where its influence was most decided as the rainfall during the rest of the month forms but a fraction of what fell between the 18th and 22nd, as may be seen by a reference to the table preceding this summary.

On the 24th lowest pressure was again in Orissa, and light easterly winds prevailed over the province. Pressure was in excess by small amounts and remained so till the 28th when the reversal began to take place by which the area of lowest pressure was transferred from Orissa to North Bengal. The fall on the 28th was brisk to rapid in North Bengal and Bihar, and slow on the 29th by which time a moderate defect prevailed. The rise which followed was rapid in Bihar and the Orissas and only moderate in North Bengal, so that readings were lowest at some of the northern stations and isobars instead of running north and south or even north west and south east as they were in the early part of the month were now approximately east and west.

- Westerly winds became general penetrating as far east as Sibsaigar. Though showers continued, the rainfall was generally light and in the early part of September gradually diminished as the system of westerly land winds became established over the province.

Pressure.—As stated above very few depressions occurred in August and none of them were of much importance. There were two over the Bay and one inland. The first formed at the beginning of the month close to the head of the Bay the second somewhat further south, about the middle of the month. Both moved to the west or north west and passed over only the south western districts. The third at the end of the third week was a shallow land depression and had an important influence on the rainfall in the north of the province. As pressure has been almost uniformly low in the south west as compared with the northern districts the means for the month are considerably lower in Orissa and South West Bengal than in North Bengal where the means are nearly normal. Defect in Orissa is about 0.4 inch in South West Bengal 0.3 inch, in the central districts 0.2 inch, and in Bihar 0.15 inch.

Temperature.—Owing to the settled weather and the comparative absence of cloud and rainfall temperature was with few interruptions above the normal, especially in North Bengal and Bihar, where means are largely in excess. Even in Orissa where rainfall was above the normal, mean temperature is high but only by about half a degree. In South West Bengal Chota Nagpur and Assam mean excess is about 1°, in East Bengal 1.3, and in Bihar and North Bengal nearly 2°.

Mean maximum temperature is normal or slightly below the normal in Orissa, about 1° above in Lower Bengal and Chota Nagpur, and from 2° to 3° above in the northern districts. Mean night temperature is more uniform, but above the normal everywhere by amounts varying up to 2° in the north of the province.

Rainfall was very deficient in North and East Bengal, and in considerable defect in all other districts except Orissa, where there was an average excess of more than 3 inches. The average fall in North Bengal was only 5.68 and in East Bengal 7.31 inches less than 40 and 50 per cent respectively of the normal fall in August. South West Bengal received

8.4 Bihar 9.0 Chota Nagpur 11.8 and Orissa 15.31 inches. Thus instead of having about the heaviest rainfall North Bengal had the lightest in the province. Defect in Bihar and South West Bengal was more than 3 inches, and in East and North Bengal between 8 and 9 inches.

Usually in August a considerable proportion of the rainfall at the various stations is caused by local thunderstorms and consequently the falls are more irregular than in the earlier months of the monsoon season, but the same general arrangement obtains. The heaviest falls are in the south east, south west and north-east corners of the province, while the lightest are in a tract of country running diagonally across the province from south east to north west. Owing to the continued low pressure in Orissa and the north west of the Bay, and the steady easterly winds, the heaviest rainfall during the month just past was largely confined to the south west or Orissa and from there the falls diminish steadily to almost the extreme north east.

In Orissa the actual falls were generally between 10 and 15 inches, but in places were over 20 inches. In the south west of Chota Nagpur most of the stations reported more than 15 inches and the area over which 10 inches or more prevailed included almost the whole of Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and part of the west of Bihar. Part of South West Bengal extending south westwards from Calcutta, and small parts of South East and North East Bengal received more than 10 inches, but generally in the western half of Bengal proper and the greater part of Bihar falls were between 5 and 10 inches. Over large parts of East and North Bengal the falls were under 5 and in places under 3 inches.

The comparison of the actual rainfall in the various large divisions of the province with the normal is most accurately and conveniently shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month calculated in this way, are included in the table below under the heading of August. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first eight columns giving the actual average rainfalls in each division in each month expressed as a percentage of the normal while the ninth column gives the total rainfall for the first eight months expressed as a percentage of the normal rainfall for that period —

METEOROLOGICAL DIVISIONS	January	February	March	April	May	June	July	August	Actual rainfall of first eight months of 1896 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period
South West Bengal	81	18	18	38	97	128	95	71	89
North Bengal	8	5	2	63	143	49	108	39	75
East Bengal	18	110	43	71	115	99	72	48	80

The following table gives full data for comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of August in all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain recording station in each district, due allowance or weight being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 25 years, the second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district, the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage, the fourth column states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied from the normal —

NOTE — Stuttering or stammering is a constitutional defect and represents a physical disqualification

II — That he is of good moral character

III — That he belongs to a respectable family

IV — That he produces a certificate of ability to ride signed by a district officer

3 Applications for permission to appear at the examination must be submitted, not later than one month before the date fixed to the Magistrate of the district in which the candidate resides stating the place at which he desires to appear for examination Each application from class (a) candidates must be accompanied by a fee of Rs 5 All candidates will be required to satisfy the conditions specified in Rule 2 above The certificate of health should be signed either by the Civil Surgeon of the district in which the candidate ordinarily resides or in Calcutta by one of the Professors of the Calcutta Medical College Forms of application are available in the offices of District Superintendents of Police

The Magistrate should require a personal identification of each candidate by some known person whose name should be recorded and satisfy himself that the certificates of respectability and moral character refer to the individual applying for permission to appear at the examination, and send him to the District Superintendent for certificate as to physical fitness This certificate should contain the applicant's descriptive roll, thumb impression, signature and address for purposes of identification The District Superintendent will then obtain a health certificate the fee for which will in all cases be Rs 4 from the Civil Surgeon, and send it together with the certificate of physical fitness to the Magistrate, who will, after subjecting the candidate to an examination in riding and noting the fact, grant a written permission to appear at the examination

As these certificates form the verification rolls of candidates, they should be very carefully examined and enquiries made when necessary

The above papers with the examination fee will be forwarded without delay by the Magistrate of the district in which the candidate resides to the Magistrate of the centre at which the candidate wishes to be examined

The Examination Committee before the examination will compare the descriptions thumb impressions (duplicate impressions being taken for the purpose, if necessary), and signatures and satisfy itself about the identity of the person appearing

At the examination the candidate will be required to sign the papers in every subject, writing his father's name and his own address on them to avoid confusion arising out of a similarity of names

After the result of the examination is known the certificates of passed candidates will be forwarded to the Principal of the Police Training School, Bhagalpur, and will then be treated as verification rolls

The certificates of unsuccessful candidates will be returned, if asked for, within two months, or destroyed at the end of that period

4 The subjects of examination will be as follows —

I — Dictation, letter drafting, piecise writing and a short translation from Bengali Urdu or Hindi into English Europeans and Eurasians will be allowed to choose one out of these three languages to be examined in No candidate failing to obtain half marks in this paper will be considered qualified for appointment

II — Paper on general knowledge The questions will be set so as to test the general information and intelligence of candidates

III — Mathematics including arithmetic and algebra, and account keeping

IV — Law, including the Penal Code the Criminal Procedure Code, and the Evidence Act

N.B. — Class (b) candidates will be exempted from passing in algebra

5 The marks will be given on the following scale —

1 Dictation and language	200
2 General knowledge	200
3 Mathematics	200
4 Law	200

6 The number of candidates to be selected by the examiners for each Range will be notified in the Calcutta Gazette on or before the 4th November 1896. This number will be determined by the Inspector General of Police with reference to the number of vacancies existing or estimated as likely to occur within the course of the following year.

7 After the results of the examination have been ascertained, a list will be prepared of the candidates selected for appointment. Those who have not obtained half marks in dictation and language, and one third marks in the aggregate of the remaining papers, may be struck out as ineligible for appointment. Of the remaining candidates a list will then be composed as follows—(a) one half of the candidates who stand highest on the list in order of merit (b) one half of candidates selected from among those candidates who have obtained not less than one-third of the marks. At least two thirds of the appointments will if qualified candidates are available, be given to outsiders.

8 Natives of Bengal Proper will be eligible for appointments in all districts where Bengali is the vernacular of the district. Natives of Bihar will be eligible for appointments in districts where Hindi is the vernacular, and natives of Orissa for appointments in districts where Uriya is the vernacular. Selected candidates will be liable to be transferred to any district.

9 Selected candidates on appointment will undergo a three months' course of instruction at the Bhagalpur Police Training School. This course will include drill, elementary surveying, anthropometry, and instruction in prosecuting cases in Magistrates Courts. At the end of the three months all probationers obtaining a certificate of proficiency will be posted to districts and receive appointments in due course as 5th grade Sub Inspectors. During the period of probation candidates will receive 20 rupees a month as salary on being passed out of the Training School, they will receive Rs 30 a month as salary. Candidates who fail to display due diligence during their period of probation will be liable to lose their appointment.

10 The position of selected candidates in the Range lists from which promotions are made will be determined by the places obtained by candidates at the final Examination held at the conclusion of the Training School Term.

11 Candidates resident in any of the districts of the Patna, Bhagalpur, and Chota Nagpur Divisions, who take up Hindi at this examination will be considered to be natives of Bihar. Candidates competing at Cuttack, who take up Uriya, will be considered natives of Orissa.

12 Information as to the hour and place of examination can be obtained 15 days before the examination by applying to the District Magistrates of the 24 Parganas, Dacca, Patna, and Cuttack.

NOTIFICATIONS

EXAMINATIONS

Simla, the 7th September 1896

No 354 - The following Regulations respecting the examination of candidates for the Civil Service of India to be held in August 1897 are published for general information —

COPIES OF THESE REGULATIONS MAY BE OBTAINED ON APPLICATION TO THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, HOME DEPARTMENT

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA

An open Competitive Examination for admission to the Civil Service of India will be held in London, under the subjoined Regulations commencing on the 3rd August 1897

The number of persons to be selected at this Examination will be announced hereafter

No person will be admitted to compete from whom the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, has not received, on or before the 31st May 1897, an application on the prescribed form, accompanied by a list of the subjects in which the Candidate desires to be examined

The Order for admission to the Examination will be posted on the 20th July 1897, to the address given on the Form of Application. It will contain instructions as to the time and place at which Candidates will be required to attend, and as to the manner in which the fee (£6) is to be paid

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION,
July 1896

REGULATIONS

* * The following Regulations, made by the Secretary of State for India in Council, are liable to alteration from year to year —

1 An examination for admission to the Civil Service of India, open to all qualified persons, will be held in London in August of each year. The date of the Examination and the number of appointments to be made for each Province will be announced beforehand by the Civil Service Commissioners

2 No person will be deemed qualified who shall not satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners—

(i) that he is a natural born subject of Her Majesty,

(ii) that his age will be above twenty-one years and under twenty three years on the first day of the year in which the Examination is to be held,

[N B —In the case of Natives of India it will be necessary for a Candidate to obtain a certificate of age and nationality signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides or, should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides]

(iii) that he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India,

(iv) that he is of good moral character

3 Should the evidence upon the above points be prima facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the Candidate on payment of the prescribed fee will be admitted to the Examination. The Commissioners may, however in their discretion at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to institute such further enquiries as they may deem necessary and if the result of such enquiries, in the case of any Candidate, should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and, if already selected, will be removed from the position of a Probationer

4 The open Competitive Examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge —

	Marks.

Candidates are at liberty to name any or all of these branches of knowledge (a) No subjects are obligatory

5 The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it

6 The marks assigned to Candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary (b) in order to secure that 'a Candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer'

7 The Examination will be conducted on paper and visd voce, as may be deemed necessary

8 The marks obtained by each Candidate, in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined, will be added up, and the names of the several Candidates who shall have obtained after the deduction above-mentioned, a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates, will be set forth in order of merit and such Candidates shall be deemed to be selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected Candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case, the Candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected Candidate. A Candidate entitled to be deemed a selected Candidate but declining to accept the nomination as such, which may be offered to him, will be disqualified for any subsequent competition

9 Selected Candidates before proceeding to India will be on probation for one year at the end of which time they will be examined with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects (c) —

Compulsory—

7 Chinese (for Candidates assigned to the Province of Burma only)	400

These subjects may not be offered by any Candidate who has offered them at the open competition

In this Examination, as in the open competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the open competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it. The Examination will be conducted on paper and visd voce, as may be deemed necessary. This Examination will be held at the close of the year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination"

10 The selected Candidates will also be tested during their probation as to their proficiency in Reading

(a) A syllabus, defining in general terms the character of the Examination in the various subjects may be obtained on application to the Secretary Civil Service Commission

(b) No deduction will be made from the marks assigned to Candidates in Mathematics or English Composition.

(c) Instructions showing the extent of the Examination will be issued to the successful Candidates as soon as possible after the result of the Open Competition is declared

The examinations in riding will be held as follows —

- (1) Shortly after the result of the open Competitive Examination has been declared, or at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary year
- (2) Again, at the time of the Final Examination, Candidates who may fully satisfy the Commissioners of their ability to ride well and to perform journeys on horseback shall receive a Certificate which shall entitle them to be credited with 200 or 100 marks, according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the Final Examination
- (3) Candidates who fail to obtain this Certificate, but who gain a Certificate of minimum proficiency in riding, will be allowed to proceed to India, but will be subjected on their arrival to such further tests in riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and shall receive no increase to their initial salary until they have passed such tests to the satisfaction of that Government. A Candidate who fails at the end of the year of probation to gain at least the Certificate of minimum proficiency in riding will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected Candidates

11 The selected Candidates who, at the Final Examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9 and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service

12 Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary, Civil Service Commission, London, S W," at any time after the 1st December, in the year previous to that in which the Examination is to be held. The Forms must be returned so as to be received at the office of the Civil Service Commissioners on or before the 31st May (or, if that date should fall upon a Sunday or public holiday, then, on or before the first day thereafter on which their office is open), in the year in which the Examination is to be held

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorised by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements —

- (i) Selected Candidates will be allotted to the various provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration
- (ii) An allowance amounting to £100 will be given to all Candidates who pass their probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz, the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St Andrews and Aberdeen Victoria University, Manchester University College, London, and King's College, London provided such Candidates shall have passed the Final Examination to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have conducted themselves well and complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected Candidates. The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same Institution. Migration will not be permitted except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State
- (iii) The allowance of £100 will not be paid to any selected Candidate until he has been certified by the Civil Service Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India and every Certificated Candidate must, before receiving his allowance, give a written undertaking to refund the amount in the event of his failing to proceed to India
- (iv) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants by which, amongst other things they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1
- (v) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the selected Candidates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open Competitive and Final Examinations
- (vi) Selected Candidates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificate of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct
- (vii) Candidates rejected at the Final Examination held in any year will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re examination

II A Candidate born of European parents in India should be prepared to produce, when required, a Certificate of Baptism from the district in which he was baptised. If this does not also mention the date of birth it should be accompanied by a statutory declaration by one of the Candidate's parents stating the date and place of birth. When such certificates are not in the possession of the Candidates an Extract from the Registers kept at the India Office will probably be obtainable.

III A Candidate who is a Native of India must, before he can be admitted to the Competition, have his age and nationality certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which he may have resided.

[No Certificates except those issued under Notification of the Government of India, No 2252, dated 21st August 1888, will be accepted for this Competition]

Except as noted in paragraphs II and III, every Candidate who proves to be successful is expected to produce a Certificate of Birth. The Civil Service Commissioners will not in ordinary cases accept a Certificate of Baptism, or other testimony, unless they are first satisfied that a Certificate of Birth cannot be procured.

Official Certificates of Birth may generally be obtained as follows —

- (a) For persons born in England or Wales since 30th June 1837 — From the Registrar General, Somerset House, London or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.
- (b) For persons born in Scotland since 31st December 1854 — From the General Register Office, Edinburgh or from the Registrar of the Parish or district in which the birth took place.
- (c) For persons born in Ireland since 31st December 1863 — From the General Register Office, Dublin or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.
- (d) For persons of English, Scottish, or Irish parentage born on board British ships since the dates mentioned in (a) (b) and (c), respectively — From the General Register Office, London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, according to parentage.
- (e) For persons born in India of European parents — From the India Office, London.

Any Candidate who cannot produce a Certificate of Birth from one of the authorities named should, if possible, procure a Certificate of Baptism, and should then apply to the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, for further instructions.

CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA

CLERKSHIPS (CLASS I) IN THE HOME CIVIL SERVICE, AND EASTERN CLERKSHIPS

Syllabus showing the extent of the Examination in certain subjects

English Composition—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper

English Language and Literature—The Examination will be in two Parts. In the one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the accession of Queen Victoria—

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Cowley, Bunyan, Dryden, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Macaulay (Essays and Biographies)

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination which will, however, test how far the Candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English Language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax, and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other year by year in the order indicated—

1	A D 1600 to A D 1700
(1897)	[Shakespeare to Dryden]
2	A D 1700 to A D 1800
(1898)	[Pope to Cowper]
3	A D 1800 to A D 1832
(1899)	[Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott]
4	A D 1360 to A D 1600
(1900)	[Chaucer to Spenser]

The Examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners. The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period and consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1700, all the works of Swift with in the period 1700 to 1800, all the works of Scott and Wordsworth, and all the works of Macaulay within the period 1800 to 1832.

French Language and Literature—Translation from French into English, and from English into French. Critical questions on the French Language and Literature.

German Language and Literature—Translation from German into English, and from English into German. Critical questions on the German Language and Literature.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making
Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 6th September 1896

NO 20 OF 1896

1 Bill to amend Act XXXVII of 1850 (for regulating Inquiries into the behaviour of Public Servants)

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act XXXVII of 1850 (for regulating Inquiries into the behaviour of Public Servants) It is hereby enacted as follows

1 The said Act XXXVII of 1850 may be read for Act XXXVII called the Public Servants (Inquiries) Act 1850

2 In the preamble to the said Act for the words the East India Company the word 'India' shall be substituted

3 In section 2 of the said Act for the words the East India Company, not removable from his office without the sanction of the same Government, the word Government shall be substituted

4 For section 3 of the said Act the following section shall be substituted namely

3 The powers of Government under this Act may in all cases be exercised by the Governor General in Council, and when the person accused can be removed by the Local Government those powers may also be exercised by the Local Government

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

SECTION 3 of Act XXXVII of 1850 (for regulating Inquiries into the behaviour of Public Servants) defines the expression Government as used in that enactment so as to mean the Governor General in Council the Governor or Deputy Governor of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal the Governor in Council of the Presidencies of Fort St George and Bombay respectively and the Lieutenant Governor of the North Western Provinces of Bengal whose sanction is necessary for the removal of the person accused. The language of this section is obscure and refers to an obsolete state of facts. The object of this Bill is to remove doubts which may arise on the construction of this section and to declare by whom the powers of Government may be exercised

2 The opportunity has been taken to furnish Act XXXVII of 1850 with an appropriate title

NEW ZEALAND—STEWART ISLAND, EAST COAST

Amended particulars of Ward Rock

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No 120 dated 19th June 1896, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No 449 of 1896) that the Commander of the New Zealand steam vessel Hinemoa has recently made an examination of the locality, and found Ward rock to consist of several pinnacles in an area half a cable in extent with a least depth of 3½ fathoms at low water springs, and 17 to 20 fathoms close around.

It is situated with Akers point rock bearing S 42° W, distant 1½ miles and south west extreme of Bench island S 50° E.

There is a heavy tide rip over the rock

Approximate position, lat.  $46^{\circ} 53' 15''$  S, long  $168^{\circ} 13' 0''$  E

As this rock is probably identical with the rock marked P D on the Admiralty charts in a position S  $28^{\circ}$  W, distant  $6\frac{1}{2}$  cables from the south extreme of Boat Refuge island, unsuccessfully searched for in that position by H M S Lizard in 1893 and with Ward rock as reported, about three quarters of a mile south eastward of Boat Refuge island in 1896 the rocks marked in each of those positions have been expunged from the Admiralty charts

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SALT DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1895 96

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE

Darjeeling, the 11th September 1896

RESOLUTION—No 3291 F

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of the Salt Department for the year 1895 96

The chief administrative change during the year was the passing of the new Inland Bonded Warehouses Act, VIII of 1896, to provide for the establishment of bonded warehouses at places other than customs ports, and to afford facilities for the bonding of salt in such warehouses. The Act being permissive, salt dealers are at liberty to choose whether they will carry on operations as before under the old Act XXI of 1887, or whether they will avail themselves of the new system of removing and warehousing salt under time bonds. The rules for working the Act are now under consideration. In 1894 95 private warehouses were established by Messrs Turner, Morrison and Company at Khulna and Balasore during the year under review the same firm obtained licenses for warehouses at Bhairab Bazar and Chandbali, and they are now arranging to open a fresh bonded warehouse at Narayanganj. The question of the retransfer of the administration of the Salt Department in Orissa from the Madras Board of Revenue to the Government of Bengal, is now under the consideration of the Government of India, together with other proposals which affect the general salt administration of the Province.

2 The following statement shows the receipts and charges of the Salt Department during each of the last six years —

3 The year shows a further increase of Rs 4,01,941, or 16 per cent, in the receipts, and of Rs 31,388, or 77 per cent, in the charges, the net revenue thus being higher by Rs 3,70,553, or 15 per cent, than in the previous year. The salt revenue, in fact, has for the first time exceeded that collected in 1881-82, the last year in which the duty was levied at Rs 2 14 per maund, when the net revenue amounted to Rs 2,45,24,553. Under the head of import duty, a falling off at Calcutta and Chittagong was more than counterbalanced by the receipts from increased clearances at Balasore, Narainganj, Chandbali, and the bonded warehouses at Khulna and Bhairab Bazar. The revenue from excise salt shows a material improvement owing to the larger sale of salt manufactured at the Government factories in Orissa. There was also a considerable advance in the proceeds from rent of warehouses, owing to the godowns having been fully occupied during the year. The Provincial expenditure on account of salaries, warehouses and rewards shows a small increase of Rs 626.

4 The following statement shows the fluctuations in the volume of the salt trade in Bengal during the last ten years excluding salt imported by land from Ganjam and the Upper Provinces on which duty is not paid in Bengal —

The stock of salt in the golas at the commencement of the year was over 36 lakhs of maunds, an amount far exceeding the opening stock of any of the ter previous years, and at the close of the year this had only been reduced by 92,330 maunds, since the sales during the year did not materially exceed the imports and local manufacture. The quantity of salt lying afloat in the port of Calcutta, ready to be sold direct to purchasers, which at the end of the preceding year amounted to 7,02,189 maunds, dropped during 1895-96 to 1,602 maunds.

5 The combined imports into Calcutta and Chittagong show a net decrease of 26,08,816 maunds, or 20.2 per cent, as compared with the previous year. The decrease was confined to Calcutta, the imports into Chittagong showing the large increase of 2,42,648 maunds. The decline in Calcutta is attributed to the large stock brought forward from the previous year, combined with the low range of prices which prevailed throughout the year and the want of bonding space. The increase of imports into Chittagong is said to be due to the easy state of the Liverpool salt market, to larger sales effected on the opening of the Assam Bengal Railway, and possibly to the fact that ships from salt producing countries, which visited Chittagong for the export trade in rice and jute, and which in 1894-95 had come laden with railway plant, had more space to spare for salt at a lower rate of freight. The shipments of salt were received from the following countries —

Shipments were received for the first time from Muhammad Goul, a port on the Red Sea, while Hamburg salt is reported to have fallen into disfavour with the traders, owing to the fact that if kept in the golas for any length of time, it hardens into a solid mass and is costly to remove. Regarding the demand for foreign salt, Mr Baker, the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, furnishes figures which show that, while the consumption of Liverpool salt shows a decrease of over 4 lakhs during the year, there has been an increase of nearly  $3\frac{3}{4}$  lakhs in the consumption of crushed salt both from shipboard and the golas. Mr Baker writes —

“Karkach salt both crushed at the golas and that which is imported ready crushed from Aden is gradually gaining ground and supplanting Liverpool salt. Karkach salt imported from Red Sea ports and crushed at the golas closely resembles Panga (Hamburg and Liverpool), and is sold at a much cheaper rate. At present the difference per 100 maunds between Liverpool and crushed Karkach is Rs 20. There is no doubt that the dealers take advantage of the close resemblance between the two descriptions to pass off crushed Karkach as Liverpool or Hamburg, and also to mix the two descriptions of salt.

6 Including 1,22,593 maunds of Bombay and Madras salt cleared free of duty in Calcutta duty was paid on 64,64,797 maunds cleared from shipboard, against 69,40,850 maunds cleared in the previous year, while the clearances from bond rose from 34,81,646 to 39,01,385 maunds. Nineteen thousand four hundred maunds were cleared for the first time from the newly established bonded warehouse at Bharab Bazar, and the other warehouses at Khulna, Balasore and Chandbali show clearances of 19,650 and 92,694 maunds respectively, against 400 each in the previous year. On the whole, the total clearances of all kinds, including those of excise salt, fell from 1,04,61,216 to 1,04,41,017 maunds.

7 Deducting from the above clearances the excess of exports from Bengal by land and river over the imports by the same routes, amounting to 9,07,518 maunds, and adding 33,964 maunds of saltpetre salt brought into use the balance of salt left for consumption in the province fell from 97,80,674 maunds in 1894-95 to 90,67,463 in the year under review. The rate of consumption per head, after allowing for a yearly rate of increase of 7 per mille in the population since last census in place of the excessive rate of 10 1/2 per mille hitherto adopted works out to 4 seers 15 chitaks, against 5 seers 1 chitak in 1894-95. In the saliferous districts, excluding Orissa, there was a net decrease of 8,232 maunds in the consumption of licit salt, and the average consumption fell from 5 seers 4 chitaks to 5 seers 2 chitaks. As in 1894-95, the lowest rates were in Midnapore (4 seers 8 chitaks) and the 24 Parganas (4 seers 13 chitaks), the former district showing an increase of consumption as compared with the previous year. It is remarked that the figures for Midnapore do not represent the total consumption, since several large marts are situated close to the border of the saliferous tract and salt sold at these is consumed within salt law limits. In Midnapore, indeed, there is some question whether illicit manufacture for the purpose of sale prevails extensively enough to cause serious loss to the revenue, but Mr Ashton's inquiries render it probable that a considerable amount of smuggling is carried on in the southern portion of the 24 Parganas, and this belief is strengthened by the Board's remarks in paragraph 17 of their report. It is there observed that the short rainfall rendered the high tides of autumn more saline than usual, and that this, coupled with deficient harvests, gave an impetus to illicit manufacture during the year under review. The Sundarbans and the country bordering on them afford special facilities not only for making illicit salt, but for conveying it into the interior of the 24 Parganas and the neighbouring districts through a network of rivers and khals which cannot be effectually watched by the ordinary police. The temporary employment of a special staff of police under a qualified Assistant Superintendent was lately sanctioned for the purpose of making an enquiry into the extent to which illicit manufacture in the southern portions of the 24 Parganas has been carried on, and the Commissioner of the Sundarbans was also instructed to enquire into and report on the same subject. The Lieutenant Governor is awaiting the result of these enquiries. Various causes, which do not call for special notice, are assigned for the decline of consumption in the rest of the salt bearing districts. Orissa shows a slight falling off in consumption from 9 28 lbs to 9 20 lbs, the decrease, however, is more nominal than real, as the consumption appears to have been over stated in 1894 95

8 Statements A and B appended to the Board's report give for the last two years the wholesale price of salt at monthly intervals in the bazar of district head quarters, and at fortnightly intervals in certain selected marts. The prices on the whole were generally lower than in the previous year, the decrease being due to abundant supplies. The average wholesale price (exclusive of duty) of 100 maunds of Liverpool salt purchased from the ship's side in the port of Calcutta fell from Rs 60 10 6 to Rs 57 14, a decrease of 3 pice per maund, while the actual price ranged from Rs 81 2 8 to Rs 44 0 6. In explanation of this marked variation, the Collector of Customs observes

"Owing to the action of certain importers during the year 1894 95, when it is believed that attempts were made to make a corner in salt the imports were in excess of the demand and all the available bonding space was monopolised. The effect of this was to compel other importers during a period of 1895 96 to sell their salt at a sacrifice from shipboard no bonding space being available and there being no other alternative. The direct effect of this was that imports have been checked and the average price of Liverpool salt from the golas, which touched Rs 45 per 100 maunds in the month of November 1895, has now risen to Rs 83."

The average wholesale price including duty, at the nine chief marts of Bengal decreased from Rs 3 9 1 to Rs 3 7 5, or 1 anna 8 pice per maund. The corresponding average based on the wholesale prices of all the districts in Bengal fell from Rs 3 12 10 to Rs 3 11 1 per maund, a decline of 1 anna and 9 pice. From the foregoing figures the Board infer that while the dealer bought his salt from the importer at an average reduction of 5 pice only as compared with the previous year, he had to pass it on to the consumer at a reduction of 1 anna 9 pice, but this conclusion can hardly be pressed, as the average of prices at the ship's side relates only to Liverpool salt, while the average of wholesale prices quoted for the districts includes all the different kinds of salt, and more over represents the sales, not to the actual consumers, but to the middlemen, from whom the consumers procure their supplies.

9 The total imports from Madras the Upper Provinces and Assam of duty paid salt fell from 4,29,120 to 3,83,940 maunds during the year, the decrease being due to the lower prices of foreign salt. For the same reason the exports from Bengal to Assam, Northern India, and Foreign States beyond the northern border, rose from 11,36,837 to 12,91,453 maunds, giving an excess over the imports of 9,07,518 maunds, against 7,07,717 maunds in 1894 95.

10 The number of cases in which contraband salt was confiscated including those in the Orissa districts, fell from 1,098 to 504 during the past year, and the quantity confiscated from 296 to 161 maunds. In Midnapore there were 59 cases against 227 in the previous year, but the quantity seized amounted to 10 17 7 maunds, against 7 18 15 maunds in the previous year. Of this quantity, 9 2 1 maunds were seized in cases of illicit manufacture, and 2 15 8 maunds in cases of illicit possession and transport. In the 24 Parganas the quantity confiscated fell from 30 15 4 maunds to 20 36 14 maunds, 13 26 6 maunds having been seized for illicit manufacture and 7 10 3 maunds for illicit possession and transport. In Orissa there was a decrease of 68 8 per cent in the number of seizures and of 83 3 per cent in the quantity of salt confiscated. The number of cases instituted in the Courts throughout Bengal was 506, chiefly for illicit manufacture and possession or transport, against 967 in 1894 95, a decrease occurring in all the salt districts except the 24 Parganas and Backergunge, which show an increase of 18 and 17 respectively. One of the reasons given by the Collector of Midnapore for the large decrease (146) in the number of cases instituted is the inadequacy of the detective establishment, but the Board point out that there has been no change in the strength of the establishment since 1894 95. The decline of 270 cases in Orissa is attributed by the Board "partly to the improved condition of the people and partly to constant patrols of the officers of the Salt Department and the punishments awarded by the Magistrates."

Of 72 cases sent up for trial with evidence of illicit manufacture in the Orissa districts, 15 were for the possession of earth salt, 26 for the possession of salt earth, and 31 for the possession of brine. Taking all the saliferous tracts together, there were 487 seizures and 101 unsuccessful searches against 1,054 and 134 respectively in the previous year. Out of a total of 513 persons apprehended, 469 were convicted, and the rewards disbursed amounted to Rs 2,721.

11 In accordance with custom, the Board devote a separate part of their report to the administration of the Salt Department in Orissa. Karkach salt was manufactured under the direct management of Government at the factories of Gurubai and Tua on the Chilka Lake. The Madras Salt authorities give a good account of the Gurubai factory, but the quantity manufactured at Tua was only 53,214 maunds, against 92,307 in the previous year. At this factory the soil is said to be subject to constant saturation with fresh water, and the climate is unsuitable for the manufacture of salt by solar evaporation, while the salt makers (mulangis) are really agriculturists who only work at the factories when there is no work in the fields, and even then require an exceptionally high rate of remuneration. The Commissioner of Salt Revenue, Madras, and the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, recommend, however, that the decision of the question whether the factories on the Chilka should be abandoned should be deferred until the close of the current manufacturing season, and until it is known what effect the East Coast Railway will have on the sales of salt manufactured at these factories. The Lieutenant Governor accepts this recommendation.

The receipts of the Orissa Salt Department rose from Rs 1,06,406 to Rs 2,05,432, while the expenditure fell from Rs 1,54,023 to Rs 1,48,880. The percentage of the charges to the receipts thus amounted to Rs 72 4. The following statement shows the consumption of salt during the last five years, and its rate per head of the population, allowance being made for a yearly increase of 7 per mille upon the figures of the census of 1891 —

12 The thanks of the Lieutenant Governor are due to the Board for their careful supervision of the Department.

The total fall of rain from 13th to 19th September 1896

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years Surveyor General's Office

The total fall from 1st January to 19th September 1896

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor General's Office

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Low Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain gauge is one foot above the ground.

ORDERS BY THE LIEUT-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL

NOTIFICATION

No 667 T M—The 25th September 1896—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant Governor intends, in the exercise of the power conferred on him by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884 as amended by Bengal Act IV of 1894 to make the following rules and to impose the following conditions subject to which the Commissioners of the Hwrah Municipality may allow the owners and occupiers of holdings paying a water rate to lay down communication pipes from the service pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to their premises for domestic purposes unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification within the aforesaid Municipality —

I—So long as the supply of water permits the Commissioners will allow the owners and occupiers of houses paying the water rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 to lay down communication pipes at their own expense from the service pipes of the Commissioners, for bringing a supply of water into their lands and houses for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions —

(1) The owner or occupier of any house or land, requiring water to be laid on for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to the existing water supply, must apply for the same in a printed form, to be supplied to him free of cost at the Commissioners Office

(2) Every communication pipe must be capable of withstanding a pressure of a column of water 200 feet in height and must be laid at least two feet below the surface of the ground and above ground it must be screened, wherever practicable from exposure to the sun

(3) In every instance the communication pipe must be connected to a service pipe, and not to a main, by a ferrule and screw coupling, to be supplied by the Commissioners on payment of such prices as they may fix from time to time

(4) Whenever a communication pipe has to be laid across a sewer or open drain or in any place, where in the opinion of the Commissioners it is liable to injury such pipe must be passed through a cast iron pipe of sufficient length and strength, to afford due protection to the communication pipe

(5) On every communication pipe a brass stop cock, having the same waterway as the pipe, shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where the said pipe enters the house or premises to be supplied. It shall be provided with a surface cover box resting on brick work foundations to indicate its situation, and shall be so designed that it can be locked and the key of it shall remain under the control of the Engineer. The stop cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the house may be regulated by it

(6) Every tap or cock in any communication pipe shall have a waterway at least equal to that of the pipe in which it is fixed, and to ensure water tightness, it shall be of brass, and of the kind called screwdown

(7) No connection shall be made between a communication pipe and any supply pipe, except in the presence of the Engineer, or a Water works Inspector

II —The pipes and fittings for house service shall consist of six sections —

- (1) The ferrule connecting the communication pipe with the supply pipe
- (2) The communication pipe from the ferrule to the stop cock
- (3) The service pipe or pipes from the stop cock to the taps
- (4) The taps
- (5) The stop cock boxes
- (6) The meter and its fittings, if provided

III —(a) The fittings shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Engineer and approved of by him

(b) Each fitting shall conform to the following specifications —

(1) The ferrule —The ferrule must be of brass or gun metal and of the best workmanship and finish, and be screwed into the supply pipe. The inside of the ferrule to be accurately bored to the fixed dimensions. The ferrule to be covered with an iron bell cover resting on the supply pipe

(2) Pipes —The diameter of the communication pipe shall be determined by the Engineer with reference to the head of pressure prevailing in the section of the town in which the connection is made, due regard being given to the quantity of water required

All pipes shall be of galvanized iron. They shall be new and capable of withstanding a pressure of a column of water 200 feet in height, and of a quality approved by the Engineer

The piping shall be at least of the following weights —

$\frac{1}{2}$ inch pipe	2½ lbs per yard
$\frac{3}{4}$ " "	3½ " "
1 " "	5½ " "
1½ " "	7½ " "
1¾ " "	9½ " "

No more bends or elbows than are absolutely necessary shall be allowed. No bend by heating, and no gradual bend or long sweep, such as to cause risk of splitting, shall be allowed

The point of discharge of all pipes shall be above ground and visible to the occupier of the house and the Water works Inspector

(3) The meter —If a meter is provided by the Commissioners, it shall be placed as near to the stop cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined and no meter shall be fixed under ground unless in a brick well. No meter shall be disconnected from the service pipe, or in any way interfered with except with the permission of the Engineer

IV —Testing and proving water fittings —All fittings used in connection with a supply of water shall be tested and stamped by an officer of the Commissioners before being fixed, and the following fees shall be charged for testing, —

Stop cock boxes	2 annas
Bib and stop taps	3 " "
Bath fittings	4 " "
Ball taps	5 " "

Samples of standard fittings, approved by the Engineer, shall be provided by the Commissioners, and exhibited in the Municipal Office. Any fittings presented for approval shall if considered satisfactory by the Engineer, be stamped and samples thereof be purchased and placed among the standard fittings

The test mark shall be—

No fitting which is not stamped with the name of the maker shall be tested

V —Size of ferrule —The size of ferrule shall be principally regulated by the annual valuation of the premises in accordance with the following scale —

Annual valuation		Diameter of ferrule
Not exceeding Rs 50		$\frac{1}{8}$ "
Exceeding " 50 but not exceeding Rs 100		$\frac{1}{4}$ "
Ditto " 100	ditto " 200	$\frac{3}{8}$ "
Ditto " 200	ditto " 400	$\frac{1}{2}$ "
Ditto " 400	ditto " 800	$\frac{3}{4}$ "
Ditto " 800	ditto " 1,500	1'

VI —Adjustment of discharge of stop cock —As far as possible the stop cock shall be adjusted by the Engineer so that the discharge shall be in accordance with the quantity of water allowed on the water rate paid but where the supply is controlled by a meter, this will be unnecessary

VII—(a) Number of taps—The following shall be the number of taps that may be allowed to premises —

Annual valuation	No of taps
Not exceeding Rs 200	2
Exceeding „ 200 but not exceeding Rs 300	3
Ditto „ 300 ditto „ 500	4
Ditto „ 500 ditto „ 900	5
Ditto „ 900 ditto „ 1,200	6

If the valuation exceeds Rs 1 200 there shall be no limit to the number

(b) No person shall be allowed to have more taps than the number he is entitled to unless he puts up a water meter at his own expense

VIII—Every house shall have its own separate service, and no house shall, unless with the sanction of the Commissioners have more than one communication pipe, either from the supply pipe, or from the adjoining premises

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No 120 dated 19th June 1896, issued by this office the British Admiralty has given further notice (No 449 of 1896) that the Commander of the New Zealand steam vessel Hinemoa has recently made an examination of the locality, and found Ward rock to consist of several pinnacles in an area half a cable in extent with a least depth of  $3\frac{1}{2}$  fathoms at low water springs, and 17 to 20 fathoms close around.

It is situated with Akers point rock bearing S  $42^{\circ}$  W, distant  $1\frac{1}{10}$  miles and south west extreme of Bench island S  $50^{\circ}$  E

There is a heavy tide rip over the rock

- Approximate position, lat  $46^{\circ} 53' 15''$  S long  $168^{\circ} 13' 0''$  E

As this rock is probably identical with the rock marked P D on the Admiralty charts in a position S  $28^{\circ}$  W, distant  $6\frac{1}{2}$  cables from the south extreme of Boat Refuge island, unsuccessfully searched for in that position by H M S Lizard in 1893 and with Ward rock as reported about three quarters of a mile south eastward of Boat Refuge island in 1896 the rocks marked in each of those positions have been expunged from the admiralty charts

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BURDWAN DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1895 96

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS

Dated 1st, the 28th September 1896

RESOLUTION—No 312

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Burdwan Division for the year 1895 96

The Commissioner reports that most of the district reports were received late, and his own report to Government was in consequence delayed. The Lieutenant Governor hopes that more punctuality will be shown by the officers concerned in future.

This Division was for the greater part of the year in the charge of Mr J A Bourdillon. He took charge on the 9th April 1895 from Mr L C Dutt C I F, was on leave for about a month, when Mr H C Williams officiated, and made over charge to Mr C E Buckland, C I E, on 17th March 1896. Mr Buckland, who submits the report, was thus under the disadvantage of having served in the Division only for the last 15 days of the year under report. In all the districts except Birbhum and Howrah there were several changes of District Officers.

2 Tours and Inspections—The Commissioner was on tour in all the districts of the Division, and inspected the offices at all head quarters stations except Burdwan, and all the subdivisional offices, except those at Vishnupur and Jahanabad. He also visited six municipalities besides those at the head-quarters of districts and subdivisions.

All the District and Subdivisional Officers spent the prescribed number of days in camp, and the only offices of which they did not make the full number of inspections required by the orders of Government were the Hooghly Collectorate, the Burdwan treasury, and the Vishnupur subdivisional office. Each of these was inspected only once. The Government and Wards' estates under direct management of Government in this Division are large and particularly important, but it is not stated whether they were inspected, as they ought to have been under Government orders.

3 Weather and Crops — The Commissioner sums up the conditions of the year in this respect as one of short rainfall and poor crops. The monsoon broke somewhat late and ceased early. The rainfall was short and unevenly distributed in every district, and the divisional mean was more than 17 inches below that of 1894-95, with the result that the harvests were generally scanty and the usually abundant supply of drinking water deficient in some parts of the division. Sugarcane is the only crop that appears to have done well generally. The Contai subdivision, which in ordinary years is partially waterlogged, is said to have benefited by the scanty rainfall, while the Ghatal subdivision suffered most from it. In spite of a poor harvest, it is reported that the material condition of the people was good. The prices of food grains ruled fairly low, being probably influenced by reserves from the good crop of the previous year, and there was plenty of work available for the labouring classes both in the factories about Calcutta and in the railways now under construction. Mr Buckland is probably right in thinking that the unfavourable agricultural outturn of the year affected most severely the lower middle classes with small fixed incomes.

4 Public Health and Sanitation — The year 1895 was an unhealthy one, and the ratio of reported deaths per mille of population was 31.7. The number of deaths from cholera was, however, less by about one seventh than in the year 1894, and it is satisfactory to note that the health of the important towns of Burdwan, Bankura, Midnapore, and Hooghly showed a decided improvement. The recorded death rate in Bankura town was as low as 23.3 per mille. Much inconvenience and sickness were caused by the scarcity of drinking water towards the close of the year. Steps were taken by District Boards and Municipalities to improve the water supply, and it is hoped that more extended and systematic efforts in this direction will be put forth in the near future, but, as the Commissioner remarks, no great amelioration in this direction can be expected until the people understand the elementary principles of sanitation, and themselves realize the benefit of enforcing them. The orders issued by Government with a view to check the practice of throwing dead bodies into rivers will, it is hoped, effect some good. The Howrah water works were completed and opened by His Honour the Lieutenant Governor during the year, and other municipalities spent small sums on potty sanitary works.

5 Emigration and Immigration — The number of emigrants registered for the tea districts was about two and half times as great as in the previous year, and it is believed that the emigration of "free" coolies has increased in the same proportion. More than 12,350 coolies of all classes are believed to have passed through the Raniganj and Asansol depôts. An Assistant Surgeon has been appointed to those places as Assistant Superintendent of Emigration, who will supervise the treatment in transit of these large numbers. It is hoped that this appointment will do much good. But the Lieutenant Governor is disposed to agree with the view taken by the recent Labour Commission that a much closer control over so called free emigration is urgently called for.

In Bankura recruitment by garden sardars is said to be gradually superseding recruitment by arkatis, who are looked upon with the greatest fear and suspicion, both in Bankura and Burdwan a considerable number of cases were instituted against persons of this class.

The mines and factories in the Division attract large numbers of labourers from the North Western Provinces and elsewhere. Generally they return home after short periods, but those who work in the mines about Raniganj gradually settle down there.

6 Manufactures, Mines, Trades and Commerce — The chief articles of manufacture are silk and tasar, jute, cotton, molasses, lac, rope, brass and hardware, indigo paper, pottery and iron. The silk and hardware industries are steadily declining, and the same remarks are made with regard to the weaving of cotton cloth, but the figures given do not show the outturn of indigenous looms separately from that of the mills Messrs Burn and Company's potteries at Raniganj show an outturn more than doubled, and the other principal industries seem to be steadily progressing, though comparative statistics are not available for all of them

The quantity of coal raised was large, and prices are said to have fallen. The output in the calendar year 1895 was 1,582,499 tons

A comprehensive statement of the principal imports and exports by rail, river and canal is given for the first time in accordance with recent orders of Government. District Officers have been unable to review these figures in detail, presumably because they were received too late. The imports amounted to 132½ lakhs of maunds, and the exports to nearly 321 lakhs. It is only in respect of the trade between Calcutta and the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum, Midnapore and Hooghly that the statistics can be compared with those of previous years, and in them there was a considerable falling off both in imports and exports. The total exports of rice and paddy exceeded the imports by nearly 49 lakhs of maunds, in spite of the poor harvest. On the other hand, there was a net surplus import of pulses, wheat, and other food grains exceeding 6 lakhs of maunds, but even taking this into account, it is a striking fact that the Burdwan Division should be able to spare for export so very large a quantity of foodstuffs as 43 lakhs of maunds, in a year when the crops are below the normal, and that no serious rise in prices should ensue. The figures are, however, of doubtful accuracy, and should, as the Commissioner remarks, be carefully examined by District Officers in future years.

7 Vital statistics—It is satisfactory to note that greater attention has been paid to the recording of birth and death statistics, and that omissions to report were promptly dealt with. The Commissioner considers, however, that the wide variations between the statistics recorded for different towns show that there is still considerable room for improvement. That this is so is clear, too, from the preponderance of deaths over births as recorded in the districts of Burdwan and Hooghly and in almost all the municipalities. It is incredible that such a preponderance exists in fact throughout any large areas, or could be brought about by any form of unhealthiness short of a devastating epidemic. His Honour trusts that the continued efforts of District Officers may in time succeed in establishing an approximately complete system of registration.

8 Crime, Police, Criminal Justice—Both cognizable and non cognizable crime showed an increase, of each description rather more than 20,000 cases were reported, but of the non cognizable cases about 8,000 were connected with sanitary matters and do not come under the category of crime, properly so called. More than 96 per cent of all cases reported were found to be true, 752 were declared false, and in 83 of these prosecutions were instituted under section 211 Penal Code, but convictions were obtained only in 24. In a large proportion of cases (610 per cent) the police refused enquiry. Mr Bourdillon drew the attention of Magistrates to this matter.

More than half the cases sent up by the police for trial were disposed of at the first hearing, and only 7 per cent were remanded four times or more. In this matter Hooghly has contributed to raise the standard of the Division, and Burdwan to lower it. In Burdwan 146 of the cases were remanded four times or more, and it is difficult to assign any reason but dilatoriness for a state of things so different from that which prevails in the surrounding districts.

Of the cases committed to the sessions for trial 617 resulted in conviction. Altogether about 25,000 cases were tried, and of these Honorary Magistrates disposed of 9900. Over 31,000 persons were tried, and 70 per cent of them convicted, nearly 62,000 witnesses were examined, and of this large number only 3 per cent were detained more than two days. Fines to the amount of Rs 1,00,800 were imposed during the year, Rs 96,000 were collected out of the total demand, and the large sum of Rs 17,000 had to be remitted. The aid given by Honorary Magistrates and Benches has been most useful, but the Lieutenant Governor regrets to notice that their attendance in some places was irregular. The average number of cases disposed of by each Magistrate was larger, and the percentage of their decisions confirmed on appeal was somewhat less, while the percentage of witnesses detained for more than two days was slightly larger than in the previous year, and so far there has been retrogression instead of improvement, but on the whole the administration of criminal justice appears to have been fairly satisfactory.

With regard to the police, the criticisms of Magistrates are directed mainly to the evil effects of frequent transfers upon the discipline and local knowledge and influence of the force, and there can be no doubt, as remarked by the Magistrate of Birbhum, that too frequent changes of officers both in the higher and lower grades must seriously impair its efficiency. The Lieutenant Governor notices with regret the unfavourable comments made by District Officers on the new class of Sub Inspectors, who it is said, do not mix freely with the people, and report a number of cases as true which they should send up for trial but do not send up. One of the objects of the late reorganization of the police was to improve the personnel of the force, and the Lieutenant Governor hopes with the Commissioner that under proper advice and guidance, the new Sub Inspectors will be found capable in time, of being turned to good account. Satisfactory progress was made in the resumption of chaukidari chakran lands, and the introduction of Act VI of 1870 in all the districts but Burdwan. The number of chakran chaukidars was reduced by more than one tenth during the year, but there are still nearly 20,000 of them in the Division.

9 Land Revenue — There was a falling off in the collections of land revenue, road cess, zamindari dik cess and embankment cess, as compared with the previous year. Out of a total demand, current and arrear, of Rs 1,00,06,698, a sum of Rs 93,77,800 or 93 per cent, was collected, and Rs 46,670 remitted, the balance being Rs 6,28,770.

In the permanently settled estates the percentage of current land revenue collections on current demand reached the prescribed standard of 99 per cent in Burdwan, Birbhum, and Bankura. In Midnapore and Howrah and Hooghly it was 97 and 98 per cent respectively. So far the results in permanently settled estates are not unsatisfactory.

But in temporarily settled estates the collections were far below the standard, except in Birbhum, where, however, the revenue from this class of estates is trifling.

The percentages of collections on current demands in the temporarily settled estates in the different districts, as compared with the standard of 90 per cent, are as follows —

Burdwan	48 4
Birbhum	100 00
Bankura	69 1
Midnapore	87 1
Hooghly }
Howrah }	70 6

In the case of the khas mahals the realisations amounted to only 56 per cent of the total demand in Midnapore, and this, though the subdivision of Contai, in which the principal estates managed direct by Government are situated, is said to have benefited by the scanty rainfall.

There is much room for improvement in the land revenue administration of this division as a whole, collections in estates managed by Government and in Wards' estates are far below the prescribed standards, frauds have been discovered in the land revenue accounts of some districts, road cess valuations have been badly made, and the number of compulsory processes for realisation of rents and revenue, though reduced during the year under report, is still very great. The present Commissioner and District Officers are not responsible for these defects, but the rectification of them requires their unremitting attention.

10 Wards' Estates — There were 8 estates in the division under the Court of Wards, against 9 in the previous year. The percentage of total collections on total demands (i.e. current and arrear) in the Burdwan Raj estates, including the Sujamutha estate, amounted to nearly 60 per cent, whilst the collections in the estates in the district of Midnapore varied from only 5 to 68 per cent and those in the two estates in Bankura and Howrah were 59 and 50 per cent respectively. The collections in the Burdwan Raj estates amounted to nearly 96 per cent, on the total current demand—a fairly satisfactory result. The outstanding arrears in wards' estates in this Division are very heavy, and should, if irrecoverable by legal process or if beyond the ability of the raiyats to pay, be remitted, as frequently ordered by Government, as there is no object in showing them year after year in the accounts if they cannot be paid.

11 Excise, Stamps, Income tax—The total excise revenue was Rs 13,30,000, showing an increase of nearly a lakh, the incidence being now 2 annas 9 pies per head of population. The revenue from country spirit was highest in Burdwan, but illicit distillation appears still to be common both in that district and in Midnapore. A revenue of Rs 19,18,000 was derived from stamps, being Rs 31,000 less than in 1894-95. The income tax yielded Rs 2,32,000, the percentage of collection on the final demand being as high as 99.5.

12 Communications—Two new branch lines—the Toposi branch of the East Indian Railway and the Bengal Provincial Railway from Mugia to Tarkeswar—have been opened during the year. Other new lines have been projected, and lands are being acquired for the Sini Midnapore Cuttack Railway. No new roads have been made, but some existing roads have been metalled, and some have been bridged.

13 Education—There were 11,000 schools with 303,000 pupils at the close of the year, being 200 schools and 7,800 pupils less than at the close of the preceding year. Of the total number of boys of a school-going age, 73.4 per cent were at school, last year the percentage was 54.1. 18,500 girls went to school. The total expenditure rose, in spite of the decrease of pupils, by Rs 5,000 to 11½ lakhs. It is satisfactory that the municipalities have been able generally to give increased grants towards primary education, but the District Boards of Burdwan and Bankura have curtailed their grants for some reason unassigned.

Twenty nine thousand of the pupils at school were Muhammadans, most of these, the Commissioner remarks, were receiving primary education. The District Board of Hooghly has transferred two of its model schools to purely Muhammadan centres.

The Lieutenant Governor is pleased to notice the good reports of the college kept up by the Burdwan Raj, and of the Raja of Maisadal's technical school.

14 Dispensaries and Hospitals—The institutions kept up by the Burdwan Raj are again distinguished, and the success of the municipal dispensary at Burdwan has rewarded the interest taken in it by the Municipal Commissioners and Civil Surgeon. Other successful dispensaries are maintained by zamindars at Hetampur, Chuckdighi, Ayodhya, Kunahat, Amiaoria, Shampur, Naya ban, and elsewhere. It is to be regretted that the District Board's dispensaries in Hooghly are not more popular.

15 Local Self Government Institutions—The work of District Boards is well spoken of by their Chairman, but not so that of the Local Boards, whose responsibilities are thought to exceed their power. Mr Bright, Magistrate of Midnapore, reports unfavourably of their management of pounds and of the village road grants (as do other Magistrates), and says that he was able during the recent water scarcity to derive no help from their advice.

The same officer has, however, been struck with the interest shown by the leading members of the new Union Committees in his district, of which there are six. Six have also been formed in Burdwan, four in Hooghly, and four in Howrah, except in Burdwan, they began work during the year, and some have already excavated tanks.

The Howrah Municipality has incurred a debt of fifteen lakhs of rupees for its new water-works. It is hoped that the Commissioners will be able to secure the regular repayment of the loan. A special auditor had to be appointed by Government to adjust the accounts of the Burdwan Municipality, which were in great disorder. The smaller municipalities have been managed with fair success, but the Magistrates of Midnapore and Hooghly deplore the factious spirit which prevails in some of them.

16 Landlord and Tenant—The relations between landlords and tenants were, with a few exceptions, satisfactory, and the liberality and good management of Raja Jyoti Prosad Garga, of Maisadal, are specially noticed.

17 The Lieutenant Governor desires to thank Mr Bourdillon for his careful administration of the Division and Mr Buckland for his clear and interesting report, from which extracts are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

M FINUCANE,

Offg Secretary to the Government of Bengal

Extracts from the Annual General Administration Report of the Burdwan Division
for the year 1895 96

IV—PUBLIC HEALTH

30 The following table shows the number of deaths from different diseases in the districts of this Division during the year as compared with the mortuary figures of the preceding two years —

31 The year under review was more unhealthy than the preceding two years. The districts of this Division are more or less subject to malaria, and fever as usual claimed the largest number of victims. With the exception of Bankura and Midnapore, the death-rate exceeded 30 per

Towns	Death rate per mille		mille in all the districts. It may, however, be noted that while the mortality in the rural area has increased, that in the urban tract has generally decreased. The health of some of the important municipal towns named in the margin show a decided improvement in this respect, while the contrary is the case with Howrah and a few other towns.
	1894 95	1895 96
Burdwan	45.8	42.4
Bankura	34.4	23.3
Midnapore	42.9	35.4
Hooghly	47.8	41.3

32 In Burdwan the general health of the district was as bad as in 1894 the mortality in some of the thanas, viz, Raina, Khandaghosh, Kalna and Jamalpur being very heavy. The number of deaths from cholera shows a slight increase, the mortality from small pox, which prevailed more largely during the period under review than in any of the previous four years, increased considerably. The largest number of deaths was, as usual, due to fever, the district being notoriously malarious. Mr Windsor, the late Magistrate, observes —

“The effects of fever can be seen even by a layman when passing through the district. I was struck by the aspect of the children in some villages in Purbusthal and Satgaohia thanas. They looked as though they had been born and bred in fever, as very likely they have been. If sanitary drainage can relieve the people from the burden of ill health from which they suffer, an effort in that direction should certainly be made. Owing to the poor rainfall and the diminished supply of good drinking water, there has been a number of deaths from cholera in the last few months, and I anticipate that the year 1896 97 will be a memorable cholera year, unless there are heavy storms in April and May.”

Luckily the rainfall in May was good, and the anxiety about scarcity of drinking water and the prevalence of famine soon passed away.

33 In Birbhum the public health was comparatively better than in the preceding year, but it was by no means absolutely good.

34 In Bankura there was also some improvement in the health of the people, and there was a decrease in the number of deaths from fever, cholera and other complaints. Cholera, however, was prevalent almost all over the Vishnupur subdivision, and special measures were adopted by the District Board under the guidance of the Magistrate. Scarcity of good drinking water is believed to have been one of the causes of the outbreak of this disease.

35 In Midnapore the year was more unhealthy than the previous two years. Malarial fever was as bad as it was during 1894-95, the mortality being heaviest during November and December, when more than seventeen thousand persons were carried off by the disease. As usual, some of the rural tracts suffered most heavily. Cholera prevailed almost throughout the year, the most affected localities being the rural areas of Dantan, Maisadal, Contai and Nundigram. Deaths from small pox also show a large increase. The disease was believed to be imported from Calcutta, and prevailed with most fatal results during March and June. Steps were taken to arrest the progress of the disease by means of vaccination.

36 In Hooghly, too, the public health was worse than in the preceding year. Cholera and fever raged with unusual severity, but, with the exception of Serampore, Baidyabati and Kotrang, the mortality in the municipal areas was lower than in 1894. The prevalence of those diseases is attributed primarily to the scarcity of drinking water towards the close of the year when a wave of cholera passed over the district from north west to south east. The ravages caused by this pestilence in Serampore and its neighbourhood were distressing and serious in the extreme. Every precaution was taken to lessen the death rate. Dr. Haffkine came up from Calcutta and inoculated a large number of coolies with successful results.

37 In Howrah there was a large increase in the number of deaths, the ratio per mille having risen from 27 to 33. In the town area the ratio of deaths was 42 against 25 per mille in 1894. This increase is attributed partly to better registration and partly to the unhealthiness of the year, caused, it is believed, by the early stoppage of the rains.

38 Much inconvenience and sickness was no doubt caused by the scarcity of drinking water, which was experienced in all the districts of the Division towards the close of the year, and yet not only was nothing done by the people themselves to improve the water supply, but they did all they could to render what little water still remained unfit for human consumption. The description given by the Magistrate of Birbhum of the tanks in that district is so true that it may be quoted as applicable to those in other parts of the Division. Mr. Drake Brockman writes —

“Most villages are provided with sufficient tanks, but their state is deplorable, due to neglect and to the habits of the people who use the banks and even the water for the calls of nature. It is impossible to walk along the banks of any tank in this district without being offended by sight and smell.”

39 Steps were taken to some extent by District Boards and Municipalities to improve the water supply, but such efforts, considering the limited means at the disposal of these bodies, can at best but afford partial relief, and no real amelioration in this direction can be expected until the people understand the elementary principles of sanitation, and realize the benefit of enforcing them in their own households.

The practice of throwing dead bodies into rivers has been another source of nuisance, but Government has already issued orders in their Resolution No. 546, dated 28th January 1896, with a view to stop the evil.

40 The Municipality of Burdwan spent Rs. 2,454 in constructing drains, filling up filthy tanks, and reducing the height of a road. The Raniganj Municipality spent nearly four thousand rupees in the improvement of drainage and the re-excavation of tanks. Small sums were spent in Kalna for the purpose of making a sanitary survey of the town, and preparing a plan and estimate of a connected system of drainage. In Katwa the preliminary survey and levelling of the town were carried out at a cost of Rs. 1,000. In the small Municipality of

Sanitary works

Dainhat a tank was re excavated at a cost of Rs 1,000, and the drainage scheme of the town was completed

41 The Suri Municipality in Birbhum carried out the suggestions made by the Magistrate and the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner for the sanitary improvement of that town. The survey and levelling of the existing drains still remain incomplete, and an attempt to carry out preliminary work resulted in failure. Mr. Diak Brockman notices the want of any sanitation in the rural area, where it is a general practice on the part of the villagers to store their manure and other rubbish close to their houses and by the sides of dirty hollows, the water of which is used for all purposes by the owners.

42 Bankura is naturally well off in respect of drainage. The District Board have therefore decided not to initiate any measures under the Sanitary Drainage Bill at present. The District Board spent Rs 896 in sanitary improvements, but, in the absence of any funds or inspecting agency, no systematic attempt was made during the year to improve sanitation in rural areas.

43 In Midnapore the sanitation of the town appears to have been generally good during the year and efforts were made to improve the conservancy of the town. Attention was paid to water supply by the reservation of tanks, &c.

44 In Hooghly the municipalities devoted a fair share of their income to sanitation, and the conservancy arrangements are good so far as they go, but there is still much room for improvement. An elaborate drainage scheme for the town of Hooghly was drawn up by the Sanitary Engineer some time ago, but the estimated cost having proved far beyond the means of the municipality, the matter was allowed to remain in abeyance. The Municipal Commissioners are more in favour of improving their water-supply than their drains. The overtures made by them to the Railway authorities for a supply of river water to selected tanks in the town by means of pipes to be connected with those which supply the Hooghly railway station have so far resulted in nothing. The Municipality of Serampore, with a view to improve the internal drainage of the town, has appointed a surveyor for the preparation of a complete and accurate map with levels of the internal drains.

As regards the rural areas, the District Board have under consideration a scheme for reclaiming and improving the dry bed of the Kausiki river in the Serampore subdivision.

45 The Municipality of Howrah devoted a fair share of its income to sanitation and conservancy.

46 The subjoined table shows the number of persons vaccinated during the year as compared with that of the preceding two years —

Vaccination

DISTRICT	NUMBER OF PERSONS VACCINATED
	1893-94	1894-95	1895-96
1	2	3	4
Burdwan	32,263	40,275	32,119
Birbhum	15,107	22,892	20,820
Bankura	31,849	27,928	36,263
Midnapore	60,168	64,244	61,421
Hooghly	20,561	28,472	21,341
Howrah	18,064	24,132	20,296
Total	178,012	207,943	192,260

There was a decrease in the number of persons vaccinated during the year as compared with that of 1894-95, but the number is still far in advance of that vaccinated in 1893-94. The decrease is shared by all the districts.

except Bankura, where the number of persons vaccinated exceeds that of the preceding two years

47 The decrease in Burdwan is due to the greater prevalence of fever and influenza among the people and the vaccinating staff, in Hooghly this was due to a falling off in the number of children and illness of a vaccinator. The other Magistrates have not explained the decrease

48 The people are believed to be gradually appreciating the benefit of vaccination, but there is still considerable opposition on religious ground on the part of certain Muhammadans in Burdwan and Hooghly, and some devotees of the goddess Sitala Devi in the latter. Objections were also raised in the district of Midnapore, which is still in a backward condition

Calf vaccination.

49 Calf vaccination was tried near Serampore, and out of 145 operations, 140 were successful. In Midnapore, of 133 calves vaccinated during the year, the operations were successful in 125 cases. From these calves 6,350 persons were vaccinated against 1,890 during the previous year, the total expenditure incurred was Rs 67

V—MATERIAL CONDITION OF THE PEOPLE

50 Though the outturn of the winter crop was poor throughout the Division, yet, thanks to the reserves of grain possessed by the people, their material condition continued to be good during the year. The prices of food grain ruled low, and there was plenty of work available for the labouring classes. From parts of Midnapore and Bankura, which suffered most from the failure of the crops, large numbers of people are reported to have emigrated to Calcutta and elsewhere in quest of work, which they easily obtained at the factories and the railways in process of construction. In fact, in consequence of the daily increasing facilities of communication and transport the position of the agricultural and labouring classes may be regarded as secure

51 Those who have suffered most from the unfavourable agricultural results of the year, are as usual the lower middle classes with small fixed incomes. The difficulties they have to contend with are serious, nor is there any immediate prospect of improvement in their condition. The small plots of land on which they principally depend for support were sufficient for the purpose in bygone days, when rice sold at one maund the rupee and labour could be had for the asking, but the case is different now, as, while the standard of living rises every day and the price of labour increases, they have still appearances to keep up and traditions to maintain. Taught to despise manual labour by custom, and averse to it by habit, with little enterprise and less capital, they are compelled to swell the ranks of "Umedwars" for private and Government service, and it may be truly said of this section of the community that the amelioration in the condition of the labouring classes operates to its detriment. Unless, therefore, there is a radical change in the ideas and customs of those who compose it, the outlook, so far as this section of the population is concerned, is anything but promising

VII—PRICES OF FOOD AND LABOUR

60 The agricultural depression during the year led to a rise in the price of rice in all the districts of the Division, except Midnapore and Howrah, where it remained stationary. The good harvests in the previous years proved beneficial in checking any abnormal rise in prices. The price of common rice ranged from 13 seers in the rupee in Hooghly to 24 seers at Contai. These fluctuations are due chiefly, as explained last year, to the sufficiency or otherwise of means of communication. In the Contai subdivision the closing of the canal shortly after the thrashing of the paddy was over led to a stoppage in the transport of paddy and the consequent fall in the price of rice.

The prices of wheat and gram underwent very slight variations. Salt was sold cheaper than in the preceding year in the districts of Burdwan and Burbhum, the price of the article was almost stationary in Hooghly and Howrah, but in Bankura and Midnapore it was much dearer than it was during the previous year.

There was no appreciable change in the labour market except in Midnapore and Howrah, where there was a slight increase in wages. The increase in the former district is explained by the construction of the railway commenced during the year. No explanation has been given of the increase in Howrah.

XIII—CRIME

99 There was an increase both in cognizable and non cognizable crime. The number of cognizable cases reported during the year was 20,282 against 19,329, and that of non cognizable cases was 20,526 against 17,219. Excluding sanitary cases, which have no bearing upon crime proper, the number of cognizable cases was 12,196 against 11,534.

With regard to cognizable crime, the increase was contributed by all the districts except Hooghly, which shows a decrease. The increase occurred under all classes, especially in Class V (Minor offences against property) and class VI (Other offences). The increase in Burdwan is ascribed by the Police to the bad harvest of the year, but the Magistrate believes that it was chiefly due to inefficient supervision on their part over the movements of bad characters. Better reporting of crime is said to be the cause of the increase in Birbhum and Midnapore. Failure of crops in the different parts of the district of Bankura is reported to have led to the increase in that district. The increase in Howrah is accounted for by the higher prices of food grain consequent on the scanty rainfall. The decrease in Hooghly is due to the ordinary fluctuations in crime.

The increase in non cognizable crime, which is shared by all the districts, occurred chiefly in cases of criminal force and of breach of municipal laws.

100 There was an increase both in the number and percentage of cases declared to be false, but more than 96 per cent of the cases reported were found to be true.

There was a rise in the percentage of false cases in Burdwan, Birbhum and Midnapore, and a fall in Hooghly and Howrah, while in Bankura the percentage of false cases remained stationary. The Magistrates of Burdwan and Birbhum attribute the increase to the various idiosyncracies of the Magistrates who passed the final orders. The Magistrate of Midnapore has offered no explanation of the increase in his district.

101 Out of 702 cases declared false, prosecutions under section 211, P.C., were instituted in 83 or 11 per cent of the cases, against 138 per cent in the previous year. The result of prosecutions in these cases, though comparatively better than those of the previous year (convictions having been obtained in 24 cases or 28.9 per cent, against 27.8 per cent, in 1894), is still far from satisfactory. The difficulty of obtaining conviction was nearly as great, as it always has been. It is always difficult in following the procedure required by the High Court rulings on the subject to bring home to the guilty person the charge of making a false complaint. There appears to be no radical remedy possible in the existing state of the law, and with the material we have in the Police force, the improvement which is being effected in the latter will in due time produce better results in conviction under section 211 as in other respects, but the main requirement is that District Magistrates should continue to give the matter their personal attention or insist on prosecutions being instituted whenever a chance of conviction appears to be reasonably possible.

102 The Police refused enquiry, under section 157, C.P.C., in 1,345 cases, against 1,419 in 1894 and 1,597 in 1893. Except in Birbhum and Hooghly, the number of cases dealt with under this section shows a decrease, but the proportion of refusals appears to be still too high. While it is not desirable to interfere too much with the statutory discretion vested in the Police by section 157, C.P.C., to abstain from enquiries, it should always be remembered that an indiscriminate use of this section is calculated to discourage people from giving intimation of cases which they know will be shelved by the Police. My predecessor, in reviewing the returns of serious crime, took occasion to draw the attention of the Magistrates to this matter, with a view to checking the tendency on the part of the Police to resort to this section too freely

103 Compensation was awarded in 99 cases against 84 in 1894. The Magistrates are still found to be generally disinclined to make a free use of this section, though their attention has been frequently drawn to it as a means of checking the institution of frivolous and vexatious cases. I agree, however, in the following observations made by Mr. Drake Brockman, Magistrate of Birbhum —

‘ At the same time the section cannot be extensively used inasmuch as it can only be applied after a case is heard by the Magistrate and it is usually in the preliminary stages of a case that a vexatious or frivolous charge is thrown out e.g., it is either returned as false by the Police or the petition of complaint is dismissed under section 203, C P C, by a Magistrate and the case never comes to trial.

104 Out of 5,215 A forms sent up, 2,621, or a little more than 50 per cent, were disposed of at the first hearing, and only 407 or 7 per cent of cases had to be remanded four times and more. Hooghly, as in the previous year, attained the best results, as out of 1,636 A forms 1,167 were disposed of at the first hearing. In Burdwan, where 131 out of 894 A forms had to be remanded four times or more, Mr. Windsor attributes the adjournments to the dilatoriness of the Deputy Magistrates at the Sadar station, who, he adds, are apt to remand cases on very inadequate pleas of “want of time,” &c. He reports that he has constantly insisted on the prompt disposal of cases, but that with some Magistrates his remarks had no effect.

105 The result of sessions trials continued to be unfavourable, the percentage of acquittals having steadily increased during the last four years. The figures are especially unfavourable to Burdwan, Birbhum and Bankura, where the percentages of acquittals were 63.7, 60 and 73 respectively. In Bankura, where the percentage was highest, the cases fell through for want of sufficient evidence. In Burdwan, the failure of a culpable homicide case is attributed by the Magistrate (Mr. Windsor) to a tendency on the part of jurors to give the accused the benefit of any possible or probable shadow of doubt. There is nothing new to be said on these points.

106 There was a decrease in the number of these cases. Except in Burdwan and Howrah, the result of prosecutions has been satisfactory.

107 Out of 12,308 applications for the grant or renewal of licenses, 171 only were refused. The number of licenses granted under the Act rose from 11,811 to 12,608 during the year. The increase is shared by all the districts except Birbhum. As reported last year arms are kept for self protection or sport and also as marks of respectability. There were 96 prosecutions under the Act, of which 90 ended in conviction. The accused were all convicted and fined, except one in Burdwan, who was sentenced to one week’s rigorous imprisonment, and one in Hooghly, who has absconded, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued. The fines imposed amounted to Rs. 690, portions of which have been paid away in rewards. The shops licensed under the Act were duly inspected, and the accounts of the vendors were found to be generally correct, except in one instance in Midnapore, in which the dealer was prosecuted and fined.

114 The provisions of Part II of the Village Chaukidari Act were largely introduced into the districts of this Division. No less than 2,386 villages were brought under the operation of the Act during 1895, and the number of chakran chaukidars was reduced from 22,161 in the beginning of the year to 19,867 at its close. The work of resumption and formation of unions is going on satisfactorily in all the districts except Burdwan, where very little was done during the year. I have urgently called the attention of the Magistrate to this matter. He has pleaded the want of establishment as an excuse for the little progress made, and it will be necessary to apply for the services of an additional kanungo. Fair progress was made in the resumption of the ghatwahi lands in Bankura during the year.

115 The chaukidars under Act VI (B C) of 1870 are as a rule low caste men, and the attempt to improve the constitution of the rural police by appointing men of superior castes has not so far been successful, the duties of the post being regarded as degrading. In one village in Birbhum, where some Brahmins were appointed, they have objected to wearing a uniform and beating a drum on the appearance of dacoits. As a means for improving the efficiency of the rural police, the Magistrate of Bankura suggests that the chaukidars should be paid regularly, and this may well be effected if a member of each panchayat be induced to appear at the thana on a fixed day after each quarter and pay the chaukidars in the presence of the Sub Inspector of Police. If the panchayats' accounts are occasionally inspected, and the chaukidars are questioned on parade days as to payment of wages, irregularities in the payment of wages, which has so often been complained of, are likely to be greatly reduced. Reports have been called for from district officers on this point.

118 Out of 31,584 persons tried, 22,271, or a little over 70 per cent., were convicted. The percentage of convictions in cases tried by the Honorary Magistrates was 78 per cent. against 75 in 1894. Taking the figures of each subdivision separately, it will be seen that the percentage of conviction varies from 32.4 to 93.8. The worst results are returned by the Honorary Magistrates in Kalna, Vishnupur, Contai, Tamluk and Jahanabad, the percentage of convictions being less than 50 per cent., while at Burdwan, Raniganj, Ghatal, Serampore, and Howrah the percentage exceeded 70 per cent. In the case of the Stipendiary Magistrates the rates of conviction range from 54.7 to 91.3.

119 In reviewing quarterly statements of criminal business and returns of serious crime, occasion was taken to call the attention of district officers and the trying Magistrates to cases in which the proportion of acquittals appeared to be unduly large, or in which the sentences passed seemed to be inadequate. An instance of this latter nature occurred in Howrah. A woman who had deserted her husband seven months before was met by him in the street and desired to accompany him home. On her refusing to do so he knocked her down, beat her, and bit off her nose. He was tried before one of the Stipendiary Magistrates and sentenced, under section 335, I P C., to one month's rigorous imprisonment. The matter being brought to the notice of my predecessor by the District Magistrate, the Legal Remembrancer was asked to move the High Court for an enhancement of the punishment, which was accordingly raised to two years' rigorous imprisonment.

120 In all 61,945 witnesses were examined, of whom 2,708, or some what over 3 per cent., were detained over two days. The ratio per cent. of witnesses detained over two days is 4.4 in the case of the Honorary Magistrates, and 3.8 in that of the Stipendiary Magistrates, against almost a similar percentage in 1894. The ratio is very unfavourable to the Subdivisional Officers of Kalna and Rampur Hât, and to the Honorary Magistrates of the Burdwan, the Katwa, the Bankura, and the Ulubaria Benches. No reason has been assigned for the high percentage of detention in Kalna, in Rampur Hât it is due to the Subdivisional Magistrate having had a heavy file and being without a Sub Deputy Collector for some months. The long detention of witnesses by the Bankura Bench is reported to be partly due to the non attendance of particular Honorary Magistrates who had commenced the trials. No explanation has been offered in the remaining cases, but most probably the non attendance of Honorary Magistrates led to the result.

121 The two Benches at Serampore were amalgamated, and the establishment of a new Bench at Amta in the district of Howrah was sanctioned during the year.

Benches

122 The subjoined table shows the attendance of Honorary Magistrates in the districts of this Division during the year —

District	Number of times the Honorary Magistrates were asked to attend	Number of times they actually attended	NUMBER OF TIMES THEY WERE ABSENT			Percentage of times attended since 1890	REMARKS

123 With a few exceptions, the Honorary Magistrates in this Division continue to render good service. Some of them deserve commendation for their attention to their duties, and I have asked the Magistrates to communicate to them an expression of my appreciation of the help rendered by them to the Stipendiary Magistrates in the disposal of cases.

Some of the Honorary Magistrates, however, have been very irregular in attendance, notwithstanding repeated references from the Magistrates.

The system of having a permanent roster, showing the particular days on which each Honorary Magistrate has to attend, has been introduced. It is hoped that this will have the effect of improving generally the attendance of Honorary Magistrates.

124 Fines amounting to Rs 1,08,276 were imposed during the year, against Rs 93,271 in 1894. The total realizable demand, including the balance outstanding at the commencement of the year, was Rs 1,38,124, of which sum Rs 96,003 were realized, Rs 16,931 remitted or written off, leaving an outstanding balance of Rs 25,190 at the close of the year. In granting remissions, careful enquiries are said to have been always made to ascertain whether the defaulters had any property, by the sale of which the fines could be recovered. In Midnapore and Hoochly a large portion of the excise fines was found to be irrecoverable, the defaulters being men of no substance. The Magistrate of Midnapore has drawn the attention of the trying Magistrates to the necessity of taking into consideration the circumstances of the accused when imposing fines, a rule which is too often disregarded in the trial of excise cases.

XVII—CONDITION OF THE DIVISION AS REGARDS LAND AND LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION

129 There was an important change in the system of administering the land revenue in the Division during the year, viz, that the accounts of the Zamindari Dak cess were amalgamated with the Tauzi accounts in all the districts of the Division, and the Road and Public Works cesses in the districts of Birbhum and Bankura.

130 The total number of estates exceeded that of the previous year by 48, the increase is chiefly due to the resumption and settlement of pharidari lands. The total demand in respect of the several districts of the Division was Rs 86,09,086, of which Rs 82,47,986 were collected and Rs 16,778 remitted, leaving a balance of Rs 3,43,633. The percentage of the total collections on the total demand was practically the same as that of 1894-95, being 95.8 against 95.5. As in the previous year, the percentage of collections in Burdwan, Birbhum and Bankura was over 99. In Hooghly it rose from 96.8 to 97.3, while in Midnapore it was only 89.2. The falling off in Hooghly is nominal, being due to a sum of Rs 19,708 having been received by transfer receipt too late to be credited within the year. The decrease in Midnapore was chiefly under class III (Estates under direct management). With regard to the estates of this class, the Collector (Mr. Bright) states as follows —

“The percentage of collections in class III has risen from 48.3 to 51.4. Throughout the year I impressed upon the Khas Mahal Departments the necessity of pushing on collections and I carefully watched the progress they made. There is no doubt that we are as yet far from the prescribed minimum standard, but with an estate like Majumutha, which bears an annual demand of rupees two lakhs and twenty three thousand, and which in years of ordinary rainfall is liable to inundation, it is hopeless to attain anything like 90 per cent.

131 The number of estates and shares of estates which became liable to sale in this Division during the year for non payment of Government dues was 2,347, of which 207 estates or 8.8 per cent were actually sold, against 123 or 8.8 per cent in the previous year. These figures show that the Sale Law was administered in the Division with great, if not with excessive, moderation.

132 The cess demand during the year was Rs 11,18,608 against Rs 10,97,705 in 1894-95, showing an increase of Rs 20,903. The increase occurred in all the districts except Midnapore and Hooghly. The increase in Burdwan and Bankura is due to revaluations, and that in Birbhum to the valuation of rent free tenures under section 68 of the Act. The decrease in Midnapore is the result of abatements sanctioned. Regarding Hooghly, the Collector says that the figures given in the previous year's report were wrong, and that the actual demand was found to be Rs 2,24,324 on the correction of the mistakes and the disposal of objections, as anticipated in paragraph 129 of the previous year's report.

137 During the year Act VII (B.C.) of 1880 was repealed by Act I (B.C.) of 1895. The new Act introduced some important changes, viz, (1) the realisation of interest after the date of the filing of the certificate, and (2) the right of redemption of the property sold under a certificate.

138 The number of certificates pending from the previous year was 12,913, the number filed during the year was 16,866 against 28,761 filed in the preceding year, showing a decrease of 11,895 or 41.3 per cent. The decrease occurred in all classes of demands and in all the districts of the Division. The falling off was principally under the head of demands under the Cess Act IX (B.C.) of 1880, the institutions being 9,612 against 17,178. This abnormal decrease is attributed partly to the amalgamation of petty rent free holdings with their parent estates, and partly to the inability of the Road Cess office to issue requisitions owing to press of work thrown upon it by the introduction of the new Tauzi Manual. The disposals were in advance of the institutions in all the districts except Midnapore, where there was a slight decrease in the number of disposals. The result was a considerable decrease in the arrears as compared with those of the previous year, viz, 15,841 against 22,913. It is satisfactory to notice that out of 25,246 cases disposed of, recourse was had to the extreme measure of sale in 465 cases only, which is equivalent to a percentage of 1.8, in nearly 24 per cent of cases the demands were satisfied on the mere issue of notices. The number of cases in which warrants were issued, and the amounts paid without recourse to imprisonment, rose from 111 to 575. This remarkable increase was confined to Bankura, viz, 560 against 4 in the preceding year. This was due to the issue of warrants of arrest in a large number of old cases. It is satisfactory to observe, however, that only one man was imprisoned for default of payment.

139 As reported last year, operations under the Partition Act are practically unknown in this Division. In Burdwan two applications were received during the year, but they were rejected. Of the three cases pending in that district from the previous year, measurements in two have been completed, and in one notice under section 51 of the Partition Act has been served. The case pending in Hooghly from 1892-93 was struck off, as the parties refused to proceed with the case. It has been revived at the instance of one of them, and the proceedings will shortly be brought to a close.

140 The number of applications during the year was 3,669 against 3,135 in 1894-95. The increase occurred in the districts of Burdwan, Bankura and Midnapore. The increase is principally the result of more energetic steps taken by the District Officers to secure registration. Information of transfers of estates continued to be supplied by Sub Registrars, Cess Deputy Collectors and Civil Courts, and this was of great assistance in tracing out the persons who omitted or neglected to register their names. The Collector of Midnapore suggests that a general order on all panchayats to send information of all changes of proprietorship within their respective jurisdictions is likely to prove very useful. The suggestion would have been of more practical value had the panchayats been under any legal obligation to furnish the information. The fees realised in the Division under section 64 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1876 amounted to Rs 1,240.

141 There was no expenditure under the head of Land Registration in any of the districts of this Division, except in Burdwan, where a temporary establishment was entertained at a cost of Rs 648 for the purpose of revising and completing Registers A, B and C.

144 No work of importance was constructed in any of the districts of this Division during the year 1895-96. In Burdwan a scheme for excavating a channel and constructing an embankment for the protection of certain villages on the right side of the river Damodar has been submitted by the Executive Engineer, Northern Drainage and Embankment Division, for the orders of Government. In Birbhum, out of the total cost of Rs 1,777 advanced for the repair of a D schedule embankment on the river Kulua near Muhammad Bazar, the instalments recoverable during the year were realised, viz, Rs 56 principal and Rs 85 interest. The outstanding balance at the close of the year was Rs 1,649. In Midnapore there are altogether 22 embankments, of which 18 are dealt with under the contract system and 4 under the Embankment Act. With regard to the former, the original contract with the proprietors for 20 years expired on the 31st March 1894, and an extension of the system for a further period of seven years was sanctioned by Government at the old jama of Rs 5,225. Final orders as to the amount due under the new contract were not, however, published until 28th October 1895, and as a large number of notices had to be prepared and issued, which could not be completed before the end of the year, there was no current demand under the contract system during the year. Advance payments amounting to Rs 50,546 were, however, made by proprietors during the two years following 31st March 1894. This amount represents about 46 per cent of the total demand, there is no arrear demand under the expired contract, except Rs 362 8 3, which are due from an estate under the Court of Wards. In Hooghly Rs 24,867 were expended on old and Rs 1,824 on new works. Of the demand on account of old works Rs 12,331 were due from the Burdwan Raj estate and will be adjusted under the agreement with the proprietor of the estate. Out of the balance of Rs 12,536, which is due from the proprietors whose lands have been benefited by the embankments, Rs 5,949 principal and Rs 43 interest were realised up to the end of the year. Another sum of Rs 1,957 due from Raja Peary Mohun Mukerjee, c.s.r., will be realised by transfer from the amount held in deposit for the construction of the Kumrul sluice. With regard to the sum due on account of new works, the usual notices have been issued on the proprietors.

145 There are four drainage schemes in this Division, all in the district of Hooghly, viz, those of Dankuni Howrah, Rajapur and Amta. The first three have been completed, and the last is still under the consideration of the Public Works Department.

146 The whole of the amount realisable on account of the original cost has been collected, except Rs 1,731, which were realised from Maharaja Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore, K C S I, in excess of what was due from him, and which had therefore to be refunded under the orders of the civil court. Measures are being taken to realize the amount from the Receiver of the High Court under the Public Demands Recovery Act. The capitalized maintenance charges of this project were Rs 65,344, of which Rs 276 were remitted, leaving a balance of Rs 65,068, of this sum Rs 64,603 were realised up to March 1896. Out of the balance of Rs 465, Rs 312 will have to be ultimately remitted as due from Government.

147 The net recoverable demand for both the original cost and capitalized maintenance charges was Rs 5,24,924, of which Rs 1,09,773 were collected as principal and Rs 1,286 as interest up to March 1896, leaving a balance of Rs 4,15,151 realisable in 13 years from 1st April 1893. The number of engagements executed up to the above period is 279, covering Rs 3,56,412.

148 The survey operations in this scheme were reported to have been completed during the preceding year. During the year under review the apportionment of the original cost and maintenance charges was made and published under section 34 of the Drainage Act. The total original cost, together with simple interest up to March 1895, is reported to be Rs 12,44,488. The original cost will therefore be 4.76 years' purchase of the annual increased value of Rs 2,61,322 fixed by the Drainage Commissioners. The total cost including the capitalization of the maintenance charges will be a little more than 5 years' purchase.

149 A sum of Rs 28,000 was originally allotted to this Division by the Board in April 1895, and distributed among the districts of this Division according to their requirements. Subsequently, on the application of the District Officers, a further sum of Rs 15,000 was allotted, viz, Rs 10,000 to Midnapore and Rs 3,000 to Bankura for advances under the Agriculturists Loans Act, and Rs 2,000 to Hooghly for advances under the Land Improvements Loans Act. The total amount sanctioned during the year was therefore Rs 43,000. Out of this large sum only Rs 12,490 were advanced, viz, Rs 10,750 under the Land Improvements Act and Rs 1,740 under the Agriculturists Loans Act in Burdwan and Bankura. In Birbhum no advance was made out of the allotment of Rs 4,000 granted to that district. The Collector explains that he personally took every opportunity to induce zamindars' agents to take loans for the improvement of tanks in their villages, but without success. Wide publicity was given to the intention of Government to grant loans freely on good security, and accordingly a large number of applications poured in towards the close of the year, but most of them remained undisposed of pending inquiry into the validity of security offered.

150 In Midnapore, to which district the largest amount, viz, Rs 18,000, was assigned, only Rs 200 were advanced in a single case. The Collector ascribes his inability to make more advances to two reasons—(1) the inadequacy of the kanungo staff employed in making enquiries into the sufficiency of the security offered, and (2) the instructions issued by Mr Boudillon to the effect that these loans should be delayed until the local resources were exhausted.

151 The amount realizable during the year was Rs 35,140 of which Rs 22,774 were collected and Rs 594 remitted, leaving a balance of Rs 11,772. The balance was largest in Bankura, viz, Rs 10,994. In Burdwan, Midnapore and Hooghly the balances at the close of the year were Rs 596, 112 and 7 respectively. The whole of the outstanding balance is in course of realisation under the Public Demands Recovery Act.

102 The Act appears to have worked smoothly in all the districts of this Division. The agitation prevailing among the raiyats of Midnapore about the institution of suits for commutation of rents in kind into money rents has subsided to a considerable extent. The Collector, Mr. Bright, observes that the Act has placed in the hands of the raiyats in the district powers which they, and especially those in the Contai subdivision, are beginning to recognize most fully.

153 The operations under the Act related chiefly to (1) the service of notices under sections 12 to 15 and 87, (2) to commutation of rents payable in kind into money rents under section 40, and (3) to the registration of improvements under section 80.

154 The number of applications for the commutation of rents in kind into rents in cash fell from 200 in 1894-95 to 17 in the year under report. The raiyats at first took it into their heads to file a few applications from each of several villages in the vicinity of the district head quarters to serve as test cases, but the result was not as favourable to them as they hoped. The raiyats expected that the rates of their commuted rent would be fixed on the basis of the adjacent cash rents, but they have been to a great extent disappointed to find that the court in determining rates of money rent acted under clause 4 (b), section 40 by giving due weight to the average value of the rent actually received by the landlord during the 10 years preceding the year in which the application for commutation was filed. Speaking of the effect of these cases on the value of landed property in the district, Mr. Bright observes —

“ One of the effects of these rent commutation cases has been a novel and an unexpected one. In October last when I sat to hold patni sales under Regulation VIII of 1819 I could not get adequate bids for certain patni taluks which were believed to be profitable properties. I inquired of the persons assembled in my court on the occasion why adequate bids were not being offered, and they stated that the recent rent commutation cases which had converted rents in kind into cash rents had been so disadvantageous to the patnidars, whose jama had been fixed in the belief that they would continue to receive rents in kind that there was no demand for patni taluks and that no one would bid for them. This is a most unexpected outcome of section 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

XXVI—EDUCATION

190 There were in all 11,016 schools with 303,330 pupils on the rolls at the close of the year against 11,268 schools and 311,133 pupils at the close of the preceding year. This decrease of 252 schools and 7,803 pupils is shared by institutions of all classes. In Burdwan and Hooghly there was a diminution in the number both of institutions and pupils. Birbhum with a slight increase in the number of its schools shows a considerable falling off in the number of pupils. In the other districts there was an increase in the number both of schools and pupils.

196 The total expenditure on education in this Division rose from Rs. 11,71,531 to Rs. 11,76,833. The expenditure from Provincial revenues fell from Rs. 81,691 to Rs. 78,587, and that from District Board Funds from Rs. 1,63,209 to Rs. 1,61,644. But there was an increase in the expenditure from other sources, including municipal funds.

197 Besides the two colleges at Hooghly and Midnapore which are maintained by Government and local bodies, there are two colleges—one at Uttarpara in the district of Hooghly, and another at Burdwan. Both these institutions are supported and managed by private individuals. No information as regards the Uttarpara College is available. The Burdwan Raj College free institution maintained by the Burdwan Raj, now under the Court of Wards, is in a very flourishing condition. It sent up 98 candidates for the last First Arts examination, of whom 42 were successful, 2 passing in the first, 8 in the second, and the rest in the third division, 3 of these won scholarships. The result is very creditable to the college staff, and especially to the Principal, Babu Uma Charan Banerji. I presided at the institution on the occasion of the last prize distribution in May 1896, and was much pleased with the accounts furnished to me of the good behaviour and discipline of the boys. I made a suggestion to the young Maharaj Kumar and the Manager of the Burdwan Raj that a boarding house attached to the college, capable of holding 200 boys, is an improvement much to be desired.

198 There were at the close of the year 87 high schools with an attendance of 13,783, against 83 high schools with 14,005 pupils at the close of 1894-95. Burdwan and Howrah each gained one and Hooghly two schools. The number of schools in the other districts remained the same as in the previous year. There was a falling off in the number of pupils in all the districts except Birbhum, which shows an increase.

The following is a comparative table of the results of the University Entrance examinations in the districts of this Division during the last two years —

DISTRICT	1894-95		1895-96
	Number of competitors	Number of successful students	Number of competitors	Number of successful students
1	2	3	4	5
Burdwan	163	78	153	87
Birbhum	48	39	46	35
Bankura	67	34	56	41
Midnapore	120	32	111	65
Hooghly	214	114	193	113
Howrah	128	46	117	47
Total	730	343	675	388

The result was much better than in the preceding year, 57 per cent of the competitors having passed against 46 per cent. One of the unaided schools known as the Town School at Midnapore is entitled to special praise, having passed all the 15 boys it sent up at the last Entrance Examination.

199 There were in all 407 Middle English and Middle Vernacular schools against 410 in the preceding year. Loss of 3 schools was attended by a loss of 742 pupils. All the districts, except Howrah, shared in the decrease in the number of pupils. There was, however, an increase in expenditure from fees and other sources in schools of this class. The subjoined table shows the result of the Middle Scholarship Examination during the past two years —

Districts	1894 95		1895 96
	Competed	Passed	Competed	Passed
1	2	3	4	5
Burdwan	372	166	361	206
Birbhum	131	80	169	73
Bankura	185	94	180	113
Midnapore	335	185	377	150
Hooghly	242	152	219	97
Howrah	109	67	110	56
Total	1 374	744	1 416	695

The result of the examination was unsatisfactory, the proportion of successful candidates to their total number being small 200 There were 10,512 Upper and Lower Primary schools with 263 935 pupils, against 10,624 schools with 267,977 pupils in 1894 95. The districts most seriously affected are Burdwan and Hooghly, in the former, a reduction of 66 schools was attended by a loss of 2,739 pupils, and in the latter, there was a decrease of 176 schools and 4,982 pupils. There was a falling off in the number of pupils in Birbhum. All the other districts show an increase. Under this head the large decrease in Burdwan has not been explained. It may be due to the prevalence of malarial fever. That in Hooghly is ascribed to the transfer of an outpost from Hooghly to Howrah. Malarial fever and the failure of crops led to the diminution in Birbhum.

201 The total expenditure on primary education fell from Rs 6,08,563 to Rs 5,97,876. The decrease occurred in the grants from all sources except municipal funds, under which head there was an increase in all the districts except Burdwan. The District Boards of Midnapore and Hooghly spent much larger sums in the promotion of primary education, but the District Boards of Burdwan and Bankura curtailed their grants during the year. No reason has been assigned for these variations in the expenditure.

Districts	Upper Primary				Lower Primary
	1894 95		1895 96		1894 95		1895 96
	Number competed	Number passed	Number competed	Number passed	Number competed	Number passed	Number competed	Number passed
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Burdwan	356	161	338	132	1 088	562	1 474	785
Birbhum	144	52	121	73	686	299	611	248
Bankura	274	104	258	98	1 770	757	1 467	865
Midnapore	484	169	557	301	3 735	1 985	3 987	1 519
Hooghly	166	85	193	76	1 381	703	1 232	466
Howrah	108	57	142	99	735	316	765	343
Total	1 532	652	1 609	779	9 395	4 622	9 636	4 216

It will be seen from the above figures that while the proportion of candidates who passed the Upper Primary Scholarship Examination was higher than it was during the preceding year, the result of the Lower Primary Scholarship Examination was worse, the percentage of successful candidates being 44·2 against 49·1 in the preceding year.

203 There were altogether 18,532 girls in receipt of education in girls' schools and schools attended by boys. Excluding Hooghly, for which no figures have been furnished, the number of girls' schools was 316. Bankura and Midnapore has returned the largest number of girls receiving education. The Hitakari Sava at Uttarpura is doing its best to further the cause of female education. Leaving out of account Howrah, for which no information is available, 248 girls from the districts of this Division appeared at the Uttarpura Hitakari Sava examination, of which 205 passed, some of them obtaining scholarships. The Magistrate of Hooghly reports that the missionary societies are doing much in the way of promoting female education.

204 There was a considerable diminution in the number of Muhammadan pupils attending schools during the year. The loss was shared by the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum and Hooghly, while the other districts show an increase. The subjoined table shows the number of Muhammadan pupils attending schools in the different districts in this Division —

1	2		3		4		5
DISTRICT	POPULATION		TOTAL NUMBER OF PUPILS ATTENDING SCHOOLS		NUMBER OF MUHAMMADAN PUPILS ATTENDING SCHOOLS		PERCENTAGE OF MUHAMMADAN PUPILS TO TOTAL NUMBER OF PUPILS
	Total	Muhammadans	1894-95	1895-96	1894-95	1895-96	1894-95	1895
	(a)	(b)	(c)	(d)	(e)	(f)	(g)	(h)
Burdwan	1 391 880	267 294	46 070	43 759	6 739	6 056	14·4	13·8
Birbhum	797 833	163 752	25 264	24 134	5 101	4 109	20·1	19
Bankura	1 069 668	45 912	98 483	98 399	14 2	1 428	3·6	3·6
Midnapore	2 631 516	171 412	118 319	119 182	1 397	6 100	5·4	5·5
Hooghly	1 034 298	189 169	41 717	44 087	7 05	6 220	14·1	14·7
Howrah	763 626	1 6 022	32 600	32 765	3 081	3 608	9·4	11·01
Total	7 688 818	999 191	311 199	303 330	28 794	28 821	9·7	9·6

There was a slight variation in the percentage of Muhammadan pupils to the total number of pupils attending schools in this Division. Considering that the Muhammadans form 12·9 per cent of the entire population, the proportion of Muhammadan pupils can hardly be regarded as low, but it should be remembered that most of them are receiving primary education. Excluding Hooghly and Howrah, for which figures are not available, the number of Muhammadan pupils who were successful at the different examinations was —

F A	1	against	2	in 1894-95
Entrance	4	,	3	,
Middle English and Vernacular Scholarship	17	,	9	,
Primary Scholarship	287	,	251	,

Not a single candidate appeared at the Entrance or Middle Scholarship Examinations from Bankura. The largest proportion of successful Muhammadan candidates come from Burdwan.

205 There were, as in the previous year, 8 schools for the education of the miners' children in the Raniganj and Barakar coal tracts, attended by 177 pupils, of whom 71 were aborigines, 97 low caste Hindus and 9 Muhammadans. The pupils receive free tuition at these institutions, each guru receiving a monthly stipend of Rs 8 from Government. Four of these gurus have advanced so far as to teach up to the standards prescribed for the Lower Primary Examination. Three of these sent up 4 candidates to the Lower Primary

Scholarship, but all were unsuccessful. These patsbalas are reported to be accommodated in miserable thatched huts, not suitable for the purpose, the Managers of the Coal Companies taking very little interest in the welfare of these institutions.

In Birbhum there were 13 schools for the education of Sonthals, attended by 258 pupils. All these institutions are maintained by the District Board, which contributes a monthly stipend of Rs 5 to each. Two boys passed the Lower Primary Scholarship Examination, one of whom was awarded a scholarship. Seventeen Sonthal lads passed at the Reward Examination.

In Bankura the number of pupils of the Sonthal and other aboriginal races increased from 1,227 to 1,570. The proportion of Sonthal boys actually at schools to the total number of scholars in the district rose from 31 to 39, and their proportion to the total number of Sonthal boys of school-going age was 16·7 against 13·1 per cent in the previous year. The results of the several examinations, so far as pupils of this race are concerned, were not so satisfactory as in the previous year, except as regards the Upper Primary Scholarship Examination, at which 4 out of 9 candidates were successful. At the Lower Primary examination, out of 45 candidates 12 only passed against 17 in the previous year. At the Reward Examination 142 competed, of whom 120 passed against 138 in 1894-95.

In Midnapore 1,882 pupils belonging to the aboriginal tribes were under instruction. None of these passed the Middle Vernacular Scholarship Examination during the year, while in 1894-95 three candidates were successful. Two passed the Upper Primary and 24 the Lower Primary Scholarship Examinations during the year. For the encouragement of primary education, one of the lower primary scholarships is awarded annually to the best among the successful students belonging to these races.

206 The Technical School at Burdwan, which was started in 1893, was affiliated during the year to the Sibpur Engineering College. The attendance is gradually declining, and the year closed with only 13 students on the roll. The total cost of maintenance amounted to Rs 2,052, of which Rs 1,812 were contributed by the District Board and Rs 240 by the Municipality. The condition of this institution is by no means hopeful, and bespeaks a want of application by the local people of the importance of the institution.

In Midnapore the Bhimpur Sonthal Normal School, which is under the management of the American missionaries, is doing much useful work by training up teachers for the education of Sonthals and other aboriginal races. The Maisadal Raja's Technical School at Midnapore, now under the management of the District Board, improved considerably during the year. Effect has been given to the recommendations made by the Director of Public Instruction during his last visit to the school. Classes have been organized for teaching theoretical subjects, and it is under contemplation to replace the present staff of artisan instructors by better men.

207 There were 40 private schools in Burdwan attended by 370 pupils. Some of these are Koran schools and Muktabas, teaching a little of Arabic and Persian. All of these do not conform to the departmental standard. The number of private schools was reduced from 66 to 49, the decrease being due to the fact that some of them were not returned during the year. There was, owing to the same cause, a loss in Midnapore of 21 schools and 117 pupils. The sum of Rs 2,014 was paid in rewards by Government to the pandits of Sanskrit tols in that district, in consideration of the good results of an examination held during the year.

XXX.—LOCAL SELF GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS

216 Mr J Windsor, the late Magistrate of Burdwan, while acknowledging freely the assistance rendered to him by the District Board, and the good practical work done by the several Committees, notices that the Board have not done all that could be done for the effective administration of education. The Magistrate of Howrah, Mr H F T Maguire, who joined the district when the year under report was about to close, has expressed no opinion about the working of local bodies. The other District Officers speak well of the work done by the District Board in their respective districts.

217 Mr Windsor has remarked that he cannot say much in favour of Local Boards. They have not sufficient work to interest the members, and they often fail in the work assigned to them. Collections of pound and fair rents were fairly good except in Kalna. Katwa alone administered the village road grant with discretion, and there is room for much improvement in the work of the Local Boards generally in respect of primary education. As noticed in paragraph 209 of the last report, Burdwan is the only district in this Division in which the management of secondary education has been made over to the Local Boards. The arrangement, as might be expected, has not worked well, and the District Board has resolved to withdraw the power in question from the beginning of the current year.

The Magistrate of Bankura, Mr N. Bonham Carter, reports that the Local Boards proved useful so far as primary education is concerned, but their management of village roads, pounds and fairs cannot be said to have been successful.

The Magistrate of Midnapore, Mr W. R. Bright, makes the following remarks —

“I am afraid that Local Boards are not very useful institutions. Their management of pounds has been open to much criticism, and the state of the village roads also leads to very unfavourable comments. It is difficult to see how it could well be otherwise, for they have large jurisdictions and no establishment. I think they are as institutions a mistake. They are expected to make a good number of bricks practically without straw. Theoretically, they should be useful as assisting the District Board with local information on local needs, but I have been much struck with their complete uselessness in this line during the water scarcity which is just past.

The Local Boards in the districts of Birbhum and Hooghly are reported by the Magistrates concerned to have worked well.

218 Twenty-one Union Committees, namely six in Burdwan, six in Midnapore, four in Howrah and five in Hooghly, were started in this Division during the year as an experimental measure. They have generally been entrusted with village roads, sanitation and water supply, and also with the duty of inspecting primary schools. Funds were not allotted to the Unions in the Burdwan district, but those in the other districts commenced work during the year. It is still premature to pronounce an opinion about the success of these institutions. Mr Bright visited all the Unions but one, and was struck with the interest shown by the leading members. Several of these Unions have already excavated tanks and thus improved the supply of drinking water.

219 Howrah is by far the most important municipality in this Division. The water works constructed during the year have removed the principal want of the town. The calls on this municipality are many and varied, especially in matters of sanitation, and the loan of Rs. 15,00,000 contracted for water works has thrown an additional burden for the half-yearly repayment of the instalments on account of this loan. The Municipal Commissioners appear to be alive to the responsibilities of the position.

Burdwan stands next in importance to Howrah. The accounts of this municipality were in a most unsatisfactory condition, and a special auditor was appointed by Government for their due adjustment, the Municipal Commissioners having failed to set them in proper order within the time allowed. My predecessor discovered that the municipality had spent for other purposes Rs. 23,000 (corrected by Accountant General, Bengal, to Rs. 23,000), which should have been set aside as a sinking fund for the repayment of the three loans contracted for the execution and extension of water works. In the opinion of Mr Windsor the executive are not strong, and some of the Municipal Commissioners are more of a hindrance than a help in deliberations. Rangpur suffered somewhat from the transfer of the Subdivisional Officers, Mr J. I. Webster and Mr F. E. Jackson, who were also Chairmen of this municipality, and the work was almost at a stand still during the interregnum between the resignation of one Chairman and the appointment of his successor. Kalna with a non official Chairman, continued to be well managed, and Damhat did tolerably well under the guidance of the Subdivisional Officer of Katwa as Chairman. On the other hand, the municipal administration of Katwa has been stagnating for want of energy on the part of the Municipal Commissioners, including the Chairman and the Vice Chairman.

The Suri Municipality was on the whole well managed, some of the Municipal Commissioners taking an interest in its affairs. The affairs of Bankura are managed with success by its zealous Chairman and Vice Chairman. Vishnupur has a capable and energetic Chairman in Bibu Umesh Chandra Chaudhuri, but unfortunately some of the Municipal Commissioners allow themselves to be swayed by party feeling. Sonmukhi with its official Chairman was fairly well managed. The weak points in the administration of the Midnapore Municipality are its system of farming out cart registration fees which has recently been prohibited by Government and its system of giving out contracts. Mr. Bright is of opinion that the tax of managing it must be a considerable tax on the time of the non official Chairman and Vice Chairman. Ghatal and Tamluk were fairly well administered but party spirit is said to have done much to interfere with the usefulness of the other municipalities in the district of Midnapore. The late Magistrate of Hooghly, Mr. Gerke has left the following remarks —

‘Municipal affairs occupy an undue share of the district officers time. In at least two of the eight municipalities obstructive tactics are pursued to such a degree as to seriously interfere with efficient control.’

XXXI—EMPLOYMENT OF MUHAMMADANS

220 There was during the year a slight increase in the number of Muhammadans employed in the several offices and courts in this Division. They received a fair share of appointments, and their claims are generally duly considered when vacancies occur.

Though they have made some progress in primary education yet in high education they are still much behind their Hindu fellow subjects. The Magistrates of Birbhum and Bankura report that suitable Muhammadans are not always available in those districts for appointments in the superior service of Government. Mr. Gerke, the late Collector of Hooghly, thus writes —

“Few survivors remain of the old families. Such as still exist are in penury and ignorance retaining only an obstinate pride, a gott of reminiscences of bygone grandeur disdain an under paid ministerial post and eke out a miserable existence on the scanty remains of ancestral aymas. Nothing would suit them but the easy well amplified remuneration of a Sub Registrar—a post for which from lack of education they are totally unfitted.”

To remedy this defect, Mr. Gerke transferred two model schools at the disposal of the District Board from places where they were not appreciated to two purely Muhammadan centres.

XXXVI—GENERAL REMARKS

248 Having taken charge of the Division towards the very end of the year, my remarks upon this head must necessarily be brief and perfunctory with regard to 1895-96. As observed elsewhere, it was a year of short crops and scanty rainfall. The people suffered severely in health. Fever prevailed with unusual violence, and there were outbreaks of small pox in many parts of the Division. In consequence of the insufficiency of the rains, difficulty was experienced in regard to the water supply at the end of the year in many places, but the inconvenience was unnecessarily aggravated with a view to elicit aid from the public funds, and to increase the responsibilities of Government. As is usual when the tanks run low, mortality from cholera increased in certain localities. Among the other special features of the year may be enumerated an increase in crime, a rise in the number of emigrants to the labour districts, a falling off in the attendance of schools, and a decrease in the number of deeds registered and in the receipts from stamps. It is remarkable, however, that the excise revenue instead of being in any way affected shows a considerable advance. Good progress was made during the year in the resumption and settlement of chaukidari chakran lands, except in the Burdwan district. The local bodies appear generally to have worked well. The question of improving the Local Boards, so as to make them more useful than they have hitherto become, may well engage the serious attention of Magistrates and District Boards, but until they have larger sums of money to spend, the Committees cannot be expected to take a lively interest in their work.

The completion of the water works in the town of Howrah has removed a long felt want. A scheme had nearly been sanctioned when I left Howrah in 1883, and it has not been creditable to the Administration that the matter has so long been left in abeyance. A system of water works, in the construction of which all the riparian municipalities in Hooghly should co-operate, is under contemplation. The sooner the project is carried out the better. It is satisfactory to note that increased attention was paid to sanitation and water-supply during the year by local bodies. Village sanitation, which is at present very much neglected, remains as much a counsel of perfection without any practical results as ever. I have made enquiries and have every reason to suppose that any proposal to make further taxation for village sanitation and water supply possible will be most unpopular and meet with strenuous opposition.

General Summary—Rainfall during the week was generally light. In Bihar there was no rain at all. The heavy rain of the previous week improved the winter rice crop generally, but more rain is still required in parts of the Patna Division also in Babna, Khulna and Chittagong. The harvesting of early rice and other bhadai crops is nearly over. Jute is still being steeped and washed. The preparation of lands for the rabi crops has begun in some districts. Sugarcane is generally reported to be a good crop. There is no cattle disease except in Midnapore and Bhagalpur. In Purnea many cattle are said to have died from exposure to the recent heavy rain. There was no important change in the price of common rice which continues very high.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

REVENUE DEPARTMENT,

The 29th September, 1896

M. FINUCANE,

Offg Secy to the Govt of Bengal
